DOUBLE THE THREE.

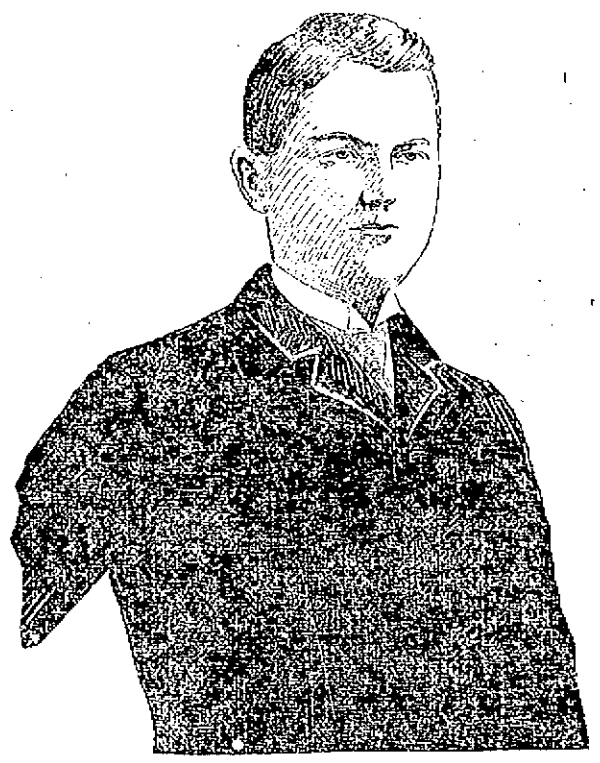

There are three afternoon papers besides the Sun in Lowell. Take the combined circulation of these three papers, then double it and The Sun would still lead the lot in circulation. It is Lowell's greatest newspaper.

THE LOWELL SUN

CANNOT DO IT.

No man or newspaper can serve two masters. A paper that is controlled by stockholders, banks, syndicates or other corporate interests must stand by these interests first and the people last. The Sun being owned by one man is free to stand by the people against their enemies at all times. It is the people's paper.

JAMES McCASHIN, Who is Gradually Being Ossified.

AN OSSIFIED MAN

WHICH HAS PUZZLED MEDICAL SCIENCE

Cannot Control Muscles or Nerves

KEPT ALIVE ON LIQUID FOOD

Has Endured Six Years' Constant Pain

Lying as mutely most of the time as a carved image, hearing through the open window the noisy exuberance of the youth of the North Common, but unable even to gaze upon the happy children there at play, Mr. James McCashin of 4 Willie avenue personifies patience as he helplessly waits nature's release from one of the strangest, yes, and saddest fates that could blight a strong, healthy and industrious citizen such as he was when last he walked the streets of Lowell.

To describe Mr. McCashin as a paralytic does not begin to express his strange condition. He is more than that. He is in an unaccountable stage of paralysis known as ossification; in other words this patient sufferer is an ossified man.

Mr. McCashin six years ago was a cuff knitter in the Lawrence hosiery. He stood nearly six feet tall, weighed about 185 pounds and was the picture of health as his portrait presented in this issue and made from a photo taken while he was in good health will indicate. Today he is little more than a living skeleton, his body from the head down apparently devoid of life.

His case has been considered by nearly all of Lowell's leading physicians and many outside specialists, and no one of these has possessed the knowledge of a remedy for his sad plight. And yet Mr. McCashin is far more patient than many who are kindly endowed by nature and though a constant sufferer for six long years no word of complaint has ever escaped his lips.

A Sun reporter having heard of this strange case visited Mr. McCashin at his home in Willie avenue and found the sufferer in a cosy and well furnished room overlooking the North common. Though unable to turn his head to the slightest angle, Mr. McCashin bade the reporter welcome indicating a chair by a motion of his clear blue eyes which even the ravages of six years have not dimmed. A brief conversation ensued, the invalid talking with difficulty, owing to the fact that his jaws no longer perform their functions, but are immovable and closed tightly together.

Mr. McCashin, the writer learned in the course of his conversation is 41 years of age and well known about old ward one. He has a wife and four children.

Up to six years ago, he was physically perfect, always enjoying good health and possessed of more than ordinary strength.

About that time, however, he noticed that he was becoming somewhat stiffened at his work. At first he paid no attention to the ailment, believing that it was only a temporary indisposition that would soon wear away. But with the increasing stiffness came gradual loss of appetite, sleep and flesh, and finally Mr. McCashin noted with alarm that he was losing control of his muscles and nerves, the first indication of it being in one of his heels which turned on him when he walked, no matter how hard he tried to control it. Then his knees began to work unnaturally and his hands refused to obey the dictates of his will and he was forced to discontinue work. He called in a doctor who treated him unsuccessfully for muscular rheumatism.

As he grew worse, he was attended by several physicians some of whom believed him to be suffering from a nervous trouble; others, and as he believes himself, a spinal derangement affecting the entire system.

Despite the efforts of his doctors, Mr. McCashin soon became totally helpless, his muscles working every way but that in which he would have them. His neck became stiff preventing him moving his head to either side and it was necessary to carry him about. He was sent to a hospital and after being a short time there, he was sent home to die, the hospital authorities doubting that he could live longer than a few weeks. But that was five years ago and the sufferer still endures, though in all that time he never enjoyed a moment's freedom from pain except under the soothing influence of opiates. In all that time he has had only one gleam of hope and that a few years ago when doctoring with a Canadian specialist by correspondence. Then he began to improve but while in his chair in the garden caught cold and relapsed into his old state from which he has never recovered. Up to a few months ago, Mr. McCashin enjoyed a brief respite from the bed, being able to sit in a chair when properly propped up, although unable to change his position. Since then, however, he has lost his equilibrium entirely and if placed in a chair, would fall, to use his own illustration, just as a lead pencil would fall if one attempted to stand it on its point.

He is taken daily from bed while the latter is being changed but it is necessary to hold him until he is put back. The long period on his back has had a terrible effect upon that portion of his anatomy, causing great and painful ulcers to gather there. Since he has been confined to his bed, Mr. McCashin has been unable to read the papers for before that time he followed the news of the day through the papers which were placed on a stand before him, an attendant turning the pages. He read everything, the smallest item not escaping his notice. Now, the members of the family read for him. His memory is remarkable and though practically out of the world for nearly a decade, he is as well informed as the average man on general topics, lacking only the details gleaned by observation of events.

The pleasures of this remarkable man are few and it might give a clearer idea of his helplessness to note the fact that his only nourishment is liquid food fed to him on a spoon through an aperture between his tightly closed jaws, made a few years ago by sawing away his front teeth for when his jaws went together, no human power could get them open again. The sawing of his teeth thus not only made it possible to feed him but enabled him to continue to talk, though only with difficulty. For a time he took a little solid food chopped up finely but long since he lost all desire for food and takes it now merely as a matter of necessity.

His principal pleasure is that derived from smoking, for strange as it may seem, he can smoke a little. His pipe is of the corncob variety with a long stem. When he wishes to smoke the stem is put to his mouth and the bowl rests between his rigid hands. The pipe is lighted for him and he puffs away with great entertainment. His smokes, however, are necessarily very brief, for once smoking he is powerless to remove the pipe from his mouth. He has many callers who entertain him at the piano and by singing and talking to him. He rarely sleeps and then generally his sleep is not of the natural order. His nerves and muscles constantly twitch and pain and it is only by the almost continuous use of opiates that he gets even a crumb of comfort out of his monotonous existence.

When asked about his preference as to weather, Mr. Meashin stated that he preferred cold weather and artificial heat, which can be regulated to suit him; and could the housewife who loses patience upon seeing a swarm of flies in her house contemplate this man, unable to brush the little tormentors from his face, she would forever hold her peace.

Mr. McCashin's position in bed would be most uncomfortable to even a healthy person. He is forced to lie flat on his back, his long and bony hands meet over his waist, his knees drawn high in the air, and the muscles constantly twitching them toward his body. When taken from bed he maintains that position and it cannot be changed.

Thus for six years he has been a pitiable victim of nature's unkindliness. How long a fate is to be meted out to him, no human power can tell.

DEATHS.

TROMBLAY—After a long and painful illness, covering a period of almost three years, Miss Nellie Tromblay, aged 27 years, died at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Tromblay, 38 Cady street this morning. Mr. Tromblay is the well known engineer at the Parker building.

The young woman had lingered between life and death for the past few weeks and anxious watchers, momentarily expected the end, but with wonderful tenacity she clung to the ever-weakening thread that linked her existence with mortal life. Although suffering great pain at times, she bore her trials with a Christian fortitude and never complained or caused her folks the least unnecessary anxiety. She received her religious training and education at Notre Dame academy, this city. A wide circle of friends will sadly miss the sweet smile and ever pleasant greeting of the estimable young woman.

During her long illness, loving hands and hearts had done all that was possible to alleviate her sufferings and she ever appreciated the friendly others in her behalf, and showed by every action her appreciation. The end although foreseen came as it always does with a shock to those interested, the last spark of life flickering out as the light of a new day dawned.

SHALVEY—The many friends and relatives of Thomas Shalvey will be pained to hear of the death of his wife at her home, corner of Dutton and Broadway, Mrs. Shalvey has been a constant, though patient sufferer for more than a year. She was a devout Catholic and a member of St. Patrick's church. Mrs. Shalvey had a most agreeable disposition and to know her was to love her and in her loss the community loses a good Christian woman, and her devoted husband a faithful and loving wife. Besides her husband she leaves two daughters, Mary E. and Margaret E., also two brothers, John and Stephen. The funeral will take place Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

FUNERALS.

HERBERT—The funeral of Betsey Herbert took place from her late residence in Dracut yesterday afternoon. Rev. A. E. Wilson of Lowell officiated. The bearers were George Palmer, Daniel W. Gardner, William Kay and Leonard Clowe. The interment was in the Dracut cemetery under the direction of Undertaker J. A. Weinbeck.

DUMONT—The funeral of Philias Dumont took place yesterday afternoon from the home of his parents, 4 Austin avenue. The bearers were four playmates of the deceased, namely, A. Patenaude, P. Barry, L. Vigeant and L. Lebrec. The funeral was largely attended. Interment was in St. Joseph's cemetery under the direction of Undertaker Joseph Albert.

TUCKER—The funeral of Amelia Tucker took place yesterday afternoon from the home of her parents in Collinsville. The burial was in the Catholic cemetery at Lowell. Undertaker O'Donnell in charge.

MATRIMONIAL.

McPHERSON—KITCHING.

Miss Annie McPherson, formerly of this city and Mr. G. Kitching, of West Palm, Fla., were united in marriage on Monday last at St. Anne's church in the latter place, the nuptial rites being solemnized by Rev. F. Farrell. Miss Amy Smith was bridesmaid and Mr. Pennington Johnson was best man. The bride was attired in muslin over-skirt silk and carried Bride roses. The bridesmaid was similarly attired. The bride, when she resided in Lowell was an employe of the Massachusetts mills. She was very well known in Lowell although a native of Nova Scotia. All her Lowell friends are invited to call at her home at West Palm Beach, Fla.

NATL. DAVIS DEAD

Prominent Citizen Passed Away This Morning

OF HEART DISEASE AT HIS HOME

Had Built Hundreds of Dwellings

AND PUBLIC INSTITUTIONS

Was Descended From Earliest Settlers

Nathaniel Davis, aged 81 years, one of Lowell's most highly respected citizens, died this morning at his late home, 80 Howard street, of heart disease.

He was born July 5, 1818, in Warner, N. H. He was descended from Philip Davis of Southampton, Eng., who was born in 1599. This Philip Davis had three sons, Gideon born in 1615; Philip, born in 1617, and Francis, born in 1620. They were all born in Southampton, England, and in 1638 they came to America in the ship Confidence, Capt. John Johson. Mr. Davis was descended in a direct line from Francis, one of these brothers, who settled in Amesbury and was a freeman there in 1645. He married Gertrude Emerson about 1650.

Aquilla Davis was born at Amesbury, June 27, 1700. He was the grandfather of the deceased. He came with his family to Warner, N. H., a few years after the settlement of that town in 1762. At the age of 17 years he was in the revolutionary war, having enlisted for three years. He married Abigail Stevens, who was born July 12, 1766, and died in 1862.

Nathaniel Davis's father was Alpheus Davis, born at Warner, N. H. in 1782 and died there Oct. 11, 1847. His mother Abigail Watts Davis was born in Warner in 1790 and died there Feb. 4, 1869. Mr. Davis received his education in the district schools of his native place and worked on his father's farm until the age of 21, when he came to Lowell in 1839, and engaged in the trade of granite cutter. He afterwards in 1851, went into the business of contractor on his own account. In 1860 he was obliged to retire from business on account of ill health. In his line of business he has been one of the most prominent and foremost in the city. He did all the stone work for the old post office, Appleton block, Lowell hall, and hundreds of buildings all over the city. He furnished the stone for the Cape Ann lighthouses.

In 1851 he formed a co-partnership with Samuel Sweatt and Stillman Clough. In 1852, ex-Mayor Runels also became a partner. The firm name then became Runels, Clough, & Co., and continued about twenty years. This firm furnished the cut stone for the Masonic Temple, St. James Hotel and many other buildings in the city of Boston also furnished the cut granite for the Union Depot at Worcester, and Booth's Fifth Avenue Theatre, New York.

Sept. 23 1847, he was married to Miss Julia A. Woods, in Lowell. Five children, three living, are the result of their union, Abby F., Nott A., and Juliet B.

Mr. Davis was a member of the Eliot Congregational society and was much interested in the work of that organization.

LOAD OF LUMBER FELL ON HIM

He Died in the Ambulance on Way to Hospital

A sad fatality occurred near the corner of Rock and Willie streets about 10 o'clock this morning, the victim of which was 11-year-old Tommy Sullivan, son of Thomas Sullivan, a well known employe of the Lowell Gaslight company, residing on Clarke street.

The boy was killed by the falling of a load of lumber from a passing wagon, the property, it is said, of A. L. Brooks & Co.

It is reported that the boy was at play on the sidewalk or near it and as the wagon on which the load of lumber was being carried passed him, the rollers which are on all lumber wagons, began to turn, precipitating the load on to the unfortunate lad before he could escape.

Bystanders immediately went to the rescue and upon removing the heavy planks which pinned him down found him in an unconscious condition.

The ambulance was hastily summoned and the injured boy died in it on the way to St. John's hospital, a fracture of the skull being the direct cause of death.

At A. L. Brooks & Co.'s, The Sun reporter was informed over the telephone this noon that the company had not learned the full particulars of the accident, but had heard that the top of the load slipped over on to the boy while he was on the sidewalk.

A Man Postrated in Gravel Pit

ANOTHER MAN CUT BY CIRCULAR SAW

Several Other Mishaps But Less Serious

Yesterday afternoon Joseph Lessage, aged 35 years and living at 31 Massachusetts corporation, was overcome by heat while working in the gravel pit on Wright street, Pawtucketville, operated by the asphaltine company.

Owing to the intense heat at this work, the men employed did not work very hard during the afternoon. But on account of Lessage not being accustomed to the work, the intense heat prostrated him.

The men who were working in the pit with him saw him fall forward very suddenly and remain motionless. The ambulance was immediately telephoned for and he was taken to the Lowell General hospital.

He was found to be very weak and it was necessary to give him stimulants to revive him.

Late last night the hospital doctor, Dr. Augustine, reported an improved condition in his patient.

Frank Hans, employed in McGaughey & Brady's wood yard, at 154 Church street, had his right hand lacerated by a circular saw. He was removed to St. John's hospital by the ambulance, and it was found necessary to amputate two fingers. A third was pretty badly cut, but the doctors think that it can be saved.

Albert Wood, a young lad residing in Twoed's court, had a sliver about three inches long enter his heel yesterday. The wound was dressed at St. John's hospital, and the doctors think that it will cause lameness for quite a while.

George Cunningham, an employe of the Merrimack, sprained his left ankle yesterday morning while at work. He had his ankle dressed at the Lowell hospital.

POLICE COURT

THE MORE IMPORTANT CASES WERE POSTPONED.

Three drunks were arraigned before Judge Hadley this morning. Wilfred Lafleume and Edward J. Cutting were fined $5 each. Adelard Tessier charged with being drunk in the vicinity of the Northern depot, was discharged. He said that he was waiting for a train for New York and after stating that his intentions to go to New York today, Judge Hadley discharged him.

Simon Shervin, charged with assault and battery on J. Sunodoski, was continued until August 2.

Ella Lockhart, assault and battery on L. M. Foster, was also continued to August 2.

Edward Harris, charged with being a vagrant, was found guilty and sentenced to the state farm. Officer Lynch of Tewksbury had found him in that town and arrested him.

Kate Coleman and John McBride, charged with illegally keeping liquor, were continued to August 1.

Hives are a terrible torment to the little folks and to some older ones. Easily cured. Doan's Ointment never fails. Instant relief, permanent cure. At any drug store, 50 cents.

PORFIRIO DIAZ, PRESIDENT OF MEXICO

PRES. DIAZ

OF MEXICO TO VISIT BOSTON NEXT FALL.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

BOSTON, July 29.—It is probable that President Diaz of Mexico will visit this city in October. The distinguished Mexican soldier and statesman will it is expected, visit Chicago during that month when it is intended to celebrate the 28th anniversary of the great fire by the laying the corner stone of the United States government building.

Mayor Quincy is in receipt of a letter from Charles H. Gordon, chairman of the committee having charge of the Chicago celebration, which is to be held on October 9, in which he states that President Diaz will attend there. He further states that it is intended after he shall have finished his visit in Chicago to take him and his party in a special train to a number of the most prominent cities of the country.

"In considering the possible itinerary to be hereafter submitted to him for his approval," says Mr. Gordon, "it was thought to arrange for a stop at Boston for a day, when an opportunity would be given your citizens for extending such courtesies as might be thought desirable."

In consequence of this assurance, Mayor Quincy has sent an invitation to President Diaz to visit this city. It is as follows:

"To His Excellency, Gen. Porfirio Diaz, President of the Mexican Republic:

Sir: Having learned that yourself and members of your cabinet may be able to pay a visit to the United States during the month of October, it gives me much pleasure on behalf of the city of Boston and as its chief executive, to extend to yourself and your party a most cordial invitation to visit this city during your trip.

The extent to which our citizens have invested their capital in Mexico and their interests in the development of your country perhaps may give us a special title to hope that a visit to Boston may be included in your arrangements, and I can assure you that the distinguished services which you have rendered to your country and its wonderful progress under your administration are well known here and will command for you not only the official welcome due to the chief magistrate of a great sister republic but the personal reception due to your character and career. I have the honor to subscribe myself, with much respect, your obedient servant,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

COURT'S DECISION

May Encourage Lynching in Georgia

THE SENTENCE OF LOWER COURT REJECTED

Three Reasons Given for Action Taken

By Associated Press to The Sun.

CHICAGO, July 28.—A special from Atlanta, Ga., says: It is feared that a decision rendered by the supreme court of Georgia will be the result of encouraging lynchings in the state. The case was that of Dorsey vs. the state and came from Carroll county. The supreme court split up the decision, the justices refusing to affirm the sentence of guilt by the lower court for the following reasons:

First in order to secure a condition for criminal assault, the evidence must show beyond all reasonable doubt an assault.

Second, the intent, and the third, a purpose to carry into effect this intent, with force. If either of these elements are lacking the offense is not made out.

It will be difficult to secure the performance of the three conditions named; hence the belief that lynchings will increase.

THE PANEL GAME

Worked on a Man in Chicago

By Associated Press to The Sun.

CHICAGO, July 28.—A rich western merchant, whose identity the police disguise behind the fictitious name of "George Edwards" was robbed of $7000 through a panel operated in the house of Nellie Miller in State street. The money consisted of seven $1000 bills. This is the largest amount of money ever secured in a similar robbery in the levee district. The Miller woman has been arrested.

"Edwards" whose home is not far from Denver came to this city yesterday with $14,000 in currency, checks and drafts and after a brief stay intended to go east and purchase fall goods.

TELEGRAM FROM GENERAL LINARES

Will Form Part of the Defense

By Associated Press to The Sun.

MADRID, July 28.—The trials of Generals Toral and Bareja and others for surrendering Santiago de Cuba will begin on Monday before a supreme court martial and is expected to occupy six or seven sittings of the court. It is stated that General Blanco, who was governor-general of Cuba during the late war, has signed a deposition to the effect that he gave General Toral permission to surrender all of the district under his command with the exception of Manzanillo. The defense also relies upon a telegram from General Linares, General Toral's predecessor, which was sent after General Linares had been wounded, appealing to the nation to say if the troops at Santiago had not maintained the honor of the army intact, and adding: "If it is necessary that a sacrifice be made and that some one must assume responsibility for the event foreseen and foretold in my dispatches, I offer myself. In loyalty and for the good of my country, no matter what the outcome, I will assume the responsibility of signing the surrender."

FORGERY CHARGE

Brought Against William H. Jackson

By Associated Press to The Sun.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., July 28.—Wm. Henry Jackson of Edgartown who professes to be a medical practitioner, was arrested in Edgartown yesterday by State Detective Dexter and Inspector Hathaway of this city on a charge of forgery. He was brought to this city last evening as the offence, it is alleged, was committed here and he was arraigned in the third district court this morning. As the prosecution was not ready to proceed, the case was continued until Monday. Jackson is held in the sum of $1000.

Jackson is charged with forging a promissory note which was made out for $250. Other notes were found on his person and the authorities are convinced that he has been working on rather extensive lines.

RAVISHED A GIRL

Emma Kerfoot Assaulted by a Negro

A SUSPECT IS UNDER ARREST

It is Feared a Lynching Will Follow

By Associated Press to The Sun.

HAGERSTOWN, Md., July 28.—On the eve of the day upon which three negroes paid the death penalty in Baltimore for a similar crime, a brute of the same color in this county ravished a young white girl and if captured will also pay for the outrage with his life. The victim of the assault is Emma Kerfoot, 16 years of age, whose father is lock-keeper on the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad at Mercerville. A young negro who apparently answers the description given by the victim, was arrested late last night and was in jail here today awaiting identification.

ATHLETES VISIT OXFORD.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

LONDON, July 28.—The members of the Harvard-Yale athletic team visited Oxford University today on invitation of Mr. C. N. Jackson, bursar of Hertford college and manager of the Oxford Cambridge team. Mr. Jackson met the Americans at the station and drove with them to several of the colleges, including Magdalen, Christ Church, St. John's, and Wadham. The party lunched at Hertford College. In the afternoon the American visitors were taken to the university cricket grounds where they were entertained at tea in the pavilion returning to London in the evening.

MME MOREL DEAD

FOUND AT THE BOTTOM OF A RAVINE.

ZERMATT, Switzerland, July 27.—Early this morning tourists discovered Madame Morel and her daughter at the bottom of a ravine near here. Evidently they had rolled a distance of 1200 feet. Mme. Morel was dead, her skull having been fractured. Her daughter was badly injured and delirious. Until she recovers her reason the facts regarding the accident which befell the two women can not be ascertained.

TO DEPOSE HEUREAUX.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

KINGSTON, Ja., July 28.—Advices from Santo Domingo to a Dominican here describe the existence of a well planned and widespread plot by adherents of Jimenez to depose President Heureaux which it was thought was sure to succeed. The assassination of President Heureaux is regarded here as an indication of the success of the plot.

MINERS MAKE DEMAND.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 28.—A special from Ironwood, Mich., says five hundred miners employed in the big Norris mine have made a demand for a 20 per cent. increase in wages. The company is given three days to consider the proposition. It is thought an agreement will be reached without any trouble. Two thousand men are employed in the Norrie.

PARSONS ADJUDGED INSANE

By Associated Press to The Sun.

CHICAGO, July 28.—Mrs. Lucy Parsons, widow of Anarchist Parsons, hanged for the Haymarket massacre, appeared in the insane court yesterday and testified against her son Albert R. Parsons, who she claims is mentally unsound. The young man answered all questions in an intelligent manner and claimed his mother was trying to place him in an asylum to get possession of his property. Several friends testified in his behalf, but the jury adjudged him insane and he was sent to the Elgin asylum.

The Maid and the Miracle

Miss Lucy Tucker, the daughter of a prominent farmer of Versailles, Ind., was the victim of nervous prostration. Most of the time she was confined to bed, and was on the verge of St. Vitus' dance. It was a pitiful case which medical science failed to conquer. Finally a doctor prescribed Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Her father said:

"We began giving the pills at once, and the next day we could see a change for the better in her. We gave her one pill after each meal until she was entirely well. She has not been sick a day since. We think the cure almost miraculous.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People contain, in a condensed form, all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves. They are an unfailing specific for such diseases as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous headache, the after-effects of the grip, palpitation of the heart, pale and sallow complexions, and all forms of weakness either in male or female.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are never sold by the dozen or hundred, but always in packages. At all druggists, or direct from the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y., 50 cents per box, 6 boxes $2.50.

THREE DROWNED

One Man's Body Was Strapped to a Boat

The Party Went for an Outing on Lake Ninbagog and Nothing Was Heard From Them—Overturned Boat Found on the Lake.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

NORWAY, Me., July 28.—News was received here this morning that three men had lost their lives in Lake Umbagog, a body of water located in a wild region in the northern part of Oxford county and about fifty miles from here. The names of those drowned are Geo. Clarke, Fred Clarke and James C. Bowen, all belonging in the town of Bethel, or vicinity.

Reports of the accident are meagre. It appears that Bowen and the two Clarkes left their homes on Sunday morning for a trip to Lake Umbagog. Nothing was heard of the men after that day until yesterday when an overturned boat was found on the lake. The body of George Clarke was fastened to the boat, he evidently having been able to climb up on it and secure himself to it by means of a rope. It is supposed that he died of exposure and lack of nourishment. The exact cause of the accident is not known here.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

FALL RIVER, Mass., July 28.—An arrest was made yesterday to test the legality of the firemen's license act. The case will be heard in District court Tuesday.

The firemen are in high feather today because of received and promised contributions and from national associations and brother orders in Lowell and Lawrence.

INSPECTOR THERE

INQUIRY INTO THE NUMBER OF HOURS STREET RAILWAY MEN ARE WORKING—OVERTIME MAY BE STOPPED.

It is understood that an inspector of the state department police has been in Lawrence inquiring into the number of hours the motormen and conductors are working on the street railway lines. The inspector has boarded off-street cars and interviewed the men in charge of them. It is said. The men are supposed to work only ten hours a day and their labor must be performed in 12 hours' time, according to law. As near as can be learned, a number of the regular day men have been working overtime and this they told the inspector.

"There are about as many spare men employed by the company as ever but more people are being carried on the cars this season. The riding to Glen Forest is unusually heavy and men who have day cars are obliged to work overtime on this line at night. The men having day cars are obliged to rise early in the morning and when they are kept up until 11 o'clock or later at night on account of overtime work, it makes life disagreeable to them.

It is reported that the state inspector informed the men that they would probably be relieved of extra work before long.

DECLINE OF COMMERCE.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 28.—The New York Commerce Commission, appointed to investigate the causes of the decline of commerce in New York resumed its inquiry at noon yesterday. Charles F. Sternberg, a grain dealer and elevator owner of this city, testified that he was not in the elevator pool and that the elevators, in which he was interested were not working. The elevators, he said, were becoming more and more in control of the railroads. He believed that the new elevator pool was formed to do away with the canal elevators. He did not think the elevator charges responsible for a diversion of grain traffic. The competition at Montreal, Boston and other ports had reduced grain charges here.

NINTH REGT. TOUR

The Boys Will be in Camp Aug. 3 to 9 th

COL. DONOVAN'S ORDER ISSUED

Lieut. Collidge Made Assistant Inspector

The new commander of the Ninth regiment Infantry, Col. Donovan has issued the appended order:

1. In accordance with general orders, No. 7, G.H.O., dated July 1, 1899, and general orders No. 4, headquarters, second brigade, dated July 16, 1899, this regiment will perform its annual tour of camp duty at South Framingham, from August 3 to August 9, inclusive.

2. Fatigue uniform, blue cap, leggins, and white gloves will be worn. Overcoats will be rolled in yoke. Working suit, campaign hat and any other articles to be carried will be rolled inside. White hat card will be worn on the campaign hat and will be supplied to each company by the paymaster.

3. Field, staff and non-commissioned staff, excepting quartermaster and quartermaster sergeant, will report to the adjutant at the east armory on Thursday, August 3 at 7 o'clock a. m.

4. Headquarters attaches, band and field music will report at the same time and place.

5. Companies A, B, C, E, H, and I will report to the adjutant as prescribed for field staff. Companies D and F will report to the adjutant at the South Union station, at 8.45 o'clock a. m. Companies G, K, L and M, will report to the adjutant near railroad station at South Framingham at 9.30 o'clock a. m.

6. Quartermaster and quartermaster-sergeant will report to Capt. Fred P. Barnes, brigade quartermaster on Wednesday, August 2, at State Camp ground at 10 o'clock a. m.

7. Majors of battalions will be the inspecting officers at "inspection of quarters;" they will see that quarters are kept in strict compliance with paragraph 8 of general orders No. 4 headquarters 2d brigade.

8. Applications for passes must be made by company commanders not later than 11 o'clock each morning. No enlisted man will be allowed to leave camp during the week without a pass and no officer or enlisted men be permitted to loiter around officers' quarters and a strict compliance with all forms of military courtesy must be observed at all times.

9. The medical department will have a general supervision of the sanitary condition of the camp and will make a daily inspection of the quality and condition of the food furnished the regiment.

10. Particular attention is hereby called to paragraph 8 of general orders No. 4, 2d brigade headquarters. Muster and assignment rolls must be in the hands of the paymaster not later than 2 o'clock p. m., Aug 3.

11. The staff appointments for the regiment are announced as follows: John P. Lombard, surgeon, with the rank of major; William J. Casey as adjutant, John Breen as quartermaster, J. F. McGourty as assistant surgeon, M. E. Morris as inspector of rifle practice, John P. Kane as paymaster, all with the rank of first lieutenant. They will be obeyed and respected accordingly.

By order of Colonel DONOVAN, William J. Casey, first lieutenant and adjutant.

SIXTH REGIMENT OFFICERS

Colonel Charles K. Darling presided at a meeting of the officers of the 6th Infantry M.V.M., held at the South armory in Boston Thursday afternoon. Matters concerning the coming encampment of the regiment with the 1st brigade at South Framingham were talked over.

Colonel Darling announced that he had appointed 1st Lieut. Clarence W. Coolidge, Company E, assistant inspection of rifle practice. Lieut. Coolidge served with the regiment during its tour of duty under Col. Edmund Rice as adjutant and his appointment as rifle inspector of the regiment met with great favor from those present.

It was also announced that Capt. Williams of L company had waived his seniority and that Captain Carr would command the 3d battalion during the coming encampment.

KING COFFEE

Caused Weak Heart and Other Trouble.

Our family is a large one and we have all been greatly helped and benefited by the dismissal of coffee and the daily use of Postum Food Coffee. I formerly had a very weak heart that troubled me greatly and the trouble was gradually getting worse while I was using coffee.

I also had frequent headaches and sleepless nights. These have all gone since the drug (and one may well call coffee a drug) has been dismissed. A neighbor, Mr. A. Woodruff, was a confirmed dyspeptic for years until he quit coffee and began to use Postum. Now he is entirely cured and thanks Postum for it. Mrs. M. Manson and Mr. D. S. Barclay, friends, have found great relief from leaving off Coffee and using Postum Food Coffee.

I have made many inquiries among quite a list of persons who have been using Postum, and always find good accounts where it has been properly prepared. You cannot impress that point too strongly on the people where they once make a trial of Postum, for if it is not thoroughly boiled, it has a flat taste and that drives them away from it, whereas, if they only knew how delicious it is when well made and how their health would be improved by its use, they would do almost any way to insure getting good Postum. I can send you a long list list of names of those who really know how to make Postum and use it every day, if you care for them. M. E. Woodruff, 353 Crescent avenue, Grand Rapids, Mich.

William Davidson who served in the Sixth and later in the Eighth regiment was one of the three men who enlisted in Lawrence yesterday. Davidson is well known and very popular among the militia men of Lowell. He made an excellent soldier according to the statements of the his officers.

SAVED THE GIRLS

An Elevator Man's Daring at at a Fire

TOOK 200 GIRLS FROM A BUILDING

And Then Got His Pay in Kisses

NEW YORK, July 29—Joseph Mayers, an elevator man, proved himself a hero yesterday afternoon by saving about 100 girls from a dangerous fire on the top floor of the six-story building, 515 Broadway, occupied by Ballin & Burnheimer, manufacturers of neckwear.

Two hundred girls were on the floor when the fire started among a lot of bundles of cotton batting. It spread with amazing rapidity, and the girls shrieked and ran for the door.

Sidney Bernheimer, one of the partners, tried to calm them, but they were too panic stricken to listen to him. The place was full of smoke and the heat was great.

Someone started to rush for the elevator at the Mercer street end of the building. It was filled with girls in a few seconds and others fought to get on board.

It was then that Meyers showed his presence of mind by fighting off the frightened ones and closing the door after he had got one full load. He took them down at lightning speed, drove them from the car as quickly as he could and then returned through the smoke for more. He got them all out before any were hurt.

The engines meanwhile arrived and put out the fire. The automatic alarm on the burning building did not sound, but the automatic sprinklers worked and deluged the building and the girls.

A lot of fine silks and satins were damaged by water.

The girls talk of getting up a testimonial to elevator hero Mayers; at least 20 of them kissed him.

WHAT CONFERENCE DID

Mayor S. M. Jones, in a recent letter to the New York Journal, said:

The story published in a Cleveland paper that I was somewhat "dissatisfied with the Buffalo conference" and that I had "positively announced that I would not be an independent candidate for governor this fall" is a pure fabrication. In reference to the independent candidacy for governorship I have said that I see no reason for changing my views heretofore published in regard to the question. I hope to be ready for any service, even to being an independent candidate, just as soon as I am led to believe that it is my duty to aid the cause of the new education in that way, and when I am so convinced I will announce it plainly and unequivocally. The people will not be left in doubt.

I doubt if there has ever been gathered together in this country an assembly of more high minded, disinterested men and women than have been in session at Buffalo during the last week. I certainly have never had the privilege of meeting with an assembly where there was a more genuine spirit of devotion to the interests of humanity or a more lofty conception of patriotism than animated the Buffalo conference. There was an entire absence of the proverbial long haired man and short haired woman. It is true that the man with a "cure all" was slightly represented, but only slightly. The spirit of the convention was one of deep, earnest inquiry for a proper answer to the question "What to do next?"

There was the keenest realization manifest that we are now in a critical period in the history of this country; that grave dangers seem to threaten the very existence of the republic all are agreed, and yet I do not recall a single speech that I heard or a conversation that I had with any of the 300 or 400 members that was not thoroughly optimistic, and I am sure there was a general confidence and trust that the truly patriotic and truly-loyal people of the country, the people who understand that love of country means love of fellow men, means brotherhood, will lead the public mind into a peaceful solution of all our grave problems by bringing them through the new education to recognize the truth of this great moral principle that we must all admit and practice in our daily lives before we have any right to hope for social peace.

The political programme most in favor to bring about this new condition seems to be the absolutely independent political action of individuals voting for principle rather than party. The belief seemed to be general that reformers ought not to wear a party collar or party brand until the name of party means something more sacred than at present, but that they should ever be ready to vote for principle before party and for the unifying of the reform forces in such directions as seem to promise the greatest good. Of course the conference was socialistic. Probably three-fourths of these present would claim to be socialists and base all of their hopes of the future on socialism rather than on individualism.

On every hand it seemed to be admitted that individualism had failed and that competition is no longer adapted to provide a social order that will meet the requirements of the race and that co-operation must take its place. Public ownership of all public utilities, municipal, state and national, was not only advocated but held forth as the only final solution of the question how to handle natural monopolies, and the belief was freely expressed that our development in the future is to be along the lines of social salvation rather than on the lines of individual success that has characterized our history up to date.

So far as the political and moral welfare of the country is concerned, the conference will prove one of the most porfitable gatherings ever assembled. The various movements that have been inaugurated to perpetuate and carry forward the work will insure the continued growth of the most lofty and healthful patriotism.

Studying Our Constitution.

Commissioner Powderly says that a very curious fact had been brought to his attention by a friend who has been traveling extensively in Europe. In a recent letter this friend stated that during a considerable stay in Italy, where he had made it his business to investigate the condition of the peasants and the laborers, he was surprised to find schools established where intending emigrants were being taught to read the constitution of the United States, not only in their own tongue, but in English.

A little investigation showed that this had been the direct result of the proposed amendment to our immigration laws, in which it was required that immigrants should be able to read and write a sentence at least of the constitution of the United States.

There is evidently a scheme in teaching these Italians to read in English and write in the same language part of the constitution. It is evident that they could not in a brief time be thoroughly drilled in the whole document, but the plan is believed to be to instruct them in one or two sentences, which they can repeat when examined by the immigrant inspector on this side.—Washington Cor. Philadelphia Press.

Pulling Together.

A scheme has been evolved in some English shipyards aiming at greater harmony between employers and workmen and is based on a division of extra pay for extra good work in proportion to the wages paid each workman. Each trade elects one representative from every 20 workmen, and these, with their foreman, constitute a trade committee, from which one is selected for the general council.

AS CANDIDATE FOR SUPREME BENCH

Gov. Wolcott May Soon Appoint Him

By Associated Press to The Sun.

BOSTON, July 29—The name of Hon. Hosea M. Knowlton, was mentioned pretty generally among lawyers as the probable appointee by Gov. Wolcott to fill the vacancy in the state supreme court.

It was said yesterday in certain authoritative quarters that Gov. Wolcott has had the appointment of the attorney general under favorable consideration for several days and that it was quite likely Mr. Knowlton's nomination would be presented for approval at the governor's council at its next meeting.

The general sentiment among members of the bar touching Mr. Knowlton's ability appears to be a unanimous approval of his high capacity for a judgeship. His friends point to the long and arduous experience of Mr. Knowlton as a district attorney and attorney general. The salary of the office is $7600 but the appointment being for life, as well as one of the highest honor, the friends of Mr. Knowlton say he would not be averse to accepting the appointment.

In this connection, assuming that Mr. Knowlton will go on the supreme bench his probable successor as attorney general furnishes politicians with an interesting issue. Among the lawyers mentioned for the place are ... of Cambridge, District Attorney Harris of East Bridgewater, District Attorney Wier of Lowell and Henry P. Moulton of Salem.

TEN TO ONE you'll find, if you give the subject a little thought that the majority of clocks in use in this city have come from this store. That speaks pretty well for the clocks and shows that people here like to be on time. The importance of having a steady going, reliable timepiece in the office, store, workshop or factory is understood. Its hands have something to do with every engagement, and the proper beginning and ending of every piece of work. We are showing every style of clock in our collection, starting at the nickle alarm at 75c., you may go as high as $4.50 for eight day, calendar, office clocks, and you can rely on all of them being accurate.

Every Newspaper

Has a value as an advertising medium, but the extent of that value depends upon the circulation of each newspaper.

Where two newspapers circulate in the same territory, and one has double the circulation of the other, it is plain that the paper with the larger circulation is worth twice as much for advertising purposes as the other.

The Sun has five times the circulation of some of its local contemporaries, three times as much as others, and nearly twice as much as its nearest competitor, and yet its rates are but a trifle above the lowest and no higher than the highest in Lowell. We do not say that other local papers are not worth what they ask for advertising; what we do claim is that THE SUN is by far the cheapest of them all on the basis of actual circulation. Compare the rates and circulation and see for yourself.

MAYOR CROWLEY.

Mayor Crowley has the misfortune of falling into the most inconsistent positions on public matters. When the proposition came before the board of aldermen Tuesday evening, to appropriate $300 to provide a clerk for the inspector of wires, the mayor denounced it on the ground that it was an acknowledgment that the head of any department could hire what assistance he pleased and create salaried positions to suit himself. He claimed that the case was parallel to the Muldoon case which is now being tried in the courts. In this, the mayor was not only in error, but inconsistent. It was an indirect charge that Mr. Barrett had created the position of inspector in his department and fixed the salary which is not the case. The position and the salary were created by a resolution passed by both branches of the city council and approved by His Honor, the mayor. The proceedings were exactly similar to the proceedings then under discussion, namely, to appropriate a sum of money and to create a position in a department for which the sum appropriated would be paid as a salary. If the mayor did not want the position created in the purchasing agent's department, he should have vetoed the resolution; but he approved it and signed it and nothing was heard of it until a man against whom he has a personal antipathy was appointed. Then he took a position which the courts have thus far decided to be untenable. The intimation that Mr. McElholm was creating a position and providing a salary was really too transparent and too childish to come from a man in the position of mayor. It was a subterfuge to justify his position in the Muldoon case. If the mayor does not want the position created or the salary paid, he can easily veto the resolution; but he should not use the occasion to distort the Muldoon matter into a charge that a position was created and a salary provided against his wishes by the head of the supply department, for such is not the case.

His Honor is also inconsistent in his expressions concerning the powers of the heads of departments. While he contends that the heads of the supply and electric wire departments have no powers which the mayor is bound to respect, he throws up his hands when it comes to the head of the street department and says "The heads of departments have full power under the charter and I am utterly helpless." This was also except when he signed the scandalous asphaltina paving resolutions. At that time, the heads of departments seemed to have more power than the mayor according to His Honor's interpretation. In the other cases however, he proposes to see whether the mayor has not more power than the heads of departments. This is an inconsistent attitude which leaves His Honor open to public criticism if not ridicule. It is so also on the garbage matter. When explaining his views to the board of health, as to whether the garbage contract could be made without the approval of the mayor, he told the board that while he had his own views on the question as mayor and as a lawyer and while he firmly believed that the contract would not be legal without the mayor's signature, still he did not deem it proper to thrust his opinion upon the board in any way that would ignore the existence of a city solicitor. "We have a city solicitor" he said "to whom all such questions should be referred and his decisions should be respected."

This is very true; but a short while afterward His Honor destroyed the effect of that declaration by utterly ignoring the city solicitor in the Muldoon affair and by going directly to the courts. He would not listen to a proposition to have the city solicitor render an opinion in the Muldoon case. He said he did not care what the opinion of the city solicitor might be, he would go to the courts and he went and the city is paying the bill. This showed that on one public matter, he deferred to the solicitor's opinion, but on another, he ignored the city solicitor and regardless of expense to the city went to the courts. Furthermore all this was done in spite of the common report that the city solicitor had rendered either to him or to members of the city government a private opinion that Muldoon's appointment was legal and that he was entitled to pay. Again he has vetoed the garbage contract mainly, as appears from his letter, on the ground that he disapproves of contract work. Why did he not reach that conclusion before he signed the asphaltina contracts? And if he has such a regard for the taxpayers and the people in general, why did he not at least call for bids for smooth paving instead of giving contracts amounting to $60,000 to his friend Robert E. Crowley at his own price?

Such actions, we are sorry to say do not add to the mayor's reputation for sincerity, sound judgment or executive ability. These inconsistencies, together with his action in the asphaltina matter have been denounced by the public at large and by representative men in both political parties to such an extent that we are inclined to agree with the personal friends of the mayor, who already acknowledge that it would have been better for his reputation and better for his memory hereafter, if he had never been elected to the high office he holds and which he is struggling to fill. We trust, however, that His Honor will in the future beware of these inconsistent pitfalls and the blandishments of such characters as the asphaltina gang and thus escape that kind of public criticism and public ridicule which is apt to develop into public contempt.

Schlatter, the so-called divine healer, has appeared in Haverhill, and states that he has been dead forty days, part of which time was spent in hell. If his healing powers are exercised in other places as they were in Lowell, the towns in which he visits will regret the loose management that allowed him to escape from the lower regions.

The mayor and city council of New York are threatened with imprisonment for contempt of court in refusing to pass a bond issue for a hall of records. They have until Monday next to decide whether they will comply with the court's order or go to jail, such is the power vested in the courts, under the head of contempt.

General Merritt, it is said, wants to go to the Philippines. He, it will be remembered, is the military autocrat who advised the United States to make labor unions illegal. A man with that idea of justice would make an excellent governor-general of the Philippines if the object is to establish a despotism.

It is now proposed to interfere in the affairs of the republic of San Domingo, and perhaps to annex the little republic altogether. That is the logical application of the imperial policy.

The new labor party that is starting up in New York if it keeps to its program, will help fight the trusts and mammoth corporations that oppress labor at the present time.

There must be consolation to the rich in the knowledge that it is out of the reach of us ordinary folks to make long-distance automobile tours. Anyway, we can sit on the fence and see them go by.

Chicago is congratulating itself as likely to be the centre of population as revealed by the next census. In 1890 that point halted in the march westward near Greensburg, Ind., and if it keeps up its record ought to be 150 miles west of that in 1899.

A new species of kissing bug has come along. It is much smaller than the original and bears a resemblance to the June bug. Although small proportioned, his bite is built on large plans and specifications. The first victim of this new comer in the field was a Chelmsford man. The bite swelled to a great size but he applied some ham fat and the swelling soon went down.

The newspaper press, the medical profession and the general public might as well understand that until further notice all such ailments as mumps, boils, cold sores, swelling from ulcerated teeth, neuralgia, erysipelas, etc., etc., are suspended and in place of them are only the bites of kissing bugs. Moreover, it should be well understood that after this date any insect, flying or creeping, poisonous or harmless, larger than a mosquito and smaller than a lobster, is beyond question, the veritable kissing bug itself.

A sensational preacher in Worcester has decided that Ingersoll is in hell and proceeds to gloat over Bob's supposed condition. A fanatic in the pulpit is a burden to his congregation.

What useless and indecorous work it is to discuss the possible future of the late Colonel Ingersoll and to make flippant remarks to the effect that he now has the key to the mysteries that were hidden from him in life. The secrets of death are not for living eyes nor is it given to human judgments to compass that which is infinite. Wisdom and delicacy suggest a decorous silence at such a time as the present.

Junkmen and peddlers who have not a Lowell license will do well to give this city a wide berth unless they prefer to pay a fine. Leader "Dick" Griffith of the National band has hit it right when he says that he will cater to the musical taste of the masses when his band appears in the coming municipal band concerts. That's what has made the Talbot mill band of North Billerica so popular with the general public.

The case of the Lynn man, who has sued his gardener because of the failure of a grass crop upon his lawn, will be watched with interest. If there is any way of "getting even" on account of the failure of grass or any other crops in New England, the present season, a great many people would like to know of it.

All hands up for the coming municipal band concerts.

SECTION'S ORDERS.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Secretary Long yesterday sent telegraphic orders to the cruiser New Orleans at Newport directing that she proceed at once to San Domingo. At the same time an order was sent to the gunboat Machias at St. Thomas to leave for San Domingo. It is expected that the New Orleans will also leave to-day.

This action was due to the desire to be forehanded in dealing with any possible disturbance.

Office, Lowell, Mass.

Sales for Week Ending Aug. 5th, '99

THURSDAY AFTERNOON.

One of the prettiest, handsomest finished and most ideal homes in the Highlands to be sold at auction for just what it will bring.

It is my purpose on Thursday, the third day of August, 1899, to offer at absolute sale, the Cutler residence, No. 17 Nicollet street or opposite the beautiful Josiah Butler estate and the extensive grounds of the Highland club. The house was erected by Arthur S. Cutler of the firm of Merrill & Cutler, architects, for his own occupancy and it was his residence for five or six years. It came into my possession through mortgage and I have no earthly use for it. It has more recently been occupied by Arthur H. Kittredge.

The house is of the most attractive design architecturally; in finish it is both artistic and elegant; in its modern arrangement and applied conveniences it is simply perfect; heated by the most approved methods; lighted by electric gas fixtures. It has large hall with open fire place and stained glass window; reception room, library, dining room, butler's pantry, pantry and kitchen on first floor; square hall, five chambers and bath room on second floor; large unfinished attic over whole house on third floor; splendid cellar with laundry; the house is just such a one as an architect would make his ideal. The stable fits the house and is arranged for two horses and four carriages.

The lot has a fine frontage of 75 ft, contains an area of 7800 square feet, has a nice little fruit orchard in the rear, is of level grade, and well laid down to a pretty lawn. You can examine the interior of the buildings after 10 a. m. on day of sale or previous to that time by applying at the office of the auctioneers. The purchaser must deposit with or secure to the auctioneers $50 as soon as the property is struck off. Three-quarters of the purchase money can remain on mortgage for a term of three years with interest at the rate of five per cent. per annum. The sale will take place on the premises, rain or shine, at five o'clock in the afternoon and whoever bids the most for it will get it.

JOHN BOYLE.

FRIDAY AFTERNOON.

Guardians' Sale of Real Estate. In order that the several heirs to the estate of the late James Mahan may be paid their interests in the estate, it has become necessary to turn the following described realty into money. To do this we shall, under license from the probate court for the county of Middlesex, sell at absolute auction, regardless of weather, on the several premises on Friday, the 4th day of August, 1899, the large block and 5320 square feet of land at the corner of Gorham and Manchester streets; 5300 square feet of land adjoining and on Gorham street; four lots of land of 5000 square feet each on Bowden street; the cottage house and [illegible] square feet of land numbered 28 Manchester street.

AT FOUR O'CLOCK P. M.

The four-tenement block with store numbered [illegible] Gorham street and [illegible] Manchester street. Each tenement has five or six rooms, a water closet, [illegible], water, gas and cemented cellars; is in good order and repair; all are [illegible] except the one recently occupied by the late Mr. Mahan. It is the best one in the block and will readily rent for $12 a month. The block as now rented produces an income of $50 a month. With the block is 5320 square feet of land, 50 feet on Gorham street and 105 feet on Manchester street. The property offered in this lot is one of the best parcels of real estate on [illegible] Gorham street. The building was constructed upon honor, is very heavy [illegible] and substantial. The lot is perfect in area, [illegible].

IMMEDIATELY FOLLOWING.

[illegible] feet of land adjoining the first lot with a frontage of 50 feet [illegible] Gorham street. On this lot is an office building and a large shed used by [illegible] in carrying on the business of cutting marble and granite.

AT 4.30 O'CLOCK P. M.

Four lots of land on Bowden street, just off Gorham street. Each lot has an area of 5000 square feet and a frontage of 50 feet. On one lot is a house and stable numbered [illegible]. The lots are level and dry and two of them offer excellent opportunities for improvements. At the prices they will sell for, they should prove attractive to many purchasers of lots of moderate value.

AT FIVE O'CLOCK P. M.

The cottage house and [illegible] square feet of land numbered 28 Manchester street, or the third house from the corner of Gorham street. The cottage has seven rooms and cellar, is in [illegible] and repair; has water closet, sewerage and city water. The lot has a frontage of [illegible] feet.

The purchaser of the first lot must deposit with or secure to the auctioneers $150 as soon as the lot is struck off. The purchaser of the second lot must do the same with $50. The purchaser of each lot on Bowden street must do the same with $50. The purchaser of the cottage and lot on Manchester street must do the same with $150. Other terms liberal.

N. Y. CITY COUNCIL

May be Sent to Jail Next Monday

FOR ALLEGED CONTEMPT OF COURT

In Refusing to Pass a Certain Bond Issue

On the application of counsel for Contractor John Pierce, Supreme Court Justice Giegerich yesterday granted an order requiring the twenty councilmen who defied the supreme court writ of mandamus to show cause before Justice Fitzgerald next Monday morning why they should not be committed for contempt.

This means, that if the councilmen do not before that time purge themselves of the contempt or secure a stay of proceedings, each of them may be sent to Ludlow street jail and be fined.

There were rumors yesterday that the councilmen had been brought to a realizing sense of their error and would meet between now and Monday and pass the halls of records bond issue. They have been argued to take this action by Corporation Counsel Whalen and also by numerous friends.

If they do not harken to this advice, Judge Fitzgerald is apt to be severe with them.

Many of the councilmen were more defiant than ever before. Councilmen Oakley, Cassidy, Goodwin and Doyle declared that they would get private counsel and fight to a finish. Councilman Murray said he would act as his own counsel and that if the courts ruled that he must vote against his convictions he would resign.

The contempt order is directed against the following councilmen: John T. Oakley, Thomas F. Foley, Martin Engel, Frank J. Goodwin, George B. Christman, John J. Murphy, Eugene A. Wise, Stewart M. Brice, William J. Hyland, Adolph C. Hottenroth, Bernard C. Murray, Charles H. Francisco, Francis P. Williams, Adolph H. Leich, William A. Doyle, Martin Conly, David L. Van Nostrand, Joseph Cassidy, Joseph F. O'Grady, and Benjamin Bodine.

Each of these men must be personally served with the court's order before next Monday and it is said that some of them made haste yesterday to get beyond the jurisdiction of the court.

Seven of the councilmen are not named in Justice Giegerich's order. They are President Guggenheimer and Councilmen McGarry, Hester, French, Hart, Ebbets, and Murphy. Messrs. Guggenheimer, McGarry, and Hester, voted to obey the court's order to pass the bonds for a new hall of records. Messrs. French, Hart, Ebbets, and Murphy were never served with the mandamus issued by Justice Fitzgerald.

HOMING PIGEON

PERFORMS A MOST REMARKABLE FEAT.

The following is the most remarkable case of pigeon homing on record and one which will interest the numerous owners of homing pigeons in the city:

A homing pigeon belonging to Anthony Woodward of Church, arrived home yesterday after an absence of twelve weeks. The bird had been caught by a carpenter on the American liner Lucania among the icebergs off the coast of Newfoundland. The carpenter noticed the owner's name stamped on the wing and he brought the bird back to Liverpool and then sent it by train to Church. The Sons er was trained last year by the "South road" from France. This season it has been trained on the "North road" from Scotland. The bird is nine years old. It is supposed to have flown 2000 miles.

BOXING GOSSIP.

Over 100 Boston and Lynn sports are expected here with Dick Simms who on Monday night will spar with George Gardner before the Nutmeg club. Simms is reported to be in excellent shape and his friends are so confident of his success that many believe that he is some one other than Dick Simms, an unknown Lynn boxer. Gardner does not mind if he is George Byers provided he is down to weight. Should Gardner defeat Simms he will go after Byers at 151 pounds.

James Moriarty, who is training near Haggett's Pond is in fine condition for his go with James Stewart and it begins to look as if the Manchester boy is about to have a break in his list of victories.

Billy Gardner, who is training with George at the Burke's gym is down to weight and has no fear of his being bested by the Lawrence man, Swanson.

The tickets for the go are out today and the demand for them is great.

Tim Kearns, George Byers "Spider" Winn, "Spike" Sullivan and many other well known boxers will probably be in attendance on Monday night.

THE STRIKE ENDED.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., July 29.—The strike on the Narragansett Bay line is practically at an end, the demands of the men having been granted in full. The Richard Peck arrived yesterday at the usual time with a full complement of hands and twenty of the crew of the C. H. Northam. The men had been getting $25 and $30 a month and struck for a raise to $35 the wages paid to the men on the Fall River line. This was granted.

Hair Grower and Scalp Cleaner?

If not, do not delay longer, as the days of the exhibition are limited. It will pay anyone to see the luxuriant growth of hair worn by the ladies in attendance, which, by the way, was produced by the use of the highly meritorious preparations they represent, and was not inherited, as some people think.

The ladies will cheerfully give to all visitors, free of cost, any information desired regarding the necessary treatment of the hair and scalp to produce the best results.

It costs nothing to see this great exhibition, so why not come today? Everybody is invited.

PETITION TABLED

Globe Telephone Co's Hearing Was Postponed

THE PETITIONERS WERE NOT READY

Will Incorporate Under Mass. Laws

The second attempt at a hearing before the board of aldermen on the petition of the Globe Telephone Co. for a franchise in this city like its predecessor of Tuesday night last was unsuccessful.

There was quite a gathering present, the remonstrants in the majority, when Mayor Crowley called to order shortly after 7.30 o'clock, with all present but Alderman Peirce.

It was moved to give each side an hour in which to present its case.

Mayor Crowley then called for the petitioners' side and Mr. Harvey arose and said that some of the petitioners had some doubt as to the right of the board of aldermen to grant the rights asked for to a foreign corporation and had decided that to prevent litigation in the future he would ask that the matter be held in abeyance until such time as the company could incorporate under the laws of the state.

Lawyer Pratt of the New England company had no objection to raise to such a request and on motion of Alderman Dixon the petition was laid on the table.

The matter cannot come up again until after the summer vacation.

CHIEF JUSTICE CHAMBERS ARRIVES HOME

Volcanic Eruptions are in Full Blast

By Associated Press to The Sun.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 28.—The steamer Mona has arrived from Honolulu and Samoa. At Samoa conditions were in a very disturbed state and great dissatisfaction was manifest on all sides. There have been several fights and more are likely.

Chief Justice Chambers was a passenger on the Mona.

The volcanic eruption on the Island of Hawaii was still in full blast and seemed to be increasing in violence. The entire island was covered with a dense cloud of smoke which extended hundreds of miles out to sea.

PARKER CHOSEN

Will be President of Bobbin Combine

By Associated Press to The Sun.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., July 28.—A meeting for the preliminary organization of the United States Bobbin and Shuttle Company, a consolidation of the bobbin industry of the country, will be held in this city next Tuesday. The company which is to be capitalized under the law of New Jersey with a capital of about $1,100,000 will control from 85 to 90 per cent of the bobbin trade of this country.

The concerns to be consolidated are the James Baldwin company of Manchester, N. H.; William Parker & Sons, Lowell, Mass.; the Woonsocket Bobbin company, Woonsocket, R. I., the L. Sprague company, Lawrence, Mass.; the Fall River Bobbin and Shuttle company, Fall River, Mass.

The president will probably be W. H. Parker of W. H. Parker and Sons, while H. Martin Brown of the Woonsocket Bobbin company and Brown brothers' company, mill supplies of this city will probably be treasurer.

STEAMER LAHN STOPPED.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

LONDON, July 28.—The British steamer Europe, Captain Tubb, from New York, July 17, for London, passed the Lizard today and reported that in latitude 50, longitude 10, she sighted the North German Lloyd steamer Lahn. The Lahn was stopped and signalled that her engines were out of order but was expected to be all right soon and no assistance was required.

FOUR MEN KILLED

By an Accident on Midland Railroad

By Associated Press to The Sun.

HALIFAX, N. S., July 28.—Four men were hurled to death and several seriously injured by an accident on the Midland railroad between Truro and Windsor this afternoon. Details are not yet received but it is reported that a construction train was thrown over an embankment at Little River, killing four men and injuring seven or more. One of the dead is a man named Salter.

PRES. HEREAUX' FUNERAL.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

CAPE HAYTIEN, July 28.—The funeral of President Hereaux of San Domingo, took place at 5 o'clock last evening in Santiago de Los Caballeros. The population was panic-stricken, but there was no disorder.

A report has been received here to the effect that the adversaries of the government attacked Moca last night.

The news of the death of President Hereaux was hardly credited here by the people generally until last evening, when undoubted confirmation was received. Then there was great rejoicing among the Dominican exiles many of whom live in and around Cape Haytien.

These exiles, who were driven out of their country by Hereaux, are now preparing to arm themselves and enter Santo Domingo, where they expect their chief, Don Juan Jimenez, to join them.

The Dominican government is making preparations on a large scale to maintain itself.

THE DEWEY HOME

Will be Erected in National Capitol

$21,000 HAS BEEN SUBSCRIBED ALREADY

Subscriptions Will Close Soon

By Associated Press to The Sun.

WASHINGTON, July 28.—The secretary of the Dewey Home Fund requests the publication of the following statement:

"There can be no longer any doubt as to whether a home will be purchased by popular subscription for Admiral George Dewey. At a meeting of the National Dewey Home Fund Committee today, it was found that the aggregate amount of cash actually received by Treasurer Roberts was $16,700 from a total of over 23,000 subscribers. One hundred and three subscribers gave $10,000. The statement was made that the $5,000 promised sometime since by the New York Journal would be forthcoming shortly, bringing the grand aggregate up to $21,700. The committee agreed to close the subscription before the arrival of Admiral Dewey in New York in September and then to proceed, after consultation with the admiral as to location, etc., to purchase the home with whatever funds they may at that time have in hand.

"We will purchase the home if not another dollar is received so that the question now is whether the patriotic and generous people of the country will permit the purchase of a home at the nation's capital for the hero of Manila with twenty or thirty thousand dollars" say the committee in making their last appeal. Therefore those who desire to contribute are urged by the committee to contribute at once. All contributions should be forwarded to Hon. Ellis S. Roberts, treasurer of the United States, Washington, D. C., who will issue souvenir receipts for the same.

CARS RUNNING

On Big Consolidated Line in Cleveland

THE DETECTIVES SECURE STRONG EVIDENCE

And Arrests May be Made Today

By Associated Press to The Sun.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 28.—Forty-eight hours have elapsed since any riotous demonstrations had occurred in connection with the street car strike, and the authorities are today greatly encouraged over the situation. The Big Consolidated officials stated that cars were being operated on every line in the system. Even on the Union street line, which runs through a district thickly populated with iron workers and where it had generally been believed trouble would inevitably come when an attempt should be made by the company to resume operations, cars were running on schedule time today without any trouble. It was said that the detectives who had been hunting for the miscreants who placed nitroglycerine on the tracks and blew up a Euclid avenue car last Sunday night, had finally secured some strong evidence bearing on the case and would make at least two arrests before night fall. A reward of $1,000 will be paid by the Big Consolidated upon the arrest and conviction of the guilty parties.

Frank Currier Wants to be a Congressman

By Associated Press to The Sun.

CONCORD, N. H., July 28.—Hon. Frank D. Currier was in town today in attendance upon the supreme court and in answer to a question by a representative of the Associated Press said that he should be a candidate for the congressional nomination in this district next year; that when he withdrew in favor of Congressman Clark in 1896, his friends expected him to be a candidate after Mr. Clark had held the two terms which for many years have been accorded Congressmen from this district and that while it is too early to begin a canvass now, when the proper time comes he should solicit the support of the republicans of the district.

GIRLS STRIKE

BECAUSE THEY CANNOT GET MORE PAY.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

PEBODY, Mass., July 28.—Thirty girls employed as pasters at the shoe factory of J. H. Crobore & Co., struck today. They claim that they cannot make 70 cents a day and they desire a readjustment in wages. The firm claims that it can get plenty of help at the prices now paid.

BOYS WILL STRIKE.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

DUCK MILLS TRUST.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

MANCHESTER, July 28.—It has transpired from the sale to the Citizens Trust & Deposit Co. of Baltimore of the Columbia Mills Co. of Columbia, S. C., that a trust of all the duck mills in the country had been formed. The capital is $10,000,000 and there are several mills located in the vicinity of Baltimore. The president of the Columbia mills is Hon. Frank P. Carpenter of this city. The sale will be completed next week.

1,000,000 GIVEN AWAY.

By a special and particular arrangement with the manufacturers of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, free trial bottles of this great medicine for the Kidneys, Liver, Bladder and Blood, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia and Constipation, will be sent absolutely free, postpaid, to all persons suffering from any of the diseases mentioned above who will send their full name and post office address to the DR. DAVID KENNEDY CORPORATION, Rondout, N. Y., providing they mention this paper when they write.

A very simple test to determine whether your Kidneys or Bladder are diseased is to put some of your urine in a glass tumbler and let it stand 24 hours; if it has a sediment or a cloudy, ropy or stringy appearance, if it is pale or discolored, you do not need a physician to tell you that you are in a dangerous condition. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy speedily cures such serious symptoms as a pain in the back, inability to hold urine, a burning scalding pain in passing it. Frequent desire to urinate especially at night, the staining of linen by your urine and all unpleasant and dangerous effects produced on the system by the use of whiskey and beer.

By a searching investigation it was found that over 91 per cent of the people who sent for a sample bottle were so much benefited by its use that they purchased a large sized bottle of their druggist, which in most cases cured them, while in some rare instances it took as many as two or even three bottles to effect a permanent cure.

Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is sold by all druggists at $1.00 a large bottle, or six bottles for $5.00.

BODY IDENTIFIED

Antonio Cassago Drowned in East River

HE WAS A BIG SILK DEALER

Had About $800 in His Possession

By Associated Press to The Sun.

NEW YORK, July 28.—The body of the unknown man found yesterday in the East river was identified today at the morgue as that of Antonio Cassaga, a wealthy retired silk dealer of New Britain, Conn., formerly of New York. About a week ago, Mr. Cassaga came to this city with $1,000 to start his son in business. He stayed at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Teresa Igina. He left the house Sunday afternoon with more than $800 in his possession to go to Central Park for a walk. He was not seen alive afterwards. No money was found in his possession when the body was discovered and his daughter, who identified the body, believes he was robbed and murdered. The police are investigating.

BIG STRIKE PROBABLE.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

CHICAGO, July 28.—Officials of organized labor here declare the brickmakers' strike is liable to precipitate a general walking out of the building trades unions with forces 50,000 strong thus tying up building operations in the city. Committees from the brickmakers' alliance began their work today.

The brickmakers demand not only an increase in wages but the recognition of the brickmakers' union. What success the strikers will have in their efforts to call out other branches of the building trades will not be determined until the various unions have considered the matter.

FRENCH CABINET

LISTENED TO SUMMARY OF FRANCO-AMERICAN CONVENTION.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

PARIS, July 28.—At the meeting of the cabinet this morning, the Minister of Foreign Affairs, M. Delcasse, briefly summarized the provisions of the Franco-American convention.

M. Delcasse also disposed of the story, which has created a great sensation, to the effect that the Czar of Russia had telegraphed to Prince Louis Napoleon on his birthday expressing the cordial hope that each year would bring the prince nearer the realization of the best wishes of his friends "which it was alleged the Czar's message [illegible] numerous in France as in Russia." pure invention and that it had been concocted in Paris.

WRECK OF PORTIA

Captain Farrell is Blamed for it.

His Master's Certificate Has Been Suspended for Six Months—The Report of the Marine Court Given Out Today.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

HALIFAX, N. S., July 28.—The marine court, which investigated the loss of the Red Cross passenger steamer Portia on Big Fish Shoal, to the westward of Halifax Harbor on the night of July 10, has condemned her commander, Captain W. J. Farrell, as responsible for the wreck, and has suspended his master's certificate for six months, but gives him a mate's certificate for that period in consideration of his heroic conduct in saving the lives of those on board, all of whom escaped except a little boy.

The decision was delivered at noon today by Captain W. H. Smith, R. N. R., Canadian wreck commissioner, who with Captains Lewis and Anderson, nautical assessors, was associated in the inquiry. The court comments at considerable length on the circumstances leading up to the disaster and from the evidence draws the conclusion that Captain Farrell was guilty of several grave errors in the navigation of his ship, notably running at full speed throughout thick fog, relying too much on dead reckoning to obtain his position and not sounding often enough.

Captain Smith says:

"The vessel was navigated from Cape Sable by dead reckoning which is not usual in coasting steamers. The course northeast by east half east, set and steered after noon was not a safe and proper one, as the master and officers stated that no tide or current was taken into consideration. The sounding of 72 or 73 fathoms obtained at 6 p. m., should have warned the master that he was to the northward and eastward of the position he had given the vessel and the total neglect of the lead afterwards was unjustifiable. The master states that he was steering for the automatic whistling buoy to the south of Sambro Island and he considered the ship was 17 miles from it in a west southwest direction, and expected to hear the sound of a bomb on Sambro before getting into dangerous proximity to the land. Taking into consideration the previous soundings, he was not warranted in placing such reliance in the position of the ship at that time and had he taken another cast of the lead soon after six o'clock he would no doubt have been convinced of his error.

"It is also quite possible that slight changes may have taken place in the deviation of the compass and no opportunity was offered to check them. The second mate stated that such was the case.

"In this instance, when the master had found a depth of fifty-two or fifty-three fathoms of water with hard bottom, at six o'clock in the evening by sounding, he allowed his ship to proceed upon the same course and speed for nearly fifty minutes afterwards and went to the saloon to take his dinner and only returned to the bridge five or ten minutes before his vessel struck upon a shoal, the speed of the ship having been reduced scarcely five minutes previous.

"Shipping companies no doubt are anxious for their masters to make very quick voyages but written rules should be issued to the officers intimating that no breach of the navigation laws would be sanctioned and they will gain the public confidence when this is known."

The decision proceeds to declare Captain Farrell at fault in six respects, namely: Starting at full speed through thick fog; not blowing the steamer's whistle according to regulations when stopping to take soundings, steering a course that was not justified; absenting himself from the deck when the safety of the vessel required his personal supervision; totally neglecting use of the lead between 6 p. m. and the time of the disaster, which materially contributed to the wreck; and making no allowance for tide or current at any time during the voyage.

The stranding of the ship is attributed to the fact that too fine a course was steered after noon and 4 p. m., during the thick fog and probably to the influence of a tide augmented by a surface current.

The court recommends that trained quartermasters should be employed to steer passenger steamers, as it is nearly impossible to rely upon the knowledge and skill of many of the men employed as helmsmen.

TOOK HIS LIFE

Young Lawyer Jumped From Fall River Boat

HE WAS ARRESTED FOR FORGERY

He Left Several Letters Behind Him

By Associated Press to The Sun.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., July 28.—Josiah Sullivan, a well known lawyer of this city, and at one time a partner of William J. Hawkins, the young attorney arrested on Saturday night last on the charge of forgery, has committed suicide.

It is surmised he jumped overboard from the steamer Puritan, which plies between New York and Fall River, Mass., during the evening of July 25. A passenger registered as Josiah Sullivan was missing from the steamer on July 25, and in his stateroom were found letters stating that he was deeply involved financially and that he had resolved to end his life.

A letter found in Sullivan's stateroom said:

"This room was occupied by Mr. Josiah Sullivan of Rochester, N. Y., who jumped overboard and into the deep ocean to end his troubles" and that his life had been a happy one [illegible] until he became [illegible] with a [illegible] which he [illegible] to resuscitate and broke him down physically and financially, and brought ruin to his poor friends, which he feels for more than himself."

The last named company has its offices in New York city.

THE FINAL ACTS

Of the Peace Conference at the Hague

ARE BEING ARRANGED TODAY.

M. Bourgeois' Plan Will be Accepted

By Associated Press to The Sun.

THE HAGUE, July 28.—The committee charged with the duty of drafting the final acts of the conference met this morning with all the principal delegates in attendance. The impossibility was admitted of arriving at an immediate understanding regarding the form in which the powers not signing the convention might adhere to the decisions of the conference. The committee decided to accept the proposal of M. Bourgeois of the French delegation that the question be left to be settled by subsequent negotiations and that the arbitration convention remain open pending settlement of the form of adhesion.

The plenary conference met this afternoon for final acceptance of the arbitration convention with the preamble. The signatures will be appended tomorrow after the closing of the sitting of the conference.

YOU HAVE HERE THE PATTERNS FOR THE NEW PUFF CROWN WHICH IS TO BE WORN WITH THE NEW FALL COAT. THE COMING COAT SLEEVE WILL BE EXTREMELY TIGHT, AS SHOWN IN THE DESIGN, BUT THE COLLAR, AS YOU SEE, IS TALL AND FLARING. IT MAY BE LINED WITH A BRIGHT SHADE OF SILK. THE UP-TO-DATE DOG BLANKET MATCHES THE COAT OF THE MISTRESS.

THE NEW FALL COAT AS IT IS NOW BEING MADE IN THE WORKSHOPS OF THE FASHIONABLE LONDON AND NEW YORK TAILORS; IT IS TO BE LONG AND TIGHT, AND THE SLEEVES ARE VERY BELL-SHAPED.

THE TRIMMED SAILOR HAT.

How to Make Over One That's in Need of a Mid-Summer Renovation.

A WORD ABOUT THE SKIRT TO COME.

New York, July 18.—We decided last week that it was not too early to speak of fall styles, even though the day might be a scorcher and the humidity past endurance. We know, you and I, that fashions are always interesting, and we realize the cooling properties of a good look ahead into the days when summer sun shall melt into delightful October.

Well, as to the autumn dress skirts, they will be made very long and extremely tight, much closer in the hips than those of summer. Think of it! A very fashionable New York woman who arrived home on the steamer the other day from Europe, bringing with her not only a summer supply, but part of an autumn wardrobe as well, assured me that she was actually unable to walk with ease in her new cloth skirts, and, as for being seated, she was obliged to perform the act in a curious way, quite serpentine. She said all the Paris skirts were being made in that manner, and that Paris women were actually starving themselves in an effort to get thin. She gave me, at the same time, a rule for banting, but that is another story, of course.

The skirts, besides being tight around the hips, are also close-fitting around the feet, and they are long. Imagine the positively awful possibilities for either a too rotund figure or an ungraceful one. What enormities in fashion may not be perpetrated with these mermaid skirts clinging to the figure and "swirled" around the feet. But we shall hope for the best. She, graceful thing, weighing 115 and measuring five feet eight, was a dream in a close gray one, silvery and shining with silver braid. There was a yoke of white satin and a turn over collar and a pair of cuffs of turquoise blue, matched to a contrast with the gray. Ah! such we heard! Farewell cream and mayonnaise! Welcome dry toast and weak tea!

THE FRENCH FOOT.

Why not tell all at once? We all wear them. The French foot is "coming in." And a distressingly technical innovation it is, going out. The fashionable French shoe for autumn will be very broad, and not too pointed. A [illegible] the only thing against it, but what cannot one stand when one is not compelled to squeeze one's Trilbys into a pointed shoe? The toes are tipped with leather cut in fancy patterns, [illegible] [illegible] fancy set of buttons, if they are laced [illegible].

We have fallen [illegible] ways this month [illegible] have come in with [illegible] We are [illegible] by them from the tiny ribbon [illegible] through the [illegible] making it a thing of wonder and newness. Ribbon, strange to say, has not gone up under the demand, and a woman of my acquaintance who goes to the watering places each summer to sell ribbons at private sale in the summer hotels, says that she is able to sell white ribbon of all widths two cents cheaper than last season.

Skirts are trimmed with ribbons, and you see the ribbon laid flat to form a pattern, or gathered into tiny twisted trimmings that somehow take shape as they are sewed upon the gown.

A girl who met with an accident to the front of her dress skirt by which a pale blue material was quite ruined with lemonade was able, by this ribbon fashion, to quite renew her gown.

Taking a great quantity of black taffeta silk, cut into one-inch widths, to look like narrow ribbon, she gathered the silk down the middle with a very coarse thread of silk and pulled the thread up until the ribbon made a beautiful shirring. This she sewed, row after row, upon her dress skirt, until the whitened portions were either hidden or worn in shadow.

EARLY FALL ETONS.

Another summer fashion is noticed. And that is the wearing of the Eton. From trunk and cupboard it has [illegible] [illegible] shops. You see it everywhere. It is short, many still end [illegible] and, having no point in the back, it is not properly an Eton. It is very open in front, with no fastening, and it has the very broad, turned-back revers. These, being generally white, can be kept fresh, and the Eton is an invigorating sight.

A very audacious woman seated upon the piazza of a Saratoga hotel gave voice to the probable reason for the belated popularity of the Eton. "The weather," said she, "is hotter than it was in July. But the coat is worn [illegible]. You see it is because shirt waists have faded and are not so pretty, so, to hide their defects, the Eton is worn." A heresy! But she was right. Certainly a multitude of minor defects, such as [illegible] stripes, distorted arm holes, wrinkled from their moorings by the tipsy of fashion, collars that no longer set [illegible] upon the neck, and elbows that are thin, can be concealed under the friendly little Eton or bolero.

The sailor hat is giving way. It is undergoing the metamorphosis of age. Having outlived its freshness, it is being treated with a greater degree of consideration. The plain little band which was sewed around the crown in June is now removed, and in its place there is a big, soft trimming of maline or tulle, soft silk or chiffon, anything that makes a big crush. To keep it in shape there is a roll of crinoline, of course, and the chiffon, or tulle, or silk, is wrapped around it.

NEW SAILOR TRIMMINGS.

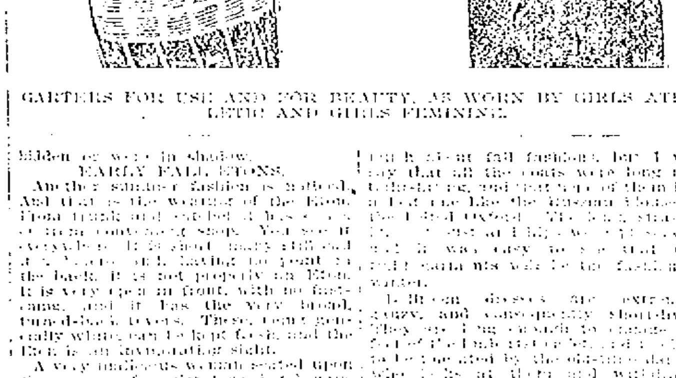

Out of deference to summer, a daisy chain is carried around the crown and completed at the back with two standing quills. Or, if the sailor be broad, it is dampened, turned up at one side and trimmed with tulle and a rose garden. The hat, too, as the face will bear it, is set a little back, to show the waves that must be persuaded to lie upon the forehead nilly wily. There is a way to keep these waves in. The hair is wet with alcohol, and the tongs are held a long time, surely until the hair is dry.

I must not, at this stage, talk too much about fall fashions, but I will say that all the coats were long and [illegible], and that [illegible] of them had a [illegible] like the [illegible] or [illegible]. [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] it was easy to see that [illegible] garments will be the fashion of winter.

[illegible] dresses are extremely [illegible], and consequently short-lived. They [illegible] enough to change the [illegible] to be [illegible] by the [illegible] [illegible] at them and [illegible] that he could never [illegible] through the [illegible] that [illegible] upon the face.

The veil, it is easily now that the [illegible] from the [illegible] to poppy [illegible] as of thin white gauze, with or without dots. It is loosely [illegible] over the hat brim and down over the chin, enveloping the face as in a [illegible] haze. It [illegible] has never been questioned. It [illegible] all defects from freckles to wrinkles. Do not, under any consideration, draw the veil tightly under the chin; rather allow it to fall in [illegible] loose folds.

HELEN WARD.

GARTERS FOR USE AND FOR BEAUTY, AS WORN BY GIRLS ATHLETIC AND GIRLS FEMININE.

EDNA MAY, THE SUCCESSFUL AMERICAN GIRL, WHO SAYS "GIRLS SHOULD DO WHAT THEY LOVE BEST."

SHALL OUR GIRLS GO ON THE STAGE.

Read What Three Great Actresses Say Upon the Possibilities of Success and the Evil and Good of Stage Life.

It is coming the time of year when new theatrical companies go out. All summer the managers have been forming the casts that play the dramas, and from all quarters new aspirants have been pouring in begging for "a chance" to win honor and money upon the stage.

There was a time when stage work was not considered dignified for a girl, but these days have passed away. The good woman of the stage is as respected as the professional woman in any other field.

But of its temptations of life on the road there will always be a chapter to write. A girl, away from home, flattered and feted, is apt to suffer from the malady of having "her head turned." The stage cannot therefore be called "as safe as a church" for a girl; neither is it necessarily bad.

With a view to ascertaining how the stage, both from a moral and from a professional viewpoint, is seen by our leading actresses, the editor of the woman's page wrote to three well-known stars—Edna May, of New York; Ellen Terry, of London, and Ellaline Terriss, of the Theatre Royal, Glasgow.

And this is what they said:

Dear Editor:

I think girls should do what they love best, and if they possess enthusiasm, experience will soon teach them if they have the requisite ability or not. I think it the most delightful profession imaginable, and I don't think any words of mine or of any one else will deter any born actress from finding scope for her ability; and, on the other hand, you will find the wrong sort and the black sheep in every profession. Yours very truly,

Edna May.

Dear Sir:

There can be little doubt that the majority of young women who join the theatrical profession do so without any particular qualification for it whatever. Unfortunately the Cinderella of the arts has no means of questioning her sisters as to their motives, their needs or their ambitions, there being no "formal" introduction necessary to her in the shape of some standard examination.

In writing this, please don't think I mean that it is only the very clever who attain popularity. There are many of us who have the good fortune to be looked upon kindly by an indulgent public, and, through some personal magnetism, or whatever it may be, helped out of mediocrity. But I mean in all cases of successful women who are constantly before the public there must be something more to claim attention than a pretty face. Never was there a profession that wanted good recruits more than ours; never was there a calling with greater opportunities to succeed—given the many qualifications.

Let those that start in the race be without them, and a consumptive might as well think of reaching the North Pole. Don't imagine that the life is pleasant and easy; it is very, very hard indeed, and even when you have reached the topmost rung, the fight is fiercest to hold the prize from the thousands who are trying to pull you down. Ask yourself if you have patience, ambition, application and determination added to all else, and if this be the case, embark on the career you have chosen, if you have answered your questions correctly, you will find that there never were such opportunities to be successful.

There is only one answer, and that is, "It depends absolutely on the girl herself." Yours,

Ellaline Terriss.

To the Editor:

Only those who are gifted by the gods in some special degree should seek distinction on the stage. The rest would be wise to make for themselves some other career. Yours sincerely,

Ellen Terry.

NEWPORT CHAIN FAD.

A curious little fad from Newport decrees that the chain shall hang from the neck, with [illegible] upon it, [illegible] at [illegible] quite, fan or whatever [illegible] may hold in the [illegible]. An [illegible] pretty chain of [illegible] gold [illegible] the neck of a pretty [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] to [illegible] or a [illegible] [illegible], and from the chain hung a square carriage [illegible] of gold, with a spray of tiny diamonds [illegible] across one side of the [illegible].

The fancy for the little chain worn around the throat is [illegible] [illegible] in [illegible] either [illegible] of [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] their usefulness is obvious.

THOUGH MISS TERRY IS EVIDENTLY AGAINST THE STAGE FOR THE MAJORITY OF GIRLS, SHE HAS UNQUESTIONABLY ACHIEVED A GREAT SUCCESS HERSELF UPON STAGE LINES.

FIFTY YEARS IN TROUSERS.

An Interview With Dr. Mary Walker in Which She Speaks of Her Coming Book and of Her Long Eventful Life.

Washington, July 17.—Dr. Mary Walker stepped off her wheel upon the curb, drew her bicycle toward her, arranged the pedal and looked around. As usual a crowd had gathered, for Dr. Mary is not a usual sight. Dressed in a neat, broadcloth suit, with shining tile, the suit set off by a bright red necktie, the doctor is, to say the very least, unconventional. Yet she bore the scrutiny well. "The only self-made man in America" was used to being stared at.

"What are you going to do next?" asked a friend, a reporter of this newspaper, stepping up to Dr. Mary from the crowd that had gathered.

"Nothing," said she, with a quick smile. "I am [illegible] nowadays and getting ready to die."

"And why not?"

"Yes," and the doctor smiled again.

For the past two years people have been asking, "What has become of Dr. Mary Walker?" But no one could answer. When last heard from she was lecturing. Then she dropped out of sight, and nothing was known of her again until she reappeared in Washington, apparently as young as ever, and certainly as pretty. One day last week she went to the photographer's to be taken asleep as she will look in death. And then the public heard of her again.

It was stated that during these intervals of silence Dr. Mary Walker entered a convent and lived in absolute seclusion. Yet such is far from being the case. On the contrary, she retired, like any person of means, to a very nice farm near Oswego, and there lives, writes and enjoys herself in retirement. As she herself says, "It is quiet and peaceful here, and nobody knows what I suffer in town."

Yet she is the same little blue figure you saw at the Centennial; the same short, gray curls fall over her coat collar, and she carries the same dainty little cane which is partly for convenience and partly from habit. Her coat to-day is cut a little more closely and more modishly, but otherwise she is the same Dr. Mary Walker of twenty years ago.

HER EARLY LIFE.

Mary Walker began her martyrdom when she was a girl. Born in 1832, she passed an uneventful girlhood until her father said to her one day: "Never wear corsets. Do not suffer your figure to be deformed by that steel cage." Mary was then sixteen, and her studies in anatomy were already begun under the direction of her father. The girl, looking at the feminine charts, saw the possibilities of the "steel cage," and took an awful dislike to it, a dislike which has lasted her half a century.

Just when Mary Walker began to wear pants she dates the term trousers is unknown. But it is certain that she was wearing them in the forties when a mere girl. She began to teach school at an early age, and in 1850 her first "pants" picture was taken. It shows her with a loose, Jenny Lind waist, with a skirt sewed to it. Another skirt falls to the knees over a pair of trousers that reach to the [illegible].

Meanwhile the girl taught school, studied medicine and wore her men's attire. The little skirt she changed often, sometimes it was short, sometimes long, but it always came to the knees. "It [illegible] [illegible]," she said to [illegible], in speaking of that time, "as though I never [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] rather a long [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] shorter.

DR. WALKER'S WAR RECORD.

"When I went to war," says she, "as a doctor I [illegible] my pants and a skirt that came to the knees, it was [illegible] to a woman's waist, of course. I wore no corset. During the four years of the war I [illegible] my hair [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] could know at sight that I was a woman. [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] wear pants than a skirt. Men will insult a skirt when they will not notice pants. Then a woman can earn a better living in pants than in skirts. I know you will not believe it, but at the present day there are dozens of women in Chicago who wear pants all the time exactly like men, and little cutaway coats and derby hats. Everybody thinks they are men. They earn much better wages dressed as men."

Dr. Walker was so brave during the war and rendered such signal service that Congress awarded her with a medal, which she now wears. After the war she went to England and created a great sensation over there.

Pants in those days were arrestable and rotten eggable, and Dr. Walker suffered the bitterness of both. Speaking of that time, she says: "No one knows what I endured. I was the first new woman. I made it possible for women to do all the great deeds she has accomplished since. But I suffered for it. Even now I am not appreciated. I have got to die before women will know what I have done for them." And then her bright eyes snapped sharply.

While in England Dr. Walker was persuaded to adopt a court dress, and, trying to look pretty, she had a suit made of tarlatan, which she wore over long pants. Another court suit was edged with black velvet. But the transparent skirt was not admired, and Dr. Walker went back to the thick one, and finally she discarded all skirts except the skirt of her Prince Albert coat, which she still wears. Her Prince Albert of to-day is modeled on the lines of the one worn by your clergyman, and is, perhaps, made off the same piece of broadcloth.

UNSUCCESSFUL IN MARRIAGE.

The romance in Dr. Walker's life occurred in 1867, when she married a man named Brown. At that time it is claimed that Dr. Walker was on good terms with her relative, Colonel Robert Ingersoll, but that friendship with him broke off when she married Brown.

About the marriage there is considerable mystery. Dr. Walker was about thirty five at the time, slender, petite, sweet-faced and very opinionated. It is said that she lived with Brown just three weeks, and the joke-makers declared that the family jar arose over a dispute as to who should wear the pants. The Doctor triumphed, and in a hasty moment packed up a boiled shirt, a pair of cuffs, a clean collar, a toothbrush and a necktie and left Brown. She has always thought marriage a failure since then, though she has been repeatedly asked to reconsider.

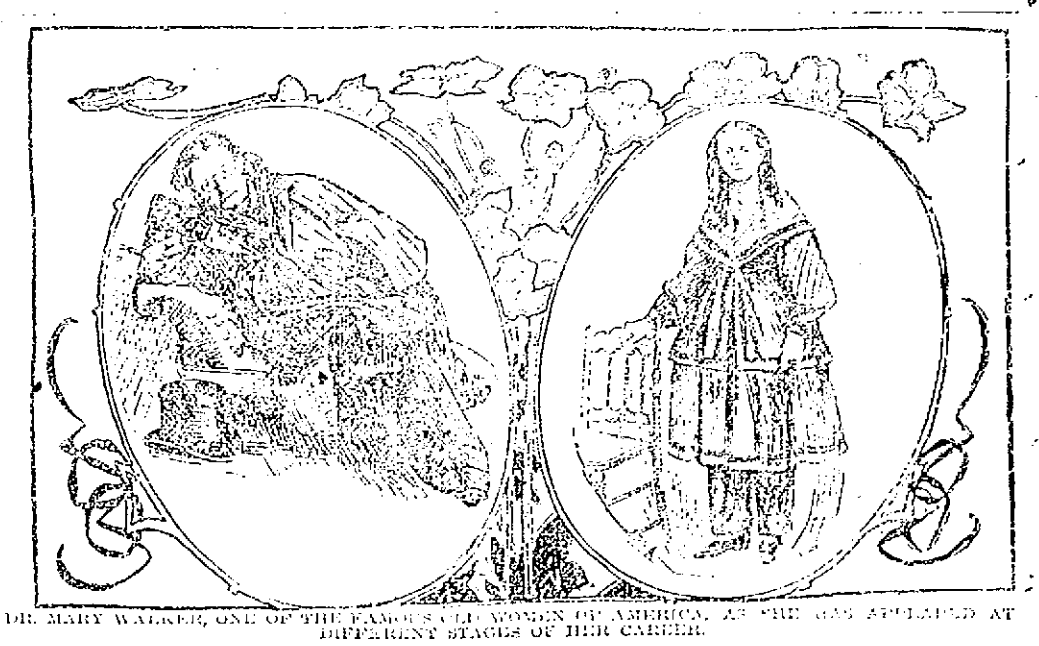

"How does Dr. Walker support herself?" is another question asked about this singular woman. Well, she has, in time past, and, perhaps, not so long ago, derived a nice income from her medical practice, at which she is very clever. "Once," says she, "I was called in to treat a man who was dying. I recognized him as one who had tried to [illegible] me. But I did my best for him and pulled him through."

It is stated that, in addition to this, Dr. Walker has a private income. She has earned large sums from her lecturing tours and also from her writings. She is unquestionably very talented, and can do many things well. Those who went to hear her in New York two years ago, to laugh, remained to listen and to listen with growing respect.

Those who know Dr. Walker describe her as very amiable. If she has ideas she keeps them to herself until asked [illegible]. She is an interesting talker, and can [illegible] any audience. When she visits Washington it is generally to do some important work for women, but it is said that this time she is here to get her book published. She may call it "Fifty Years in Pants; or, The Struggle of a Manly Woman," "A Plea for the Emancipation of Women," "From Skirts to Trousers," or "My Daily Walk and How I Enjoyed It," or "A Self-Made Man of Fifty-seven."

Under any title Dr. Walker is readable.

PITCHER'S BATTLE

Willis and Philippi Did Great Twirling

CHAMPIONS WON FROM COLONELS

Hamilton Made a Fine Catch

By Associated Press to The Sun.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 29. Yesterday's game was a pitchers' battle between Willis and Philippi. The latter showed a complete reversal of form from the day before when he had to be taken out of the box at the end of three innings. He had the champions at his mercy throughout the game, retiring them in five out of eight innings in order. He struck out five men and gave out one base on balls. The visitors could not do better than make seven hits, three of which they got in the first inning and three in the last, when they scored their runs.

Despite all this the colonels could not win. Willis was more effective. The Louisville got only six hits off his delivery and two bases on balls. They were unable to bunch. In only one inning, the seventh, did the home club get more than one hit and then no one scored. The misplay of the visitors counted for naught, as the colonels failed to score when errors were made. The sensational feature of the game was a one-handed running catch by Hamilton in the eighth that robbed Wagner of an easy home run. The play was cheered.

Star plays were made by members of both teams. Hamilton sprinted for Wagner's long fly in the second, taking it near the centre field fence, saving a homer. Collins made a brilliant running dash for Leach's pretty bunt, retiring the runner on a quick throw without waiting to recover. Ritchey made a difficult stop of Hamilton's hot grass cutter back of second retiring the swift little traveller while Clingman took a chance equally as hard offered by Tenney and got his man.

The score by innings:

Innings	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Boston	2	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	2	4

Earned runs—Boston 3. Stolen bases, Clarke, Wagner. Sacrifice hits, Tenney, Duffy. First base on balls, Off Philippi 2, off Willis 2. Struck out, by Philippi 5, by Willis 2. Double play, Wagner and Kelly. Left on bases, Louisville 7, Boston 4. Time 2h., 10m. Umpires, Manassau and Smith. Attendance, 1500.

The other games resulted as follows: At St. Louis—St. Louis 7, Brooklyn 0.
At Chicago—Philadelphia 4, Chicago 2.
At Baltimore, First game, Baltimore 6, Cleveland 1, second game, Baltimore 8, Cleveland 2.
At Pittsburg, First game, Washington 4, Pittsburg 1, second game, Pittsburg 6, Washington 5.

NORTH CHELMSFORD

JOHN LARKIN, OF THIS VILLAGE HAS ENLISTED IN THE 26th REGIMENT.

John Larkin of North Chelmsford, was accepted at Lawrence Thursday as a member of the 26th regiment. He is 30 years of age, a native of Bolton, England, and is a musician. Larkin has enlisted in the volunteer army. He enlisted in the 8th regiment band and was in the Cuban campaign. Later he was transferred to the 6th regiment band and served in Porto Rico under Bandmaster Stiles, who has been appointed leader of the 26th regiment's band. He is a brother of Clarence Larkin, the Lowell Musician. Larkin is above the age limit, but the fact of his having served previously permits of his enlisting within three months of the date of his discharge without regard to the age restriction. This time limit expires in two days. When informed of this fact, he remarked, "I'm in luck for once."

Mr. Joseph McCoons, section foreman for the Boston & Maine railroad in this village, is visiting his many friends in different parts of New Hampshire.

This afternoon the grand shooting tournament of the North Chelmsford Rod and Gun club at their grounds near Wannalancit Park is taking place. The club has as fine a range as there is in this vicinity. Many of the first-class marksmen from the Graniteville Rod and Gun club are expected to be present and the newly organized Rod and Gun club of West Chelmsford will also be well represented.

North Chemsford politicians do not seem to take much interest in the great contest for the office of lieutenant-governor as yet, but during the next few weeks there may be some effective work advanced by both the followers of Mr. Guild and Mr. Bates.

It is quite early yet to predict which man may capture the Chelmsford delegates, but it is generally thought that the Guild men will come out victorious.

This winter promises to be a good one for checkers in this village. Already the crack checker players are getting into the game and many matches will be held. The Clover Social club has a large number of good checker players, as has the St. John's T. A. society.

The Clipper Base Ball club has several open dates for ball games and they would be pleased to meet some of the best teams in Lowell. All challenges should be sent to Manager John J. Gray of this village.

Miss Edith Merrill of North Chelmsford is to observe her 16th birthday next week, Aug. 4 5, and a large number of invitations have been issued. Mr. Ayer of the Falconheight cafe will cater.

OUTING OF YOUNG PEOPLE OF THE WESTMINSTER CHURCH.

A jolly party of young people from the Westminster Presbyterian church enjoyed a most delightful outing on the Merrimack river the destination of the excursionists being Harmony Grove. The affair was supervised by Mr. Albert Johnson, who by his efficiency proved himself to be the right man in the right place. In the party were about 77 people and they left the Pawtucket landing at 7.15 o'clock on the popular steamer May Queen. On board the boat a light lunch was provided and an excellent program of popular airs furnished by the Excelsior orchestra, Louis Weiler, leader. After a brief stop at Harmony Grove the return trip was made at 10 o'clock.

MILLIE L.

"TOMMY" McDERMOTT'S RUNNER TOOK FIRST MONEY.

"Tom" McDermott's running horse, Millie L., scored a complete triumph at Combination Park last night. In the half mile running race, "Millie L." took first money in two straight heats. She was ridden by Young Flood, who handled the horse well and brought her under the wire in good time. Millie L. had a walk over in each heat, her time being 53 1-2 and 54 1-4.

On Thursday evening the horse ran second in a field of fast ones. Master McDermott has pitted his horse against the fastest in this section of the country and she has always made a very creditable showing, never failing to win her share of the prize money for her enthusiastic young owner.

"Millie L." will be seen on the Fair Grounds track during the Middlesex North Agricultural fair and her owner intends to give her by careful training every opportunity to display her speed.

Tommy's friends are congratulating him today on the admirable exhibition given by his stepper at Combination park during the present week.

DREYFUS IF FREE

Will Not Sue State For Damages

BUT WILL ACCEPT ONE FRANC

He Refuses to Coin Money From Wife's Tears

By Associated Press to The Sun.

PARIS, July 29.—Dreyfus' attorneys, Messrs. Demange and Labori, tell your correspondent that when their client is acquitted he will not sue for damages but as a matter of principle will merely demand an indemnity of one franc [illegible] cents.

In France the law recognizes the right of the victim of a judicial error to damages from the state, which must proceed against all denunciators or perjurers responsible for the condemnation, prosecuting them criminally and before civil courts also, in order to recover if possible the sums paid to the person wrongly convicted. Should Dreyfus be acquitted, public opinion would insist that he be granted almost anything he should ask.

In such a case Du Paty de Clam, General Gonse, De Pellieux, De Boisdeffre, Mercier and others implicated in his conviction would be sued jointly by the state to recover the indemnity.

This would mean ruin for them all, for neither is very wealthy. Some of Dreyfus' friends strenuously advise to follow this course which they consider just not only on his own account but for its moral effect.

Dreyfus however, steadfastly refuses to "make money out of his wife's tears and suffering." He simply intended to draw his back pay as an officer during colonial service but the French law does not allow this. Therefore 20 cents is all the unfortunate captain will ask for his physical tortures and mental anguish for five years.

PATRIOTIC MEET

Of Tewksbury Grange Held Last Evening

VERY INTERESTING PAPERS WERE READ

Clarence Clark Won Apple Biting Contest

The much talked of patriotic meeting under the auspices of the Tewksbury Grange, last evening, in the Grange hall, proved a grand success, both in attendance, sociability and instruction. As many of the papers read were masterly efforts. Mr. Geo. Fairbank read a very interesting paper on the "History of Progress," and was followed by a very pleasing vocal selection, "Break the News to Mother," by Miss Jeannette W. Pike, a recent graduate of the Tewksbury high school and well known in Lowell musical circles.

Miss Fontaine read a paper on "Our Spanish War, Could It Have Been Avoided?" There was then singing of a medley of national airs, by a chorus of 15 voices. Mr. Albert S. Moore then read a paper "What Shall We Do with the Philippines?" Miss Edith Forristall, in her usual efficient style, gave piano selections, also acted as accompanist for the singing and furnished music for the dancing, which followed. One of the most pleasing features of the evening's entertainment was the apple biting contest, between young ladies and gentlemen. Strings were strung along the hall in clothes line fashion and at intervals were suspended small strings, to each of which apples were attached by their stems. The person obtaining the largest bite was to obtain the prize. Some of the contestants in their attempt to "swallow an apple, in one bite, would receive a severe blow in the face, the apple rebounding in "punching bag style" with considerable force. This made each competitor act with caution. The prize winner eventually proved to be Clarence Clark and he for his efforts came into possession of a box of [illegible] biscuits.

There will be a grand reunion of Granges of this vicinity, including the Tewksbury, Dracut and Andover Granges, at Haggett's Pond, Thursday, August 24.

The Grange lawn party postponed from last Tuesday, will take place next Tuesday.

It will be decided tomorrow when and where the Centre Congregational Sunday school picnic will be held.

GUILT CHARGED

Tewksbury Farmer Appears in U. S. Court

FOR SENDING OBJECTIONABLE MAIL MATTER

He Was Held in $1600 Bail.

D. E. Sproule, a Tewksbury farmer, appeared before United States Commissioner Fiske in the United States district court Wednesday on the charge of having sent objectionable letters to one Harry L. Shedd of South Lowell last June and whose case was continued until Thursday, waived examination and was held in $1000 for the September term of the United States district court.

Sproule admits having sent the letter but claims that he was not aware that his doing so was in any way a violation of the law. Mr. Fiske fixed his bail first at $500 and Louis Smith, a Tewksbury friend of the defendant, offered to go on for him. Then District Attorney Casey put in a request that under the circumstances the prisoner having practically admitted his guilt, the bail be raised from $500 to $1000. The bail was raised. Smith was unable to show possession of property to that amount and Sproule was committed to jail.

The arrest was made by a United States official at the instigation of Mr. Shedd, who made the complaint.

APPLE BITING CONTEST AT TEWKSBURY.

C. F. KEYES, - - Auctioneer

THURSDAY, August 3rd.

AT FOUR O'CLOCK P. M.

Mortgagee's sale of a two-tenement house, store, and about 3035 square feet of land at Nos. 193 and 195 Broadway.

I will sell on the premises, rain or shine, without limit or reserve, a two-tenement house, store and about 3035 square feet of land, at Nos. 193 and 195 Broadway. The house contains fourteen rooms and a store, parlor, sitting room, kitchen, three sleeping rooms, pantry and two finished attics, with the upstairs tenement; the store, sitting room, kitchen, three sleeping rooms, pantry and finished attic with the lower tenement. It is in good repair, will pay for gas, separate cemented cellars, with water closets in same and rents for about $35.00 a month. The store has two large windows, with a large door in the centre. It would make a fine meat, grocery, or in fact, any kind of a store.

The lot has a frontage of about 33feet on Broadway and runs about 92 feet in depth; it is all concreted around the house and there is a large yard in the rear.

LOCATION. The property is located on the northerly side of Broadway, it is the second lot from corner of Mt. Vernon street coming east. Electric cars pass the door every twelve minutes. It is but two minutes' walk to several industries and about five minutes to other large industries. It is close to schools and churches and taking everything into consideration, I think this is an excellent chance for investors.

Terms: $200 to be paid to the auctioneer as soon as the property is struck off. Other terms at sale.

CLARA WHITING, Executrix.

FRIDAY, August 4th.

AT FIVE O'CLOCK P. M.

Administratrix' sale of the beautiful Courtney residence, barn and about 8700 square feet of land at No. 69 Third street, Centralville.

To settle up the estate of the late Wm. F. Courtney, I will sell on the premises, rain or shine, on the day advertised above to the highest bidder, the beautiful residence at No. 69 Third street, Centralville.

THE HOUSE contains eleven rooms, bath and pantry, large cemented cellar partitioned for vegetables, preserves, etc.; also set tubs in cellar. There is a parlor, sitting room, dining room, kitchen, two sleeping rooms and pantry on the first floor, five large beautiful chambers and bath on the second floor, hot and cold water, furnace heat, marble mantles in parlor, sitting room and dining room; winding stairs from front hall. It is in good repair and with a few hundred dollars laid out on this property, it would make it one of the best residences in Centralville.

THE BARN is about 28x25 feet; it has good flooring, can stable three horses, five carriages, the cellar is divided, and it makes a grand place for hens.

THE LOT has a frontage on Third street of about 62 1-2 feet and runs to the extreme depth of about 155 feet. It has an excellent lot of apple, peach, pear and other kinds of fruit trees, making about 16 in all. It is a beautiful lot with plenty of room.

LOCATION. The place is situated on the southerly side of Third street, about 100 yards from Bridge. It cannot be surpassed for a residential site, this being an excellent neighborhood. It is but one minute's walk to the electric cars on Bridge street; you can walk to old post office square in 10 minutes, so you see it is quite handy to the city and still in as fine a residential portion of the city as could be desired. It is close to schools and churches, and viewing this property over with all its advantages, it will certainly make as fine a residence as there is in Centralville. Parties looking to purchase a nice home should see the place at once.

TERMS. $500 to be paid to the auctioneer at time and place of sale. Other terms at sale. For further information call at the office of the auctioneer.

By order of ALICE COURTNEY.

SATURDAY, August 4th.

AT FIVE O'CLOCK P. M.

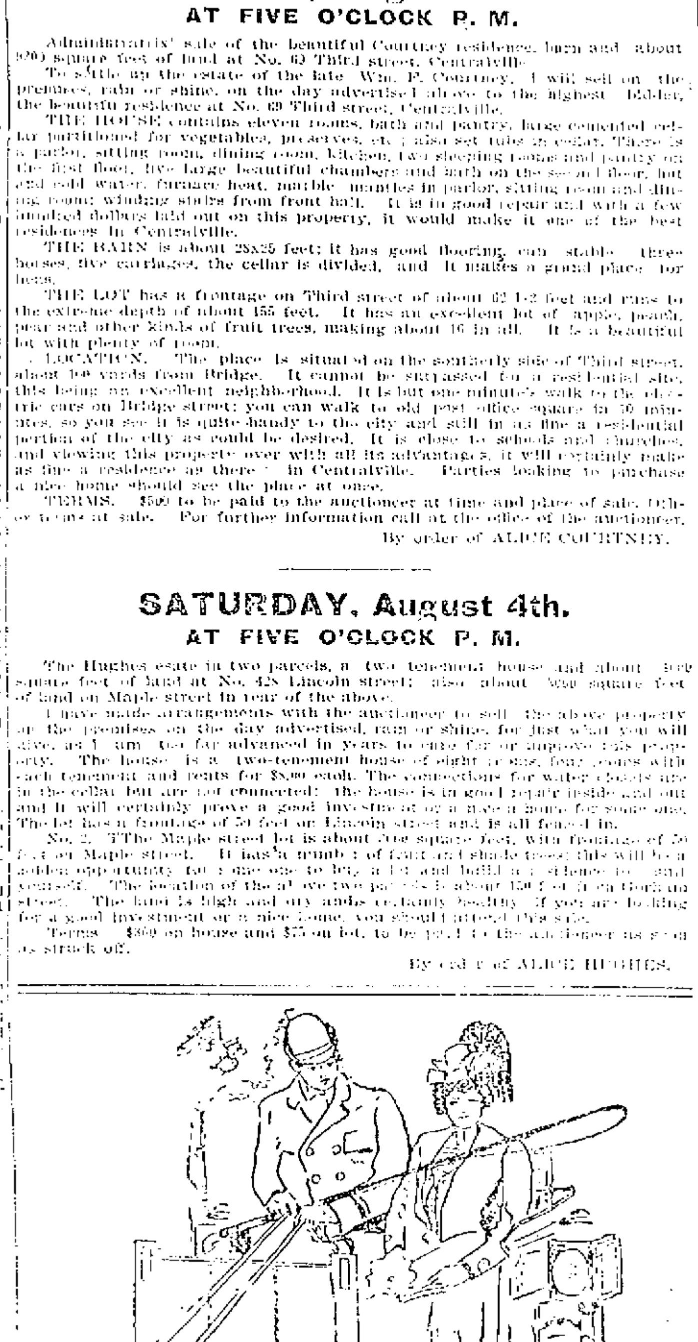

The Hughes estate in two parcels, a two tenement house and about [illegible] square feet of land at No. 428 Lincoln street; also about [illegible] square feet of land on Maple street in rear of the above.

I have made arrangements with the auctioneer to sell the above property on the premises on the day advertised, rain or shine, for just what you will give, as I am too far advanced in years to care for or improve this property. The house is a two-tenement house of eight rooms, four rooms with each tenement and rents for $8.00 each. The connections for water closets are in the cellar but are not connected; the house is in good repair inside and out and it will certainly prove a good investment or a nice home for some one. The lot has a frontage of 50 feet on Lincoln street and is all fenced in.

No. 2. The Maple street lot is about [illegible] square feet, with frontage of 50 feet on Maple street. It has a number of fruit and shade trees; this will be a golden opportunity for some one to buy a lot and build a residence for yourself. The location of the above two parcels is about 150 feet from Gorham street. The land is high and dry and is certainly healthy. If you are looking for a good investment or a nice home, you should attend this sale.

Terms: $300 on house and $75 on lot, to be paid to the auctioneer as soon as struck off.

By order of ALICE HUGHES.

LORD SALISBURY, Who as Premier of England Refuses to Recede on the Warlike Movements Against the Transvaal.

A DIRE CALAMITY

Would be War With Dependent States

By Associated Press to The Sun.

LONDON, July 29.—In the House of Commons yesterday, the Colonial Office vote furnished the Liberals with an opportunity for a debate upon the government's policy in the Transvaal. H. Campbell-Bannerman, the Liberal leader, said he thought in view of the negotiations pending, that reticence and reserve must rule debate. While he did not sympathize with Boer opposition to franchise extension, he saw nothing from beginning to end of the story to justify armed intervention. War in South Africa with one of the dependent states would be one of the direst calamities possible. The speaker pleaded for further friendliness and prudence through Dutch sympathizers at the Cape. He saw no reason why this should not be a conspicuous success as a similar course had followed in Canada in time past.

The Secretary of State for the Colonies, Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, opened his speech in reply by declaring that Sir H. Campbell-Bannerman's language was calculated to embarrass the action of the government.

THE TRUE TONIC TRUE'S ELIXIR

Is not a stimulant but a blood purifying, cleansing and harmless mixture of vegetable ingredients which cures disorders of the digestive tract and expels worms. It does not whip the tired organs into temporary activity as most remedies do, followed by natural reaction, but True's Elixir removes the cause of the trouble and its tonic effects are due to good, sound digestion and pure blood, which follow its use. A favorite family medicine for 47 years. Its popularity is due entirely to its cures. Ask your druggist for it. 35 cents a bottle. DR. J. F. TRUE & CO., AUBURN, ME.

Police Claim That Curran Carried Dynamite

They Also Say That They Found Dynamite and Gun Powder in His Room—The Police Have Had Him Under Surveillance for Some Time.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

NEW YORK, July 29.—Francis J. Curran, 27 years old, formerly a motorman on the Second avenue line, and James Smith, 32 years old, a striking motorman of the same line, were held today in police court, the former in $1,000 bail and the latter as a suspicious person. They were arrested last night. The police say that Curran had in his possession a stick of dynamite fitted with four percussion caps. The stick is four inches long and three inches wide and is made so that it can be fitted to a rail. The piece of dynamite was rolled in paper and wrapped in insulating tape. The caps were so placed that they could be exploded when the stick was placed upon a car rail.

The detectives also say they found in Curran's room about 75 pounds of dynamite and giant powder and some fuses and caps. Curran, according to the police, has served two terms in Sing Sing prison for burglary. He has been under police surveillance for some time and is said to have experimented with small quantities of dynamite on the tracks of the Second avenue line. He was discharged from the Second avenue road prior to the recent strike.

Smith was arrested only because he was with Curran when the latter was taken into custody. When arraigned in the Yorkville court today, the detectives who arrested them stated that since the strike began, they had mingled with the strikers disguised as laborers. They frequently heard talk of using dynamite.

BOY WAS KILLED

Sad Fatality on Rock Street Today

LOAD OF LUMBER FELL ON HIM

He Died in the Ambulance on Way to Hospital

A sad fatality occurred near the corner of Rock and Willie streets about 10 o'clock this morning, the victim of which was 11-year-old Tommy Sullivan, son of Thomas Sullivan, a well known employe of the Lowell Gaslight company, residing on Claire street.

The boy was killed by the falling of a load of lumber from a passing wagon, the property, it is said, of A. L. Brooks & Co.

It is reported that the boy was at play on the sidewalk or near it and as the wagon on which the load of lumber was being carried passed him, the rollers which are on all lumber wagons, began to turn, precipitating the lead on to the unfortunate lad before he could escape.

Bystanders immediately went to the rescue and upon removing the heavy planks which pinned him down found him in an unconscious condition.

The ambulance was hastily summoned and the injured boy died in it on the way to St. John's hospital, a fracture of the skull being the direct cause of death.

At A. L. Brooks & Co's. The Sun reporter was informed over the telephone this noon that the company had not learned the full particulars of the accident, but had heard that the top of the load slipped over on to the boy while the latter was on the sidewalk.

The body was removed to the warerooms of Undertaker O'Donnell.

NATL. DAVIS DEAD

Prominent Citizen Passed Away This Morning

OF HEART DISEASE AT HIS HOME

Had Built Hundreds of Dwellings

AND PUBLIC INSTITUTIONS

Was Descended From Earliest Settlers

Nathaniel Davis, aged 81 years, one of Lowell's most highly respected citizens, died this morning at his late home, 80 Howard street, of heart disease.

He was born July 5, 1818, in Warner, N. H. He was descended from Philip Davis of Southampton, Eng., who was born in 1590. This Philip Davis had three sons, Gideon born in 1616; Philip, born in 1617; and Francis, born in 1620. They were all born in Southampton, England, and in 1638 they came to America in the ship Confidence, Capt John Jobson. Mr. Davis was descended in a direct line from Francis, one of these brothers, who settled in Amesbury and was a freeman there in 1645. He married Gertrude Emerson about 1650.

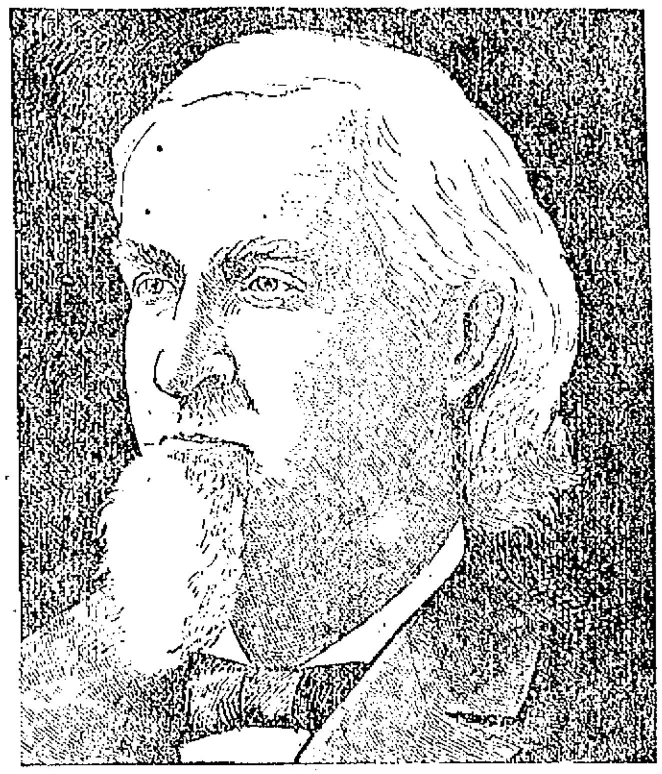

Aquila Davis was born at Amesbury, June 27, 1760. He was the grandfather of the deceased. He came with his family to Warner, N. H., a few years after the settlement of that town in 1762. At the age of 17 years he was in the revolutionary war, having enlisted for three years. He married Abigail Stevens, who was born July 12, 1766, and died in 1862.

Nathaniel Davis's father was Alpheus Davis, born at Warner, N. H. in 1782 and died there Oct. 11, 1847. His mother Abigail Watts Davis was born in Warner in 1790 and died there Feb. 1, 1869. Mr. Davis received his education in the district schools of his native place and worked on his father's farm until the age of 21, when he came to Lowell in 1839, and engaged in the trade of granite cutter. He afterwards in 1851, went into the business of contractor on his own account. In 1880 he was obliged to retire from business on account of ill health. In his line of business he has been one of the most prominent and foremost in the city. He did all the stone work for the old post office, Appleton block, Lowell jail, and hundreds of buildings all over the city. He furnished the stone for the Cape Ann lighthouses.

In 1851 he formed a co-partnership with Samuel Sweatt and Stillman Clough. In 1852, ex-Mayor Runels also became a partner. The firm name then became Runels, Clough, & Co., and continued about twenty years. This firm furnished the cut stone for the Masonic Temple, St. James Hotel and many other buildings in the city of Boston also furnished the cut granite for the Union Depot at Worcester and Booth's Fifth Avenue Theatre, New York.

Sept. 23, 1847, he was married to Miss Julia A. Woods, in Lowell. Five children, three living, are the result of their union, Abby F., Natt A., and Juliet B.

Mr. Davis was a member of the Eliot congregational society and was much interested in the work of that organization.

OUR TOTAL LOSS

There Were 736 Fatalities in the Philippines

SIXTEEN OFFICERS WERE KILLED IN ACTION

And Five Others Died of Disease

SEVEN DEATHS FROM SMALL POX

Typhoid Fever Claimed Many Victims

By Associated Press to The Sun.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 29.—The Times prints what purports to be a full list of fatalities in the American army in the Philippines up to June 2. The list was furnished by Fred F. Fitell, a representative of the Manila Freedom, who claims to have obtained it from the record of the surgeon general's office at Manila.

The total number of fatalities is 736—23 officers, 699 privates and 14 civilians attached to the army. A remarkable feature of the record is found in the statement that the number of officers killed in battle is out of all proportion to the number of privates killed. On the other hand fewer officers had died from disease proportionately than privates. Out of the 23 officers dead, 16 were killed in action, 2 were drowned, and five died of disease. Of the 699 privates, 294 died of wounds received in action; 9 were killed accidentally 23 were drowned; and 7 committed suicide. One hundred and six died of typhoid fever, 89 of small pox, 47 of dysentery, 28 of pneumonia, 19 of malarial fever and 14 of meningitis. The remainder died from various diseases. Of the 14 deaths among civilians, seven were from small pox and three from gunshot wounds received in action.

DIVINE HEALING

Failed to Cure a Chicago Woman

SUFFERED WITH BLOOD POISONING

With Proper Attention She Would Have Lived.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

CHICAGO, July 29.—Mrs. Amelia Flanders is dead of blood poisoning at St. Luke's hospital after having been attended with "Divine Healing" during a critical illness by Mrs. Henrikka Bratz, an official of Dr. John Alexander Dowie's Zion church of Divine Healing in Michigan avenue. L. T. J. Watkins and Dr. Thomas Currie of St. Luke's hospital and Dr. H. D. Peterson, who were called to attend Mrs. Flanders when she was thought to be dying, assert that the woman would have lived if she had been given proper attention. The state board of health has notified its attorney to investigate the case.

Mrs. Bratz says that her patient's death is due to the fact that Mrs. Flanders did not believe in Divine Healing. The regulations of the law, she says are not in accord with the faith of Divine Healing and for that reason she has not obtained a license to practice medicine.

Two of the members of the Mickeyhall team are in Lawrence today consulting with the members of of the Spickettville peggy team for a game to take place after the match with the Fall River team.

FOUND TOO SOFT

Workmen Have to Tear Up Asphaltina

ON THE WESTFORD ST. JOB

Horses Hoofs Sank Into It

BIG STRIP PULLED UP YESTERDAY

And Another Attempt is Made

And now its the Westford street asphaltina job that is coming unpleasantly to light. For though between Chelmsford and Smith streets the asphaltina has been down less than two months, it is being ripped up again, for it couldn't stand even the wear of that short period, and yesterday morning a gang of men began tearing up a strip of the asphaltina about 25 yards long near the junction of Chelmsford and Westford street. This strip, though of the material which the company would guarantee for five years was so soft that the hoofs of a horses sank into it; when withdrawn by the animal tore up chunks of the pavement. The torn up pieces are thrown on to the curbstone and it is said another attempt was at once made which will cause further delay and inconvenience, particularly if fires call for the Westford street truck and engine, and it is said that the company ran short of material or cobble layer at the time and filled in the space with top dressing, making the street too soft for teaming.

The Westford street job appears to be a huge "frost," and the non-competitive system of awarding contracts a system woefully in need of abolition.

AN OLD RESIDENT

Mrs. Catherine Quinn Died Last Evening

Mrs. Catherine Quinn, one of Lowell's oldest and most highly esteemed residents died last evening at her late home, 318 Westford st., after a brief illness. She was the widow of the late John Quinn, for a long time in the clothing business where Clinn's jewelry store is now located and who was a charter member and ex-president of the Lowell Irish Benevolent Society. Mrs. Quinn had been a resident of Lowell for over 60 years and saw the city grow from a village to the large municipality it now is. She saw the erection of St. Peter's church on the site where is now the Lowell Post office. Mrs. Quinn was the first member of the choir of this church and in after life with her late lamented husband, one of its most loyal supporters. She was thoroughly devoted to her church and religion, a member of sodalities connected with the church and was highly respected in the community for her many excellent traits of character. She was a sister of the late Mrs. Mary Hill of Belvidere. She leaves three nieces, Mary, Ursula and Kittie Hill and one nephew, Capt. James E. Hill, the latter the well known assistant milk inspector.

Funeral will take place Monday forenoon from St. Patrick's church. Friends invited.

THE GRAND JURY

Will Hear Charges Against Israel Fournier

By Associated Press to The Sun.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., July 29.—Israel Fournier, alias Thomas Farrell, 21 years old, was arraigned in the district court today on five charges of breaking and entering dwelling houses in the day time and stealing cash and jewelry. There are several other cases in which the police think he was implicated. He pleaded guilty to all charges preferred and was found over to the grand jury in $500 bonds on each complaint.

THE LAST CAR

FROM LAWRENCE AND ITS INCIDENTAL HAPPENINGS.

When the last car from Lawrence came into the square last night, the conductor yelled to Officers McCloskey and Leighton to arrest an apparently sober young man who sat in one of the rear seats. The officers couldn't quite see what the man was for, but the conductor insisted. Everyone on the car, including a well known and highly respected man, protested against the young man's arrest, stating that he had done or said nothing out of the way, but was simply singing on the way up. All offered to appear in court in the young man's behalf and the officers finally allowed him to go after taking his name. Some of the passengers had a word to say about the manner of the conductor toward his passengers. It was claimed that when about half way up the wind blew a hat off a passenger and the owner jumped off to recover it, the conductor refused to stop the car until he returned, but compelled the man to walk to Lowell.

The conductor was at the police station this morning.

INDIANA SENATOR

Like a Lightning Messenger in Philippines

WENT ALL THROUGH THE PRINCIPAL ISLANDS

Went Also to China and Japan

By Associated Press to The Sun.

MANILA, July 29.—Senator Albert J. Beveridge, of Indiana, who has just left has been a good deal of a puzzle.

He told all inquirers when he came that he was here merely for recreation and rest. Yet the second day of his arrival he went by train to the Bagbag river and thence at a gallop in the hot afternoon sun to General MacArthur's headquarters at San Fernando an extreme outpost.

He spent most of the night in consultation with General MacArthur, made a tour of the outposts and returned to Manila the next day on the top of an iron-roofed car.

This is a fair sample of the way he spent his time. He has been on the firing line. He has gone out through the typhoons to visit men in the trenches and find out how they were taking the descending torrents and the oceans of mud. He has been in the interior going unarmed to talk with insurgent leaders.

Nor have his activities been confined to the neighborhood of Manila. He has they say, at headquarters, made 2000 miles of water journey from island to island, and 500 or 600 miles of horseback journeys into the interior. As he is the only American who has been here who is at once official and unofficial, he has been welcomed everywhere. Those who stand by the president's plan welcome him because he is a republican senator. Those who look for and hope for a change rely upon his apparent fairness and frankness and his mastery of all the facts.

Senator Beveridge has steadily refused to express any opinions about what he has seen. When he went with Col. Hainer of Idaho to talk with the insurgent general, Maxilino, at his camp, and also when he came back from a journey into the interior of Sulu, there were many efforts made to get at the results of his observation. But he refused to talk.

Senator Beveridge has shown his personal courage several times by going out to the firing line and riding coolly along with such daring officers as General Lawton.

Before he came here he spent some time in China. He went from here back there to make further investigations. Thence he goes to Japan, thence to the Malay peninsula and probably to India. When he arrived he was looking well, having been much refreshed by the sea voyage.

He wore himself out completely while here by working all day each day and a large part of the night.

The Mickeyhall peggy team of Lowell has received an invitation to an outing at Highland Springs on the Neponsett road, near Milton.

JAMES McCASHIN, Who is Gradually Being Ossified.

AN OSSIFIED MAN

WHICH HAS PUZZLED MEDICAL SCIENCE

KEPT ALIVE ON LIQUID FOOD

Has Endured Six Years' Constant Pain

Lying as mutely most of the time as a carved image, hearing through the open window the noisy exuberance of the youth of the North Common, but unable even to gaze upon the happy children there at play, Mr. James McCashin of 4 Willie avenue personifies patience as he helplessly waits nature's release from one of the strangest, yes, and saddest fates that could blight a strong, healthy and industrious citizen such as he was when last he walked the streets of Lowell.

To describe Mr. McCashin as a paralytic does not begin to express his strange condition. He is more than that. He is in an unaccountable stage of paralysis known as ossification; in other words this patient sufferer is an ossified man.

Mr. McCashin six years ago was a cuff knitter in the Lawrence hosiery. He stood nearly six feet tall, weighed about 185 pounds and was the picture of health as his portrait presented in this issue and made from a photo taken while he was in good health will indicate. Today he is little more than a living skeleton, his body from the head down apparently devoid of life.

His case has been considered by nearly all of Lowell's leading physicians and many outside specialists, and no one of these has possessed the knowledge of a remedy for his sad plight. And yet Mr. McCashin is far more patient than many who are kindly endowed by nature and though a constant sufferer for six long years no word of complaint has ever escaped his lips.

A Sun reporter having heard of this strange case visited Mr. McCashin at his home in Willie avenue and found the sufferer in a cosy and well furnished room overlooking the North Common. Though unable to turn his head to the slightest angle, Mr. McCashin bade the reporter welcome, indicating a chair by a motion of his searching eyes which even the ravages of six years have not dimmed. A brief conversation ensued, the invalid talking with difficulty, owing to the fact that his jaws no longer perform their functions, but are inanimate and closed tightly together.

Mr. McCashin, the writer learned in the course of his conversation is 41 years of age and well known about old ward one. He has a wife and four children.

Up to six years ago, he was physically perfect, always enjoying good health and possessed of more than ordinary strength.

About that time, however, he noticed that he was becoming somewhat stiffened at his work. At first he paid no attention to the ailment, believing that it was only a temporary indisposition that would soon wear away. But with the increasing stiffness came gradual loss of appetite, sleep and flesh, and finally Mr. McCashin noted with alarm that he was losing control of his muscles and nerves, the first indication of it being in one of his heels which turned on him when he walked, no matter how hard he tried to control it. Then his knees began to work unnaturally and his hands refused to obey the dictates of his will and he was forced to discontinue work. He called in a doctor who treated him unsuccessfully for muscular rheumatism.

As he grew worse, he was attended by several physicians some of whom believed him to be suffering from a nervous trouble; others, and as he believes himself, a spinal derangement affecting the entire system.

Despite the efforts of the doctors, Mr. McCashin soon became totally helpless, his muscles working every way but that in which he would have them. His neck became stiff preventing him moving his head to either side and it was necessary to carry him about. He was sent to a hospital and after being a short time there, he was sent home to die, the hospital authorities doubting that he could live longer than a few weeks. But that was five years ago and the sufferer still endures, though in all that time he never enjoyed a moment's freedom from pain except under the soothing influence of opiates. In all that time he has had only one gleam of hope and that a few years ago when doctoring with a Canadian specialist by correspondence. Then he began to improve but while in his chair in the garden caught cold and relapsed into his old state from which he has never recovered. Up to a few months ago Mr. McCashin enjoyed a brief respite from the bed, being able to sit in a chair when properly propped up, although unable to change his position. Since then, however, he has lost his equilibrium entirely and if placed in a chair would fall, to use his own illustration, just as a lead pencil would fall if one attempted to stand it on its point.

He is taken daily from bed while the latter is being changed but it is necessary to hold him until he is put back. The long period on his back has had a terrible effect upon that portion of his anatomy, causing great and painful ulcers to gather there. Since he has been confined to his bed Mr. McCashin has been unable to read the papers for before that time he followed the news of the day through the papers which were placed on a stand before him, an attendant turning the pages. He read everything, the smallest item not escaping his notice. Now, the members of the family read for him. His memory is remarkable and though practically out of the world for nearly a decade, he is as well informed as the average man on general topics, picking up the little gained by observation of events.

The peculiarities of this remarkable case are few but it might give a clearer idea of his helplessness to note the fact that his only nourishment is liquid food fed to him on a spoon through an aperture between his teeth [illegible]

His principal pleasure is derived from smoking, for strange as it may seem, he can smoke a little. His pipe is of the corncob variety with a long stem. When he wishes to smoke the stem is put to his mouth and the bowl rests between his hands. The pipe is lighted [illegible] and he puffs away with great satisfaction. His smokes, however, are necessarily very brief, for one [illegible] is powerless to remove the pipe from his mouth. He has many callers who entertain him at the phonograph by singing and talking to him. He rarely sleeps and then generally his sleep is not of the natural order. His nerves and muscles constantly twitch and pain and it is only by the almost continuous use of opiates that he gets even a crumb of comfort out of his monotonous existence.

When asked about his preference as to weather, Mr. McCashin stated that he preferred cold weather and artificial heat, which can be regulated to suit him, and could the housewife who loses patience upon seeing a swarm of flies in her house contemplate this man, unable to brush the little tormentors from his face, she would forever hold her peace.

Mr. McCashin's position in bed would be most uncomfortable to even a healthy person. He is forced to lie flat on his back, his long and bony hands meet over his waist, his knees drawn high in the air and the muscles constantly twitching them toward his body. When taken from bed he maintains that position and it cannot be changed.

Thus for six years he has been a pitiable victim of nature's unkindliness. How long a fate is to be meted out to him, no human power can tell.

DEATHS.

TROMBLAY—After a long and painful illness, covering a period of almost three years, Miss Nellie Tromblay, aged 25 years, died at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Tromblay, 38 Cady street this morning. Mr. Tromblay is the well known engineer at the Parker building.

The young woman had lingered between life and death for the past few weeks and anxious watchers, momentarily expected the end, but with wonderful tenacity she clung to the ever-weakening thread that linked her existence with mortal life. Although suffering great pain at times, she bore her trials with a Christian fortitude and never complained or caused her folks the least unnecessary anxiety. She received her religious training and education at Notre Dame academy, this city. A wide circle of friends will sadly miss the sweet smile and ever pleasant greeting of the estimable young woman.

During her long illness, loving hands and hearts had done all that was possible to alleviate her sufferings and she ever appreciated the friendly offices in her behalf, and showed by every action her appreciation. The end although foreseen came as it always does with a shock to those interested, the last spark of life flickering out as the light of a new day dawned.

Funeral Monday forenoon from St. Peter's church.

SHALVEY—The many friends and relatives of Thomas Shalvey will be pained to hear of the death of his wife at her home, corner of Moody and Broadway. Mrs. Shalvey has been a constant, though patient sufferer for more than a year. She was a devout Catholic and a member of St. Patrick's church. Mrs. Shalvey had a most agreeable disposition and to know her was to love her and in her loss the community loses a good Christian woman, and her devoted husband a faithful and loving wife. Besides her husband she leaves two daughters, Mary E. and Margaret E., also two brothers, John and Stephen. The funeral will take place Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

PRES. DIAZ

OF MEXICO TO VISIT BOSTON NEXT FALL.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

BOSTON, July 29.—It is probable that President Diaz of Mexico will visit this city in October. The distinguished Mexican soldier and statesman will, it is expected, visit Chicago during that month when it is intended to celebrate the 28th anniversary of the great fire by the laying the corner stone of the United States government building.

Mayor Quincy is in receipt of a letter from Charles H. Gordon, chairman of the committee having charge of the Chicago celebration, which is to be held on October 9, in which he states that President Diaz will attend there. He further states that it is intended after he shall have finished his visit in Chicago to take him and his party in a special train to a number of the most prominent cities of the country.

"In considering the possible itinerary to be hereafter submitted to him for his approval," says Mr. Gordon, "it was thought to arrange for a stop at Boston for a day, when an opportunity would be given your citizens for extending such courtesies as might be thought desirable."

In consequence of this assurance, Mayor Quincy has sent an invitation to President Diaz to visit this city. It is as follows:

To His Excellency, Gen. Porfirio Diaz, President of the Mexican Republic:

Sir: Having learned that yourself and members of your cabinet may be able to pay a visit to the United States during the month of October, it gives me much pleasure on behalf of the city of Boston and as its chief executive, to extend to yourself and your party a most cordial invitation to visit this city during your trip.

The extent to which our citizens have invested their capital in Mexico and their interests in the development of your country perhaps may give us a special title to hope that a visit to Boston may be included in your arrangements, and I can assure you that the distinguished services which you have rendered to your country and its wonderful progress under your administration are well known here and will command for you not only the official welcome due to the chief magistrate of a great sister republic but the personal reception due to your character and career. I have the honor to subscribe myself, with much respect, your obedient servant.

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

FUNERALS.

HERBERT—The funeral of Betsey Herbert took place from her late residence in Dracut yesterday afternoon. Rev. A. E. Wilson of Lowell officiated. The bearers were George Palmer, Daniel W. Gardner, William Kay and Leonard Close. The interment was in the Dracut cemetery under the direction of Undertaker J. A. Weinbeck.

DUMONT—The funeral of Phillias Dumont took place yesterday afternoon from the home of his parents, 4 Austin avenue. The bearers were four playmates of the deceased, namely, A. Paterande, P. Barry, L. Vincent and L. Lebrie. The funeral was largely attended. Interment was in St. Joseph's cemetery under the direction of Undertaker Joseph Albert.

TUCKER—The funeral of Amelia Tucker took place yesterday afternoon from the home of her parents in Collinsville. The burial was in the Catholic cemetery at Lowell. Undertaker O'Donnell in charge.

BOY DROWNED

RESCUER ARRIVED A MOMENT TOO LATE.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

GLOUCESTER, July 29—Abner J. Publicover, eight years of age, was drowned yesterday afternoon about 4.30 from the wharf of Brainard Low at the head of the harbor. He and several companions were engaged in securing driftwood from the dock and young Publicover fell in. His companions ran up the dock without giving the alarm although there were a number of men about who could have rescued him had they been notified. One of the boys on reaching Eastern avenue told Edward J. Lufkin of the accident. Mr. Lufkin hastened to the dock as fast as possible, located the boy and soon had him on the dock. There were faint traces of vitality.

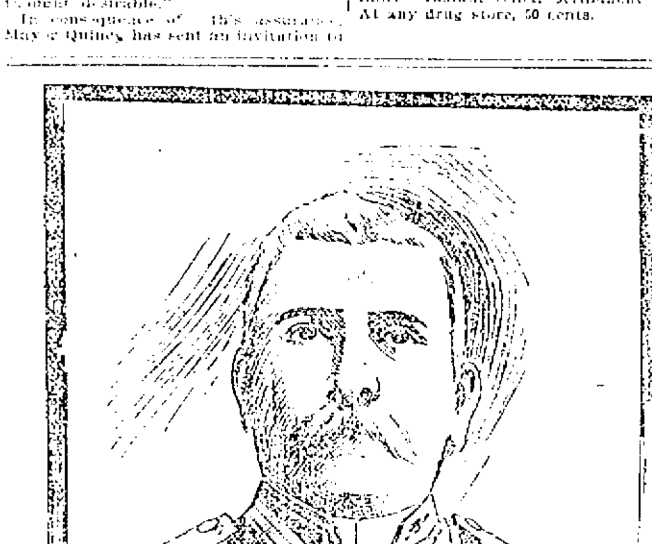

Three physicians were summoned at once and they worked on him two hours but failed to bring him to life. Young Publicover's mother is dead and his father, William Publicover is absent on a fishing trip. The lad lived with his grandmother, Mrs. Elder, at 12 1-2 Cross street.

MATRIMONIAL.

McPHERSON—KITCHING.

Miss Annie McPherson, formerly of this city and Mr. G. Kitching of West Palm, Fla., were united in marriage on Monday last at St. Anne's church in the latter place, the nuptial rites being solemnized by Rev. Fr. Farrell. Miss Amy Smith was bridesmaid and Mr. Pendington Johnson was best man. The bride was attired in muslin over pink silk and carried Bride roses. The bridesmaid was similarly attired. The bride, when she resided in Lowell was an employe of the Massachusetts mills. She was very well known in Lowell although a native of Nova Scotia. All her Lowell friends are invited to call at her home at West Palm Beach, Fla.

Hives are a terrible torment to the little folks and to some older ones. Easily cured. Doan's Ointment never fails. Instant relief, permanent cure. At any drug store, 50 cents.

A Man Postrated in Gravel Pit

ANOTHER MAN CUT BY CIRCULAR SAW

Several Other Mishaps But Less Serious

Yesterday afternoon Joseph Lessage, aged 30 years and living at 31 Massachusetts corporation, was overcome by heat while working in the gravel pit on Wright street, Pawtucketville, operated by the asphaltina company.

Owing to the intense heat at this work, the men employed did not work very hard during the afternoon. But on account of Lessage not being accustomed to the work, the intense heat prostrated him.

The men who were working in the pit with him saw him fall forward very suddenly and remain motionless. The ambulance was immediately telephoned for and he was taken to the Lowell General hospital.

He was found to be very weak and it was necessary to give him stimulants to revive him.

Late last night the hospital doctor, Dr. Augustine, reported an improved condition in his patient.

Frank Hans employed in McGaughey & Braddy's wood yard at 175 Church street, had his right hand lacerated by a circular saw. He was removed to St. John's hospital by the ambulance, and it was found necessary to amputate two fingers. A third was pretty badly cut, but the doctors think that it can be saved.

Albert Wood, a young lad residing in Tweed's court, had a sliver about three inches long enter his heel yesterday. The wound was dressed at St. John's hospital, and the doctors think that it will cause lameness for quite a while.

George Chambers, an employe of the Merrimack, sprained his left ankle yesterday morning while at work. He had his ankle dressed at the Lowell hospital.

POLICE COURT

THE MORE IMPORTANT CASES WERE POSTPONED.

Three drunks were arraigned before Judge Hadley this morning. Wilfred Laflamme and Edward J. Cutting were fined $5 each. Adelard Tessier charged with being drunk in the vicinity of the Northern depot, was discharged. He said that he was waiting for a train for New York, and after stating that his intentions to go to New York today, Judge Hadley discharged him.

Simon Shervin, charged with assault and battery on J. Smolnski, was continued until August 2.

Ella Lockhart, assault and battery on L. M. Foster, was also continued to August 2.

Edward Harris, charged with being a vagrant, was found guilty and sentenced to the state farm. Officer Lynch of Tewksbury had found him in that town and arrested him.

Kate Coleman and John McBride, charged with illegally keeping liquor, were continued to August 1.

COL. DONOVAN'S ORDER ISSUED

Lieut. Collidge Made Assistant Inspector

The new commander of the Ninth regiment infantry, Col. Donovan has issued the appended order:

1. In accordance with general orders, No. 1, O.G.O., dated July 1, 1899, and genera lorders No. 4, headquarters, second brigade, dated July 16, 1899, this regiment will perform its annual tour of camp duty at South Framigham, from August 3 to August 9, inclusive.

2. Fatigue uniform, blue cap, leggins, and white gloves will be worn. Over-coats will be rolled in yoke. Working suit, campaign hat and any other articles to be carried will be rolled inside. White hat card will be worn on the campaign hat and will be supplied to each company by the paymaster.

3. Field, staff and non-commissioned staff, excepting quartermaster and quartermaster sergeant, will report to the adjutant at the east armory on Thursday, August 3 at 7 o'clock a. m.

4. Headquarters attaches, band and field music will report at the same time and place.

5. Companies A, B, C, E, H, and I will report to the adjutant as prescribed for field staff. Companies D and F will report to the adjutant at the South Union station, at 8.15 o'clock a. m. Companies G, K, L and M will report to the adjutant near railroad station at South Framingham at 9.30 o'clock a. m.

6. Quartermaster and quartermaster-sergeant will report to Capt. Fred P. Barnes, brigade quartermaster on Wednesday, August 2, at State Camp ground at 10 o'clock a. m.

7. Majors of battalions will be the inspecting officers at "inspection of quarters;" they will see that quarters are kept in strict compliance with paragraph 8 of general orders No. 4 headquarters 2d brigade.

8. Applications for passes must be made by company commanders not later than 11 o'clock each morning. No enlisted man will be allowed to leave camp during the week without a pass and no officer or enlisted men be permitted to loiter around officers' quarters and a strict compliance with all forms of military courtesy must be observed at all times.

9. The medical department will have a general supervision of the sanitary condition of the camp and will make a daily inspection of the quality and condition of the food furnished the regiment.

10. Particular attention is hereby called to paragraph 8 of general orders No. 4, 2d brigade headquarters. Muster and assignment rolls must be in the hands of the paymaster not later than 2 o'clock p. m., Aug 3.

11. The staff appointments for the regiment are announced as follows: John P. Lombard, surgeon, with the rank of major; William J. Casey as adjutant, John Breen as quartermaster, J. F. McGourty as assistant surgeon, M. E. Morris as inspector of rifle practice, John P. Kane as paymaster, all with the rank of first lieutenant. They will be obeyed and respected accordingly.

By order of Colonel DONOVAN, William J. Casey, first lieutenant and adjutant.

SIXTH REGIMENT OFFICERS.

Colonel Charles K. Darling presided at a meeting of the officers of the 6th Infantry M.V.M., held at the South armory in Boston Thursday afternoon. Matters concerning the coming encampment of the regiment with the 1st brigade at South Framingham were talked over.

Colonel Darling announced that he had appointed 1st Lieut. Clarence W. Coolidge, Company E, assistant inspection of rifle practice. Lieut. Coolidge served with the regiment during its tour of duty under Col. Edmund Rice as adjutant and his appointment as rifle inspector of the regiment met with great favor from those present.

It was also announced that Capt. Williams of L company had waived his seniority and that Captain Carr would command the 3d battalion during the coming encampment.

KING COFFEE

Caused Weak Heart and Other Trouble.

Our family is a large one and we have all been greatly helped and benefited by the dismissal of coffee and the daily use of Postum Food Coffee. I formerly had a very weak heart that troubled me greatly and the trouble was gradually getting worse while I was using coffee.

I also had frequent headaches and sleepless nights. These have all gone since the drug (and one may well call coffee a drug) has been dismissed. A neighbor, Mr. A. Woodruff, was a confirmed dyspeptic for years until he quit coffee and began to use Postum. Now he is entirely cured and thanks Postum for it. Mrs. M. Munson and Mr. D. S. Barclay, friends, have found great relief from leaving off Coffee and using Postum Food Coffee.

I have made many inquiries among quite a list of persons who have been using Postum, and always find good accounts where it has been properly prepared. You cannot impress that point too strongly on the people where they once make a trial of Postum, for if it is not thoroughly boiled, it has a flat taste and that drives them away from it, whereas, if they only knew how delicious it is when well made and how their health would be improved by its use, they would do almost any way to insure getting good Postum. I can send you a long list list of names of those who really know how to make Postum and use it every day, if you care for them. M. E. Woodruff, 253 Crescent avenue, Grand Rapids, Mich.

MILITARY NOTES

Company M's Special Drill Last Night

A special drill of Company M was held last evening at the armory with a view of getting in good condition for the annual encampment with the second brigade M. V. M., which begins next Thursday. The company was never in better condition for camp than it is at present and it bids fair to be the banner company as well as the color company of the Ninth regiment this year.

Capt. Thomas Talbot reports for duty today at the 26th regiment at Plattsburg, N. Y.

William Davidson who served in the Sixth and later in the Eighth regiment was one of the three men who enlisted in Lawrence yesterday. Davidson is well known and very popular among the militia men of Lowell. He made an excellent soldier according to the statements of the his officers.

SAVED THE GIRLS

An Elevator Man's Daring at at a Fire

TOOK 200 GIRLS FROM A BUILDING

And Then Got His Pay in Kissos

NEW YORK, July 29—Joseph Mayers, an elevator man, proved himself a hero yesterday afternoon by saving about 100 girls from a dangerous death on the top floor of the six-story building, 515 Broadway, occupied by Ballin & Burnheimer, manufacturers of neckwear.

Two hundred girls were on the floor when the fire started among a lot of bundles of cotton batting. It spread with amazing rapidity, and the girls shrieked and ran for the door.

Sidney Bernheimer, one of the partners, tried to calm them, but they were too panic stricken to listen to him. The place was full of smoke and the heat was great.

Someone started to rush for the elevator at the Mercer street end of the building. It was filled with girls in a few seconds and others fought to get on board.

It was then that Meyers showed his presence of mind by fighting off the frightened ones and closing the door after he had got one full load. He took them down at lightning speed, drove them from the car as quickly as he could and then returned through the smoke for more. He got them all out before any were hurt.

The engines meanwhile arrived and put out the fire. The automatic alarm on the burning building did not sound, but the automatic sprinklers worked and deluged the building and the girls.

A lot of fine silks and satins were damaged by water.

The girls talk of getting up a testimonial to elevator hero Mayers; at least 20 of them kissed him.

WHAT CONFERENCE DID

Mayor S. M. Jones, in a recent letter to the New York Journal, said:

The story published in a Cleveland paper that I was somewhat "dissatisfied with the Buffalo conference" and that I had "positively announced that I would not be an independent candidate for governor this fall" is a pure fabrication. In reference to the independent candidacy for governorship I have said that I see no reason for changing my views heretofore published in regard to the question. I hope to be ready for any service, even to being an independent candidate, just as soon as I am led to believe that it is my duty to aid the cause of the new education in that way, and when I am so convinced I will announce it plainly and unequivocally. The people will not be left in doubt.

I doubt if there has ever been gathered together in this country an assembly of more high minded, disinterested men and women than have been in session at Buffalo during the last week. I certainly have never had the privilege of meeting with an assembly where there was a more genuine spirit of devotion to the interests of humanity or a more lofty conception of patriotism than animated the Buffalo conference. There was an entire absence of the proverbial long haired man and short haired woman. It is true that the man with a "cure all" was slightly represented, but only slightly. The spirit of the convention was one of deep, earnest inquiry for a proper answer to the question "What to do next?"

There was the keenest realization manifest that we are now in a critical period in the history of this country; that grave dangers seem to threaten the very existence of the republic all are agreed, and yet I do not recall a single speech that I heard or a conversation that I had with any of the 300 or 400 members that was not thoroughly optimistic, and I am sure there was a general confidence and trust that the truly patriotic and truly loyal people of the country, the people who understand that love of country means love of fellow men, means brotherhood, will lead the public mind into a peaceful solution of all our grave problems by bringing them through the new education to recognize the truth of this great moral principle that we must all admit and practice in our daily lives before we have any right to hope for social peace.

The political programme must in favor to bring about this new condition seems to be the absolutely independent political action of individuals voting for principle rather than party. The belief seemed to be general that reformers ought not to wear a party collar or party brand until the name of party means something more sacred than at present, but that they should ever be ready to vote for principle before party and for the unifying of the reform forces in such directions as seem to promise the greatest good. Of course the conference was socialistic. Probably three-fourths of those present would claim to be socialists and base all of their hopes of the future on socialism rather than on individualism.

On every hand it seemed to be admitted that individualism had failed and that competition is no longer adapted to provide a social order that will meet the requirements of the race and that co-operation must take its place. Public ownership of all public utilities, municipal, state and national, was not only advocated but held forth as the only final solution of the question how to handle natural monopolies, and the belief was freely expressed that our development in the future is to be along the lines of social salvation rather than on the lines of individual success that has characterized our history up to date.

So far as the political and moral welfare of the country is concerned, the conference will prove one of the most porfitable gatherings ever assembled. The various movements that have been inaugurated to perpetuate and carry forward the work will insure the continued growth of the most lofty and healthful patriotism.

Studying Our Constitution.

Commissioner Powderly says that a very curious fact had been brought to his attention by a friend who has been traveling extensively in Europe. In a recent letter this friend stated that during a considerable stay in Italy, where he had made it his business to investigate the condition of the peasants and the laborers, he was surprised to find schools established where intending emigrants were being taught to read the constitution of the United States, not only in their own tongue, but in English.

A little investigation showed that this had been the direct result of the proposed amendment to our immigration laws, in which it was required that immigrants should be able to read and write a sentence at least of the constitution of the United States.

There is evidently a scheme in teaching these Italians to read in English and write in the same language part of the constitution. It is evident that they could not in a brief time be thoroughly drilled in the whole document, but the plan is believed to be to instruct them in one or two sentences, which they can repeat when examined by the immigrant inspector on this side.—Washington Cor. Philadelphia Press.

Pulling Together.

A scheme has been evolved in some English shipyards aiming at greater harmony between employers and workmen and is based on a division of extra pay for extra good work in proportion to the wages paid each workman. Each trade elects one representative from every 20 workmen, and these, with their foreman, constitute a trade committee, from which one is selected for the general council.

It is not expected that any one will buy Ivory Soap solely because it is suggested by an advertisement, but if you have never used Ivory Soap, you may be induced to ask some friend about it; should you find—as you probably will—that she is enthusiastic in its praise, then you may try it.

Gov. Wolcott May Soon Appoint Him

By Associated Press to The Sun.

BOSTON, July 29—The name of Hon. Hosea M. Knowlton, was mentioned pretty generally among lawyers as the probable appointee by Gov. Wolcott to fill the vacancy in the state supreme court.

It was said yesterday in certain authoritative quarters that Gov. Wolcott has had the appointment of the attorney general under favorable consideration for several days and that it was quite likely Mr. Kowlton's nomination would be presented for approval at the governor's council at its next meeting.

The general sentiment among members of the bar touching Mr. Knowlton's ability appears to be a unanimous approval of his high capacity for a judgeship. His friends point to the long and arduous experience of Mr. Knowlton as a district attorney and attorney general. The salary of the office is $7000 but the appointment being for life, as well as one of the highest honor, the friends of Mr. Knowlton say he would not be averse to accepting the appointment.

In this connection, assuming that Mr. Knowlton will go on the supreme bench his probable successor as attorney general furnishes politicians with an interesting issue. Among the lawyers mentioned for the place are [illegible] of Cambridge, District Attorney Harris of East Bridgewater, District Attorney Wier of Lowell and Henry P. Moulton of Salem.

TEN TO ONE you'll find, if you give the subject a little thought that the majority of clocks in use in this city have come from this store. That speaks pretty well for the clocks and shows that people here like to be on time. The importance of having a steady going, reliable timepiece in the office, store, workshop or factory is understood. Its hands have something to do with every engagement, and the proper beginning and ending of every piece of work. We are showing every style of clock in our collection, starting at the nickle alarm at 75c., you may go as high as $150 for eight day, calendar, office clocks, and you can rely on all of them being accurate.

Every Newspaper

Has a value as an advertising medium, but the extent of that value depends upon the circulation of each newspaper.

Where two newspapers circulate in the same territory, and one has double the circulation of the other, it is plain that the paper with the larger circulation is worth twice as much for advertising purposes as the other.

The Sun has five times the circulation of some of its local contemporaries, three times as much as others, and nearly twice as much as its nearest competitor, and yet its rates are but a trifle above the lowest and no higher than the highest in Lowell. We do not say that other local papers are not worth what they ask for advertising; what we do claim is that THE SUN is by far the cheapest of them all on the basis of actual circulation. Compare the rates and circulation and see for yourself.

MAYOR CROWLEY.

Mayor Crowley has the misfortune of falling into the most inconsistent positions on public matters. When the proposition came before the board of aldermen Tuesday evening, to appropriate $500 to provide a clerk for the inspector of wires, the mayor denounced it on the ground that it was an acknowledgment that the head of any department could hire what assistance he pleased and create salaried positions to suit himself. He claimed that the case was parallel to the Muldoon case which is now being tried in the courts. In this, the mayor was not only in error, but inconsistent. It was an indirect charge that Mr. Barrett had created the position of inspector in his department and fixed the salary which is not the case. The position and the salary were created by a resolution passed by both branches of the city council and approved by His Honor, the mayor. The proceedings were exactly similar to the proceedings then under discussion, namely, to appropriate a sum of money and to create a position in a department for which the sum appropriated would be paid as a salary. If the mayor did not want the position created in the purchasing agent's department, he should have vetoed the resolution; but he approved it and signed it and nothing was heard of it until a man against whom he has a personal antipathy was appointed. Then he took a position which the courts have thus far decided to be untenable. The intimation that Mr. McElholm was creating a position and providing a salary was really too transparent and too childish to come from a man in the position of mayor. It was a subterfuge to justify his position in the Muldoon case. If the mayor does not want the position created or the salary paid, he can easily veto the resolution; but he should not use the occasion to distort the Muldoon matter into a charge that a position was created and a salary provided against his wishes by the head of the supply department, for such is not the case.

His Honor is also inconsistent in his expressions concerning the powers of the heads of departments. While he contends that the heads of the supply and [illegible] departments have no power which the mayor is bound to respect, he throws up his hands when it comes to the head of the street department and says: "The heads of departments have full power under the charter and I am merely helpers." This was [illegible] when he signed the [illegible] paving resolutions. At that time, the heads of departments seemed to have more power than the mayor according to His Honor's interpretation. In the other cases however, he [illegible] to see whether the mayor has [illegible] power than the heads of departments. This is an inconsistent attitude which leaves His Honor open to public criticism if not ridicule. It is so also on the garbage matter. When explaining his views to the board of health, as to whether the garbage contract could be made without the approval of the mayor, he told the board that while he had his own views on the question as mayor and as a lawyer and while he firmly believed that the contract would not be legal without the mayor's signature, still he did not deem it proper to thrust his opinion upon the board in any way that would ignore the existence of a city solicitor. "We have a city solicitor" he said "to whom all such questions should be referred and his decisions should be respected."

This is very true; but a short while afterward His Honor destroyed the effect of that declaration by utterly ignoring the city solicitor in the Muldoon affair and by going directly to the courts. He would not listen to a proposition to have the city solicitor render an opinion on the Muldoon case. He said he did not care what the opinion of the city solicitor might be, he would go to the courts and he went and the city is paying the bill. This showed that on one public matter, he deferred to the solicitor's opinion, but on another, he ignored the city solicitor and, regardless of expense to the city went to the courts. Furthermore, all this was done in spite of the common report that the city solicitor had tendered either to the mayor or to members of the city government a private opinion that Muldoon's appointment was legal and that he was entitled to pay. Again he has vetoed the garbage contract mainly, as appears from his letter, on the ground that he disapproves of contract work. Why did he not reach that conclusion before he signed the asphaltum contracts? And if he has such a regard for the taxpayers and the people in general, why did he not at least call for bids for smooth paving instead of giving contracts amounting to $60,000 to his friend, Robert H. Crowley at his own price?

Such actions, we are sorry to say do not add to the mayor's reputation for sincerity, sound judgment or executive ability. These inconsistencies, together with his action in the asphaltum matter have been denounced by the public at large and by representatives of both political parties to such an extent that we are inclined to agree with the personal friends of the mayor, who already acknowledge that it would have been better for his reputation and better for his memory hereafter, if he had never been elected to the high office he holds and which he is struggling to fill. We trust, however, that His Honor will in the future beware of those inconsistent pitfalls and the blandishments of such characters as the asphaltum gang and thus escape that kind of public criticism and public ridicule which is apt to develop into public contempt.

The mayor and city council of New York are threatened with imprisonment for contempt of court in refusing to pass a bond issue for a hall of records. They have until Monday next to decide whether they will comply with the court's order or go to jail, such is the power vested in the courts, under the law of contempt.

General Merritt, it is said, wants to go to the Philippines. He, it will be remembered, is the military autocrat who advised the United States to make labor unions illegal. A man with that idea of justice would make an excellent governor-general of the Philippines if the object is to establish a despotism.

It is now proposed to interfere in the affairs of the republic of San Domingo, and perhaps to annex the little republic altogether. That is the logical application of the imperial policy.

A new species of kissing bug has come along. It is much smaller than the original and bears a resemblance to the June bug. Although small proportioned, his bite is built on large plans and specifications. The first victim of this new comer in the field was a Chelmsford man. The bite swelled to a great size but he applied some ham fat and the swelling soon went down.

The newspaper press, the medical profession and the general public might as well understand that until further notice all such ailments as bunions, boils, cold sores, swelling from ulcerated teeth, neuralgia, erysipelas, etc., etc., are suspended and in place of them are only the bites of kissing bugs. Moreover, it should be well understood that after this date any insect, flying or creeping, poisonous or harmless, larger than a mosquito and smaller than a lobster, is beyond question, the veritable kissing bug itself.

Office, Lowell, Mass.

Sales for Week Ending Aug. 5th, '99

THURSDAY AFTERNOON.

One of the prettiest, handsomest finished and most ideal homes in the Highlands to be sold at auction for just what it will bring.

It is my purpose on Thursday, the third day of August, 1899, to offer at absolute sale, the Cutler residence, No. 17 Nesmith street or opposite the beautiful Josiah Butler estate and the extensive grounds of the Highland club. The house was erected by Arthur S. Cutler of the firm of Merrill & Cutler, architects, for his own occupancy and it was his residence for five or six years. It came into my possession through mortgage and I have no earthly use for it. It has more recently been occupied by Arthur H. Kittredge.

The house is of the most attractive design architecturally; in finish it is both artistic and elegant; in its modern arrangement and applied conveniences it is simply perfect; heated by the most approved methods; lighted by electric gas fixtures; it has large hall with open fire place and stained glass window; reception room, library, dining room, butler's pantry, pantry and kitchen on first floor; square hall, five chambers and bath room on second floor; large unfinished attic over whole house on third floor; splendid cellar with laundry; the house is just such a one as an architect would make his ideal. The stable fits the house and is arranged for two horses and four carriages.

The lot has a fine frontage of 75 ft. contains an area of 7809 square feet, has a nice little fruit orchard in the rear, is of level grade, and well laid down to a pretty lawn. You can examine the interior of the buildings after 10 a. m. on day of sale or previous to that time by applying at the office of the auctioneers. The purchaser must deposit with or secure to the auctioneers $500 as soon as the property is struck off. Three-quarters of the purchase money can remain on mortgage for a term of three years with interest at the rate of five per cent. per annum. The sale will take place on the premises, rain or shine, at five o'clock in the afternoon and whoever bids the most for it will get it.

JOHN BOYLE.

FRIDAY AFTERNOON.

Guardians' Sale of Real Estate. In order that the several heirs to the estate of the late James Mahan may be paid their interests in the estate, it has become necessary to turn the following described realty into money. To do this we shall, under license from the probate court for the county of Middlesex, sell at absolute auction, regardless of weather, on the several premises on Friday, the 4th day of August, 1899, the brick block and 5820 square feet of land at the corner of Gorham and Manchester streets; 5300 square feet of land adjoining and on Gorham street; four lots of land of 5000 square feet each on Bowden street, the cottage house and 3331 square feet of land numbered 25 Manchester street.

AT FOUR O'CLOCK P. M.

[illegible] Gorham street and 1 Manchester street. [illegible] has five or six rooms, a water closet, [illegible] water, gas and connected cellar; is in good order and repair; all are well rented except the one recently occupied by the late Mr. Mahan; [illegible] will readily rent for $12 a month. The block as now [illegible] produces an income of $[illegible] a month. With the block is 5820 square feet of land, [illegible] feet on Gorham street and [illegible] feet on Manchester street. The property [illegible] in this lot is one of the best parcels of real estate on [illegible] Gorham street. The building was constructed upon honor, is very [illegible] and substantial. The lot is perfect in area, frontage and location.

IMMEDIATELY FOLLOWING.

[illegible] square feet of land adjoining the first lot with a frontage of 70 feet on Gorham street. On this lot is an office building and a large shed used by [illegible] for carrying on the business of cutting marble and stone.

AT 4.30 O'CLOCK P. M.

Four lots of land on Bowden street, just off Gorham street. Each lot has [illegible] feet and a frontage of 50 feet. One lot is a [illegible]. The lots are level and dry and two of them offer excellent opportunities for improvements. At the prices they will sell for, they should prove attractive to many purchasers of lots of moderate value.

AT FIVE O'CLOCK P. M.

The cottage house and 3331 square feet of land numbered 25 Manchester street, [illegible] Gorham street. The cottage has seven rooms and cellar, [illegible] water closet, sewerage and city water. The lot has a frontage of [illegible] feet.

The purchaser of the first lot must deposit with or secure to the auctioneers $500 as soon as the lot is struck off. The purchaser of the second lot must do the same with $200. The purchaser of each lot on Bowden street must do the same with $50. The purchaser of the cottage [illegible] on Manchester street must do the same with $200. Other terms at sale.

N. Y. CITY COUNCIL

May be Sent to Jail Next Monday

FOR ALLEGED CONTEMPT OF COURT

In Refusing to Pass a Certain Bond Issue

On the application of counsel for Contractor John Pierce, Supreme Court Justice Giegerich yesterday granted an order requiring the twenty councilmen who defied the supreme court writ of mandamus to show cause before Justice Fitzgerald next Monday morning why they should not be committed for contempt.

This means, that if the councilmen do not before that time purge themselves of the contempt or secure a stay of proceedings, each of them may be sent to Ludlow street jail and be fined.

There were rumors yesterday that the councilmen had been brought to a realizing sense of their error and would meet between now and Monday and pass the halls of records bond issue. They have been argued to take this action by Corporation Counsel Whalen and also by numerous friends.

If they do not harken to this advice, Judge Fitzgerald is apt to be severe with them.

Many of the councilmen were more defiant than ever before. Councilmen Oakley, Cassidy, Goodwin and Doyle declared that they would get private counsel and fight to a finish. Councilman Murray said he would act as his own counsel and that if the courts ruled that he must vote against his convictions he would resign.

The contempt order is directed against the following councilmen: John T. Oakley, Thomas F. Foley, Martin Engel, Frank J. Goodwin, George B. Christman, John J. Murphy, Eugene A. Wise, Stewart M. Brice, William J. Hyland, Adolph C. Hottenroth, Bernard C. Murray, Charles H. Francisco, Francis F. Williams, Adolph H. Leich, William A. Doyle, Martin Conly, David I. Van Nostrand, Joseph Cassidy, Joseph F. O'Grady, and Benjamin Bodine.

Each of these men must be personally served with the court's order before next Monday and it is said that some of them made haste yesterday to get beyond the jurisdiction of the court.

Seven of the councilmen are not named in Justice Giegerich's order. They are President Guggenheimer and Councilmen McGarty, Hester, French, Hart, Ebbets, and Mundorf. Messrs. Guggenheimer, McGarty, and Hester, voted to obey the court's order to approve the $[illegible] bond issue for a new hall of records. Messrs. French, Hart, Ebbets, and Mundorf were never served with the mandamus issued by Justice Fitzgerald.

The carpenter noticed the owner's name stamped on the wing and he brought the bird back to Liverpool and then sent it by train to Church. The hom-

BOXING GOSSIP.

Over 100 Boston and Lynn sports are expected here with Dick Simms who on Monday night will spar with George Gardner before the Nutone club. Simms is reported to be in excellent shape and his friends are so confident of his success that many believe that he is some one other than Dick Simms, an unknown Lynn boxer. Gardner does not mind if he is George Byers provided he is down to weight. Should Gardner defeat Simms he will go after Byers at 154 pounds.

James Moriarty, who is training near Haggett's Pond is in fine condition for his go with James Stewart and it begins to look as if the Manchester boy is about to have a break in his list of victories.

Billy Gardner, who is training with George at the Burke's gym is down to weight and has no fear of his being bested by the Lawrence man, Swanson.

The tickets for the go are out today and the demand for them is great.

Tim Kearns, George Byers "Spider" Winn, "Stoke" Sullivan and many other well known boxers will probably be in attendance on Monday night.

STRUCK ON ROCKS.
By Associated Press to The Sun.

NARRAGANSETT PIER, R. I., July [illegible].—[illegible] schooner Lyra of St. John, N. B., while attempting to enter this port yesterday, struck on the rocks near the pier of the Narragansett Navigation company and stove a hole in her bottom. She is now nearly full of water. The jib-boom of the schooner struck the ticket office of the Navigation company and punched a hole through it.

The Lyra is loaded with laths consigned to J. C. Tucker, Jr., of this town. The damage to the cargo is estimated at $1,000.

THE STRIKE ENDED.
By Associated Press to The Sun.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., July 29.—The strike on the Narragansett Bay line is practically at an end, the demands of the men having been granted in full. The Richard Peck arrived yesterday at the usual time with a full complement of hands and twenty of the crew of the C. H. Northam. The men had been getting $28 and $30 a month and struck for a raise to $35, the wages paid to the men on the Fall River line. This was granted.

SEVEN SUTHERLAND SISTERS

Hair Grower and Scalp Cleaner?

If not, do not delay longer, as the days of the exhibition are limited. It will pay anyone to see the luxuriant growth of hair worn by the ladies in attendance, which, by the way, was produced by the use of the highly meritorious preparations they represent, and was not inherited, as some people think.

The ladies will cheerfully give to all visitors, free of cost, any information desired regarding the necessary treatment of the hair and scalp to produce the best results.

It costs nothing to see this great exhibition, so why not come today? Everybody is invited.

PETITION TABLED

Globe Telephone Co's Hearing Was Postponed

THE PETITIONERS WERE NOT READY

Will Incorporate Under Mass. Laws

The second attempt at a hearing before the board of aldermen on the petition of the Globe Telephone Co., for a franchise in this city like its predecessor of Tuesday night last was unsuccessful.

There was quite a gathering present, the remonstrants in the majority, when Mayor Crowley called to order shortly after 7.30 o'clock, with all present but Alderman Pelree.

It was moved to give each side an hour in which to present its case.

Mayor Crowley then called for the petitioners' side and Mr. Harvey arose and said that some of the petitioners had some doubt as to the right of the board of aldermen to grant the rights asked for in a foreign corporation and had decided that to prevent litigation in the future he would ask that the matter be held in abeyance until such time as the company could incorporate under the laws of the state.

Lawyer Pratt of the New England company had no objection to raise to such a request and on motion of Alderman Dimon the petition was laid on the table.

The matter cannot come up again until after the summer vacation.

CHIEF JUSTICE CHAMBERS ARRIVES HOME

Volcanic Eruptions are in Full Blast

By Associated Press to The Sun.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 28.--The steamer Mona has arrived from Honolulu and Samoa. At Samoa conditions were in a very disturbed state and great dissatisfaction was manifest on all sides. There have been several fights and more are likely.

Chief Justice Chambers was a passenger on the Mona.

The volcanic eruption on the island of Hawaii was still in full blast and seemed to be increasing in violence. The entire island was covered with a dense cloud of smoke which extended hundreds of miles out to sea.

PARKER CHOSEN

Will be President of Bobbin Combine

By Associated Press to The Sun.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., July 28.--A meeting for the preliminary organization of the United States Bobbin and Shuttle Company, a consolidation of the bobbin industry of the country, will be held in this city next Tuesday. The company which is to be capitalized under the law of New Jersey with a capital of about $1,100,000 will control from 85 to 90 per cent of the bobbin trade of this country.

The concerns to be consolidated are the James Baldwin company of Manchester, N. H.; William Parker & Sons, Lowell, Mass.; the Woonsocket Bobbin company, Woonsocket, R. I.; the L. Sprague company, Lawrence, Mass.; the Fall River Bobbin and Shuttle company, Fall River, Mass.

The president will probably be W. H. Parker of W. H. Parker and Sons, while H. Martin Brown of the Woonsocket Bobbin company and Brown brothers' company, mill supplies of this city will probably be treasurer.

STEAMER LAHN STOPPED.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

LONDON, July 28.--The British steamer Europe, Captain Tubb, from New York, July 17, for London, passed the Lizard today and reported that in latitude 50, longitude 16, she sighted the North German Lloyd steamer Lahn. The Lahn was stopped and signalled that her engines were out of order but was expected to be all right soon and no assistance was required.

FOUR MEN KILLED

By an Accident on Midland Railroad

By Associated Press to The Sun.

HALIFAX, N. S., July 28.--Four men were hurled to death and several seriously injured by an accident on the Midland railroad between Truro and Windsor this afternoon. Details are not yet received but it is reported that a construction train was thrown over an embankment at Little River, killing four men and injuring seven or more. One of the dead is a man named Salter.

PRES. HEREAUX' FUNERAL.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

CAPE HAYTIEN, July 28.--The funeral of President Hereaux of San Domingo, took place at 5 o'clock last evening in Santiago de Los Caballeros. The population was panic-stricken, but there was no disorder.

A report has been received here to the effect that the adversaries of the government attacked Moca last night.

The news of the death of President Hereaux was hardly credited here by the people generally until last evening, when undoubted confirmation was received. Then there was great rejoicing among the Dominican exiles, many of whom live in and around Cape Haytien.

These exiles, who were driven out of their country by Hereaux, are now preparing to arm themselves and enter Santo Domingo, where they expect their chief, Don Juan Jiminez, to join them.

The Dominican government is making preparations on a large scale to maintain itself.

THE DEWEY HOME

Will be Erected in National Capitol

$21,000 HAS BEEN SUBSCRIBED ALREADY

Subscriptions Will Close Soon

By Associated Press to The Sun.

WASHINGTON, July 28.--The secretary of the Dewey Home Fund requests the publication of the following statement:

"There can be no longer any doubt as to whether a home will be purchased by popular subscription for Admiral George Dewey. At a meeting of the National Dewey Home Fund Committee today, it was found that the aggregate amount of cash actually received by Treasurer Roberts was $16,700 from a total of over 23,000 subscribers. One hundred and three subscribers gave $10,000. The statement was made that the $5,000 promised sometime since by the New York Journal would be forthcoming shortly, bringing the grand aggregate up to $21,700. The committee agreed to close the subscription before the arrival of Admiral Dewey in New York in September and then to proceed, after consultation with the admiral as to location, etc., to purchase the home with whatever funds they may at that time have in hand.

"We will purchase the home if not another dollar is received so that the question now is whether the patriotic and generous people of the country will permit the purchase of a home at the nation's capital for the hero of Manila with twenty or thirty thousand dollars" say the committee in making their last appeal. Therefore those who desire to contribute are urged by the committee to contribute at once. All contributions should be forwarded to Hon. Ellis S. Roberts, treasurer of the United States, Washington, D. C., who will issue souvenir receipts for the same.

CARS RUNNING

On Big Consolidated Line in Cleveland

THE DETECTIVES SECURE STRONG EVIDENCE

And Arrests May be Made Today

By Associated Press to The Sun.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 28.--Forty-eight hours have elapsed since any riotous demonstrations had occurred in connection with the street car strike, and the authorities are today greatly encouraged over the situation. The Big Consolidated officials stated that cars were being operated on every line in the system. Even on the Union street line, which runs through a district thickly populated with iron workers and where it had generally been believed trouble would inevitably come when an attempt should be made by the company to resume operations, cars were running on schedule time today without any trouble. It was said that the detectives who had been hunting for the miscreants who placed nitroglycerine on the tracks and blew up a Euclid avenue car last Sunday night, had finally secured some strong evidence bearing on the case and would make at least two arrests before night fall. A reward of $1,000 will be paid by the Big Consolidated upon the arrest and conviction of the guilty parties.

The president of the Columbia mills is Hon. Frank P. Carpenter of this city. The sale will be completed next week.

1,000,000 GIVEN AWAY.

By a special and particular arrangement with the manufacturers of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, free trial bottles of this great medicine for the Kidneys, Liver, Bladder and Blood, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia and Constipation, will be sent absolutely free, postpaid, to all persons suffering from any of the diseases mentioned above who will send their full name and post office address to the DR. DAVID KENNEDY CORPORATION, Rondout, N. Y., providing they mention this paper when they write.

A very simple test to determine whether your Kidneys or Bladder are diseased is to put some of your urine in a glass tumbler and let it stand 24 hours; if it has a sediment or a cloudy, ropy or stringy appearance, if it is pale or discolored, you do not need a physician to tell you that you are in a dangerous condition. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy speedily cures such serious symptoms as a pain in the back, inability to hold urine, a burning scalding pain in passing it. Frequent desire to urinate especially at night, the staining of linen by your urine and all unpleasant and dangerous effects produced on the system by the use of whiskey and beer.

By a searching investigation it was found that over 91 per cent of the people who sent for a sample bottle were so much benefited by its use that they purchased a large sized bottle of their druggist, which in most cases cured them, while in some cases instances it took as many as two or even three bottles to effect a permanent cure.

Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is sold by all druggists at $1.00 a large bottle, or six bottles for $5.00.

BODY IDENTIFIED

Antonio Cassago Drowned in East River

HE WAS A BIG SILK DEALER

Had About $800 in His Possession

By Associated Press to The Sun.

NEW YORK, July 28.--The body of the unknown man found yesterday in the East river was identified today as the mortgage that of Antonio Cassaga, a wealthy retired silk dealer of New Britain, Conn., formerly of New York. About a week ago, Mr. Cassaga came to this city with $1,000 to start his son in business. He stayed at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Teresa Igina. He left the house Sunday afternoon with more than $800 in his possession to go to Central Park for a walk. He was not seen alive afterwards. No money was found in his possession when the body was discovered and his daughter, who identified the body, believes he was robbed and murdered. The police are investigating.

BIG STRIKE PROBABLE.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

CHICAGO, July 28.--Officials of organized labor here declare the brickmakers' strike is liable to precipitate a general walking out of the building trades unions with forces 50,000 strong thus tying up building operations in the city. Committees from the brickmakers' alliance began their work today.

The brickmakers demand not only a increase in wages but the recognition of the brickmakers' union. What success the strikers will have in their efforts to call out other branches of the building trades will not be determined until the various unions have considered the matter.

WRECK OF PORTIA

Captain Farrell is Blamed for it.

His Master's Certificate Has Been Suspended for Six Months---The Report of the Marine Court Given Out Today.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

HALIFAX, N. S., July 28.--The marine court, which investigated the loss of the Red Cross passenger steamer Portia on Big Fish Shoal, to the westward of Halifax Harbor on the night of July 10, has condemned her commander, Captain W. J. Farrell, as responsible for the wreck, and has suspended his master's certificate for six months, but gives him a mate's certificate for that period in consideration of his heroic conduct in saving the lives of those on board, all of whom escaped except a little boy.

The decision was delivered at noon today by Captain W. H. Smith, R. N., Canadian wreck commissioner, who with Captains Lewis and Anderson, nautical assessors, was associated in the inquiry. The court comments at considerable length on the circumstances leading up to the disaster and from the evidence draws the conclusion that Captain Farrell was guilty of several grave errors in the navigation of his ship, notably running at full speed throughout thick fog, relying too much on dead reckoning to obtain his position and not sounding often enough.

Captain Smith says:

"The vessel was navigated from Cape Sable by dead reckoning, which is not usual in coasting steamers. The course northeast by east half east, set and steered after noon was not a safe and proper one, as the master and officers stated that no tide or current was taken into consideration. The sounding of 72 or 73 fathoms obtained at 6 p. m., should have warned the master that he was to the northward and eastward of the position he had given the vessel and the total neglect of the lead afterwards was unjustifiable. The master states that he was steering for the automatic whistling buoy to the south of Sambro Island and he considered the ship was 17 miles from it in a west southwest direction, and expected to hear the sound of a bomb on Sambro before getting into dangerous proximity to the land. Taking into consideration the previous soundings, he was not warranted in placing such reliance in the position of the ship at that time and had he taken another cast of the lead soon after six o'clock he would no doubt have been convinced of his error.

"It is also quite possible that slight changes may have taken place in the deviation of the compass and no opportunity was offered to check them. The second mate stated that such was the case.

"In this instance, when the master had found a depth of fifty-two or fifty-three fathoms of water with hard bottom, at six o'clock in the evening by sounding, he allowed his ship to proceed upon the same course and speed for nearly fifty minutes afterwards and went to the saloon to take his dinner and only returned to the bridge five or ten minutes before his vessel struck upon a shoal, the speed of the ship having been reduced scarcely five minutes previous.

"Shipping companies no doubt are anxious for their masters to make very quick voyages but written rules should be issued to the officers intimating that no breach of the navigation laws would be sanctioned and they will gain the public confidence when this is known."

The decision proceeds to declare Captain Farrell at fault in six respects, namely: Starting at full speed through thick fog; not blowing the steamer's whistle according to regulations when stopping to take soundings; steering a course that was not justified; absenting himself from the deck when the safety of the vessel required his personal supervision; totally neglecting use of the lead between 6 p. m. and the time of the disaster, which materially contributed to the wreck; and making no allowance for tide or current at any time during the voyage.

The stranding of the ship is attributed to the fact that too fine a course was steered after noon and 1 p. m. during the thick fog and possibly to the influence of a tide augmented by a surface current.

The court recommends that trained quartermasters should be employed to steer passenger steamers, as it is nearly impossible to rely upon the knowledge and skill of many of the men employed as helmsmen.

TOOK HIS LIFE

Young Lawyer Jumped From Fall River Boat

HE WAS ARRESTED FOR FORGERY

He Left Several Letters Behind Him

By Associated Press to The Sun.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., July 28.--Josiah Sullivan, a well known lawyer of this city, and at one time a partner of William J. Hawkins, the young attorney arrested on Saturday night last on the charge of forgery, has committed suicide.

It is surmised he jumped overboard from the steamer Puritan, which plies between New York and Fall River, Mass., during the evening of July 25. A passenger registered as Josiah Sullivan was missing from the steamer on July 25, and in his stateroom were found letters stating that he was deeply involved financially and that he had resolved to end his life.

A letter found in Sullivan's stateroom said:

"This room was occupied by Mr. Josiah Sullivan of Rochester, N. Y., who jumped overboard and into the deep, to [illegible] his troubles [illegible] that his life had been a happy one [illegible] he [illegible] [illegible] with a thing which he [illegible] [illegible] and broke him down physically and financially and brought him to his poor friends, which he feels for more than he [illegible]."

THE FINAL ACTS

Of the Peace Conference at the Hague

ARE BEING ARRANGED TODAY

M. Bourgeois' Plan Will be Accepted

By Associated Press to The Sun.

THE HAGUE, July 28.--The committee charged with the duty of drafting the final acts of the conference met this morning with all the principal delegates in attendance. The impossibility was admitted of arriving at an immediate understanding regarding the form in which the powers not signing the convention might adhere to the decisions of the conference. The committee decided to accept the proposal of M. Bourgeois of the French delegation that this question be left to be settled by subsequent negotiations and that the arbitration convention remain open pending settlement of the form of adhesion.

The plenary conference met this afternoon for final acceptance of the arbitration convention with the protocols. The signatures will be appended tomorrow after the closing of the sitting of the conference.

THE TRIMMED SAILOR HAT.

How to Make Over One That's in Need of a Mid-Summer Renovation.

A WORD ABOUT THE SKIRT TO COME.

New York, July 28.—We decided last week that it was not too early to speak of fall styles, even though the day might be a scorcher and the humidity past endurance. We know, you and I, that fashions are always interesting, and we realize the cooling properties of a good look ahead into the days when summer sun shall melt into delightful October.

Well, as to the autumn dress skirts, they will be made very long and extremely tight, much closer in the hips than those of summer. Think of it! A very fashionable New York woman who arrived home on the steamer the other day from Europe, bringing with her not only a summer supply, but part of an autumn wardrobe as well, assured me that she was actually unable to walk with ease in her new cloth skirts, and, as for being seated, she was obliged to perform the act in a curious way, quite serpentine. She said all the Paris skirts were being made in that manner, and that Paris women were actually starving themselves in an effort to get thin. She gave me, at the same time, a rule for banting, but that is another story, of course.

The skirts, besides being tight around the hips, are also close-fitting around the feet, and they are long. Imagine the positively awful possibilities for either a too redundant figure or an ungraceful one. What enormities in fashion may not be perpetrated with these mermaid skirts clinging to the figure and "swiped" around the feet. But we shall hope for the best. She, graceful thing, weighing 115 and measuring five feet eight, was a dream in a close gray one, silvery and shining with silver braid. There was a yoke of white satin and a turnover collar and a pair of cuffs of turquoise blue, matched to a contrast with the gray. Ah, sigh we here! Farewell cream and mayonnaise! Welcome dry toast and weak tea!

THE FRENCH FOOT.

Why not tell about shoes? We all wear them. The French foot is "coming in." And a disagreeable feeling in one's feet is going out. The fashionable French shoe for autumn will be very broad, and not too pointed. A high heel is the only thing against it, but what cannot one stand when one is not compelled to squeeze one's Trilbys into a pointed shoe? The toes are tipped with leather cut in fancy patterns, and there are many small ornamental features to the shoe, such as scallops, colored buttons and a very fancy set of laces, if they are laced shoes.

We have fallen into great ways this month of flowers. Ribbons have come in with sufficient force to sway us. We are dominated by them from the tiny ribbons that are run through the vest of my lady's insertion front, to the broad ribbon that binds her bodice, making it a thing of wonder and newness. Ribbon, strange to say, has not gone up under the demand, and a woman of my acquaintance who goes to the watering places each summer to sell ribbons at private sale in the summer hotels, says that she is able to sell white ribbon of all widths two cents cheaper than last season.

Skirts are trimmed with ribbons, and you see the ribbon laid flat to form a pattern, or gathered into tiny twisted trimmings that somehow take shape as they are sewed upon the gown.

A girl who met with an accident to the front of her dress skirt by which a pale blue material was quite ruinated with lemonade was able, by this ribbon fashion, to quite renew her gown.

Taking a great quantity of black taffeta silk, cut into one-inch widths, to look like narrow ribbon, she gathered the silk down the middle with a very coarse thread of silk and pulled the thread up until the ribbon made a beautiful shirring. This she sewed, row after row, upon her dress skirt, until the whitened portions were either hidden or were in shadow.

EARLY FALL ETONS.

Another summer fashion is noticed. And that is the wearing of the Eton. From trunk and satchel it has come, or from convenient shop. You see it everywhere. It is short; many still call it a bolero and, having no point in the back, it is not properly an Eton. It is very open in front, with no fastening, and it has the very broad, turned-back revers. These, being generally white, can be kept fresh, and the Eton is an invigorating sight.

A very handsome woman seated upon the piazza of a Saratoga hotel gave voice to the probable reason for the belated popularity of the Eton. "The weather," said she, "is hotter than it was in July, but the coat is worn more. You see, it's because shirt waists have faded and are not so pretty, so, to hide their defects, the Eton is worn." A hazard, but she was right. Certainly a multitude of minor defects, such as woolly [illegible] stripes, distorted arm holes, stretched from their moorings by the tip of an iron, collars that no longer set gracefully upon the neck, and elbows that are thin, can be concealed under the friendly little Eton or bolero.

The sailor hat is giving way. It is undergoing the metamorphosis of age. Having outlived its freshness, it is being treated with a greater degree of consideration. The plain little band which was sewed around the crown in June is now removed, and in its place there is a big soft trimming of mulle or tulle, soft silk or chiffon, anything that makes a big crush. To keep it in shape there is a roll of crinoline, of course, and the chiffon, or mull, or, silk, is wrapped around it.

NEW SAILOR TRIMMINGS.

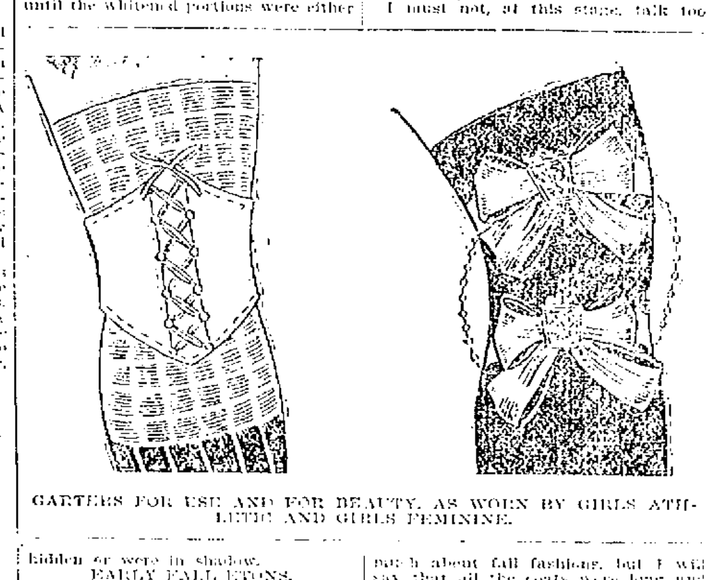

Out of deference to summer, a daisy chain is carried around the crown and completed at the back with two standing quills. Or, if the sailor be broad, it is dampened, turned up at one side and trimmed with tulle and a rose garden. The hat, too, as the face will bear it, is set a little back, to show the waves that must be persuaded to lie upon the forehead nilly willy. There is a way to keep these waves in. The hair is wet with alcohol, and the tongs are held a long time, surely until the hair is dry.

I must not, at this stage, talk too much about fall fashions, but I will say that all the coats were long and tight-fitting, and that none of them had a belt line like the Russian blouse or the belted oxford. The long, straight lines of bust and hips were preserved, and it was easy to see that self-tight garments will be the fashion of winter.

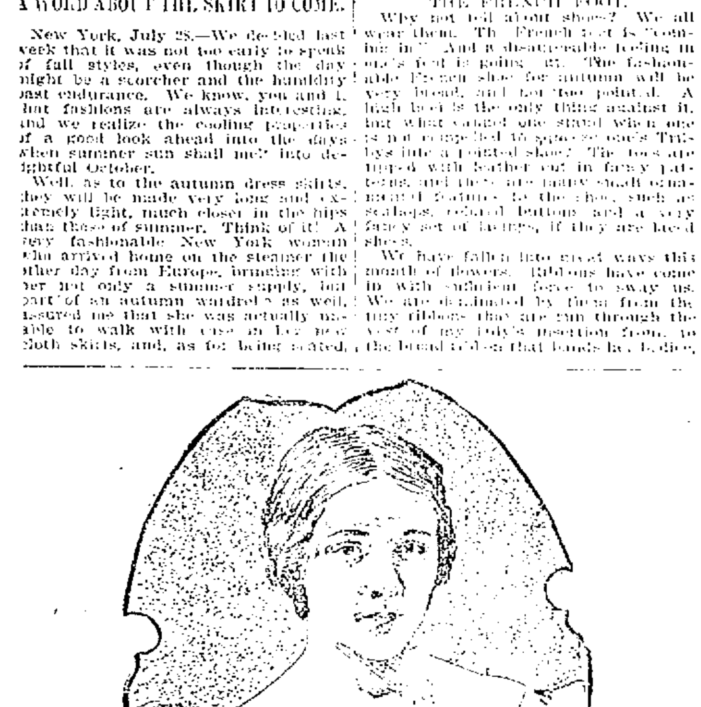

Ballroom dresses are extremely flimsy, and consequently short-lived. They are long enough to engage the feet of the [illegible], and too long to be tolerated by the old-time dancer, who looks at them and withdraws, positive that he could never pilot his lady through the trains that lie stretched upon the floor.

The [illegible] that the [illegible] from the [illegible] than white gauze, with or without dots. It is heavily [illegible] over the hat brim and down over the chin, enveloping the face as in a creamy haze. Its [illegible] has never been [illegible] defects from [illegible] wrinkles. Do not, under any consideration, draw the veil tightly under the chin; rather allow it to fall in soft, [illegible] folds.

HELEN WARD.

GARTERS FOR USE AND FOR BEAUTY, AS WORN BY GIRLS ATHLETIC AND GIRLS FEMININE.

EDNA MAY, THE SUCCESSFUL AMERICAN GIRL WHO SAYS "GIRLS SHOULD DO WHAT THEY LOVE BEST."

SHALL OUR GIRLS GO ON THE STAGE.

Read What Three Great Actresses Say Upon the Possibilities of Success and the Evil and Good of Stage Life.

It is coming the time of year when new theatrical companies go out. All summer the managers have been forming the casts that play the dramas, and from all quarters new aspirants have been pouring in begging for "a chance" to win honor and money upon the stage.

There was a time when stage work was not considered dignified for a girl, but those days have passed away. The good woman of the stage is as respected as the professional woman in any other field.

But of the temptations of life on the road there will always be a chapter to write. A girl, away from home, flattered and feted, is apt to suffer from the malady of having "her head turned." The stage cannot therefore be called "as safe as a church" for a girl; neither is it necessarily bad.

With a view to ascertaining how the stage, both from a moral and from a professional viewpoint, is seen by our leading actresses, the editor of the woman's page wrote to three well-known stars—Edna May, of New York; Ellen Terry, of London, and Ellaline Terriss, of the Theatre Royal, Glasgow.

And this is what they said:

Dear Editor:

I think girls should do what they love best, and if they possess enthusiasm, experience will soon teach them if they have the requisite ability or no. I think it the most delightful profession imaginable, and I don't think any words of mine or of any one else will deter any born actress from finding scope for her ability; and, on the other hand, you will find the incompetent and the black sheep in every profession. Yours very truly,

Edna May.

Dear Sir:

There can be little doubt that the majority of young women who join the theatrical profession do so without any particular qualification for it whatever. Unfortunately, the Cinderella of the arts has no means of questioning her sisters as to their motives, their hopes or their ambitions, there being no formal introduction necessary to her in the shape of some standard examination.

In writing this, please don't think I mean that it is only the very clever who attain popularity. There are many of us who have the good fortune to be looked upon kindly by an indulgent public, and, through some personal magnetism, or whatever it may be, helped out of mediocrity. But I mean in all cases of successful women who are constantly before the public there must be something more to claim attention than a pretty face. Never was there a profession that wanted good recruits more than ours; never was there a calling with greater opportunities to succeed—given the many qualifications.

Let those that start in the race be without them, and a consumptive might as well think of reaching the North Pole. Don't imagine that the life is pleasant and easy; it is very, very hard indeed, and even when you have reached the topmost rung, the fight is fiercest to hold the prize from the thousands who are trying to pull you down. Ask yourself if you have patience, ambition, application and determination added to all else, and if this be the case, embark on the career you have chosen. If you have answered your questions correctly, you will find that there never were such opportunities to be successful.

There is only one answer, and that is, "It depends absolutely on the girl herself." Yours,

Ellaline Terriss.

To the Editor:

Only those who are gifted by the gods in some special degree should seek distinction on the stage. The rest would be wise to make for themselves some other career. Yours sincerely,

Ellen Terry.

NEWPORT CHAIN FAD.

A curious little fad from Newport decrees that the chain shall hang from the neck with its ornament upon it, without attempt at [illegible] lorgnette, fan or whatever else the chain may hold in the dress. An extremely pretty chain of dull gold [illegible] the neck of a pretty girl who was [illegible] on an ocean steamer, and from the chain hung a square [illegible] of gold, with a string of tiny diamonds running diagonally across one side of the case.

The fancy for the little chain worn around the throat is spreading. You see these chains [illegible] beads or of [illegible] stones worn in ballroom [illegible] and you see them upon travelling dresses, where their usefulness is obvious.

THOUGH MISS TERRY IS EVIDENTLY AGAINST THE STAGE FOR THE MAJORITY OF GIRLS, SHE HAS UNQUESTIONABLY ACHIEVED A GREAT SUCCESS HERSELF UPON STAGE LINES.

ELLEN TERRY, THE FOREMOST ENGLISH ACTRESS, GIVES ADVICE TO STAGE-STRUCK GIRLS.

FIFTY YEARS IN TROUSERS.

An Interview With Dr. Mary Walker in Which She Speaks of Her Coming Book and of Her Long Eventful Life.

Washington, July 17.—Dr. Mary Walker stepped off her wheel upon the curb, drew her bicycle toward her, arranged the pedal and looked around. As usual a crowd had gathered, for Dr. Mary is not a usual sight. Dressed in a neat, broadcloth suit, with [illegible] tile, the suit set off by a bright red necktie, the doctor is, to say the very least, unconventional. Yet she bore the scrutiny well. "The only self-made man in America" was used to being stared at.

"What are you going to do next?" asked a friend, a reporter of this newspaper, stepping up to Dr. Mary from the crowd that had gathered.

"Nothing," said she, with a quick smile. "I am resting nowadays and getting ready to die."

"And bicycling?"

"Yes," and the doctor smiled again.

For the past two years people have been asking, "What has become of Dr. Mary Walker?" But no one could answer. When last heard from she was lecturing. Then she dropped out of sight, and nothing was known of her again until she reappeared in Washington, apparently as young as ever, and certainly as pretty. One day last week she went to the photographer's to be taken asleep as she will look in death. And then the public heard of her again.

It was stated that during these intervals of silence Dr. Mary Walker entered a convent and lived in absolute solitude. Yet such is far from being the case. On the contrary, she retired, like any person of means, to a very nice farm near Oswego, and there lives, writes and enjoys herself in retirement. As she herself says, "It is quiet and peaceful here, and nobody knows what I suffer in town."

Yet she is the same little lithe figure you saw at the Centennial; the same short, gray curls fall over her coat collar, and she carries the same dainty little cane which is partly for convenience and partly from habit. Her coat to-day is cut a little more closely and more modishly, but otherwise she is the same Dr. Mary Walker of twenty years ago.

HER EARLY LIFE.

Mary Walker began her martyrdom when she was a girl. Born in 1832, she passed an uneventful girlhood until her father said to her one day: "Never wear corsets. Do not suffer your figure to be deformed by that steel cage." Mary was then sixteen, and her studies in anatomy were already begun under the direction of her father. The girl, looking at the feminine charts, saw the possibilities of the "steel cage," and took an awful dislike to it, a dislike which has lasted her half a century.

Just when Mary Walker began to wear pants—she hates the term trousers—is unknown. But it is certain that she was wearing them in the forties when a mere girl. She began to teach school at an early age, and in 1849 her first "pants" picture was taken. It shows her with a loose Jenny Lind waist, with a skirt sewed to it. Another skirt falls to the knees over a pair of trousers that reach to the ankle.

Meanwhile the girl taught school, studied medicine and wore her men's attire. The little skirt she changed often, sometimes it was short, sometimes long, but it always came to the knees. "It really seemed," she said to your correspondent, in speaking of that time, "as though I never put on my skirt that some one did not suggest that it be made either a little longer or a little shorter."

DR. WALKER'S WAR RECORD.

"When I went to war," says she, "as a doctor I wore my pants and a shirt that came to the knees. It was joined to a woman's waist. Of course I was noticed. During the ten years of the war I let my hair grow long, so everybody would know at sight that I was a woman. I did not want to [illegible] people [illegible]. It is a good deal safer for a woman to wear pants than a skirt. Men will insult a skirt when they will not notice pants. Then a woman can earn a better living in pants than in skirts. I know you will not believe it, but at the present day there are dozens of women in Chicago who wear pants all the time exactly like men, and little cutaway coats and derby hats. Everybody thinks they are men. They earn much better wages dressed as men."

Dr. Walker was so brave during the war and rendered such signal service that Congress awarded her with a medal, which she now wears. After the war she went to England and created a great sensation over there.

Pants, in those days, were arrestable and rotten eggable, and Dr. Walker suffered the bitterness of both. Speaking of that time, she says: "No one knows what I endured. I was the first new woman. I made it possible for woman to do all the great deeds she has accomplished since. But I suffered for it. Even now I am not appreciated. I have got to die before women will know what I have done for them." And then her bright eyes snapped sharply.

While in England Dr. Walker was persuaded to adopt a court dress, and, trying to look pretty, she had a suit made of tarletan, which she wore over long pants. Another court suit was edged with black velvet. But the transparent skirt was not admired, and Dr. Walker went back to the thick one, and finally she discarded all skirts except the skirt of her Prince Albert coat, which she still wears. Her Prince Albert of to-day is modeled on the lines of the one worn by your clergyman, and is, perhaps, made off the same piece of broadcloth.

UNSUCCESSFUL IN MARRIAGE.

The romance in Dr. Walker's life occurred in 1867, when she married a man named Brown. At that time it is claimed that Dr. Walker was on good terms with her relative, Colonel Robert Ingersoll, but that friendship with him broke off when she married Brown.

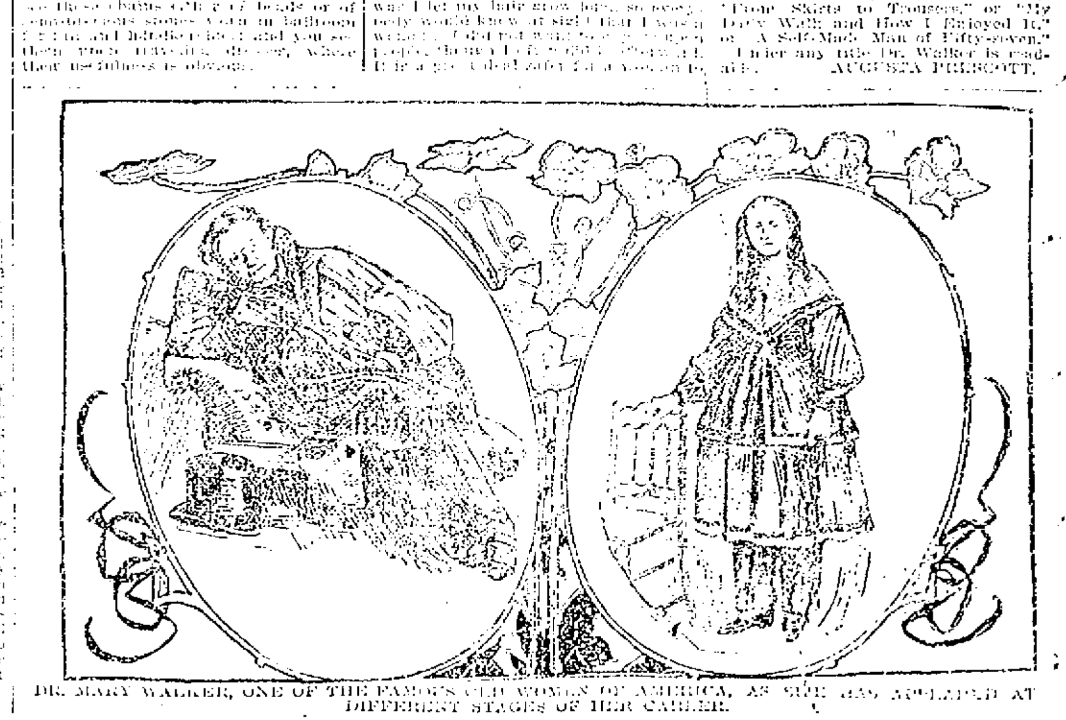

About the marriage there is considerable mystery. Dr. Walker was about thirty-five at the time, slender, petite, sweet-faced and very opinionated. It is said that she lived with Brown just three weeks, and the joke makers declared that the family jar arose over a dispute as to who should wear the pants. The Doctor triumphed, and in a hasty moment packed up a boiled shirt, a pair of cuffs, a clean collar, a toothbrush and a necktie and left Brown. She has always thought marriage a failure since then, though she has been repeatedly asked to reconsider.

"How does Dr. Walker support herself?" is another question asked about this singular woman. Well, she has, in time past, and, perhaps, not so long ago, derived a nice income from her medical practice, at which she is very clever. "Once," says she, "I was called in to treat a man who was dying. I recognized him as one who had tried to kill me. But I did my best for him and pulled him through."

It is stated that, in addition to this, Dr. Walker has a private income. She has earned large sums from her lecture tours, and also from her writings. She is unquestionably very talented, and can do many things well. Those who went to hear her in New York two years ago, to laugh, remained to listen and to listen with growing respect.

Those who know Dr. Walker describe her as very amiable. If she has ideas she keeps them to herself until asked for them. She is an interesting talker, and can "hold" any audience. When she visits Washington it is generally to do some important work for women, but it is said that this time she is here to get her book published. She may call it "Fifty Years in Pants; or, The Struggles of a Manly Woman," "A Plea for the Emancipation of Women," "From Skirts to Trousers," or "My Daily Walk and How I Enjoyed It," or "A Self-Made Man of Fifty-seven." Under any title Dr. Walker is readable.

PITCHER'S BATTLE

Willis and Philippi Did Great Twirling

CHAMPIONS WON FROM COLONELS

Hamilton Made a Fine Catch

By Associated Press to The Sun.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 29.—Yesterday's game was a pitchers' battle between Willis and Philippi. The latter showed a complete reversal of form from the day before when he had to be taken out of the box at the end of three innings. He had the champions at his mercy throughout the game, retiring them in five out of eight innings in order. He struck out five men and gave out one base on balls. The visitors could not do better than make seven hits, three of which they got in the first inning and three in the last, when they scored their runs.

Despite all this the colonels could not win. Willis was more effective. The Louisville got only six hits off his delivery and two bases on balls. They were unable to bunch. In only one inning, the seventh, did the home club get more than one hit and then no one scored. The misplay of the visitors counted for naught, as the colonels failed to score when errors were made. The sensational feature of the game was a one-handed running catch by Hamilton in the eighth that robbed Wagner of an easy home run. The play was cheered.

Star plays were made by members of both teams. Hamilton sprinted for Wagner's long fly in the second, taking it near the centre field fence, saving a homer. Collins made a brilliant running dash for Leach's pretty bunt, retiring the runner on a quick throw without waiting to recover. Ritchey made a difficult stop of Hamilton's hot grass cutter back of second retiring the swift little traveller while Clingman took a chance equally as hard offered by Tenney and got his man.

The score by innings:

Innings	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9

Earned runs—Boston 3. Stolen bases, Clarke, Wagner. Sacrifice hits, Tenney, Duffy. First base on balls, Off Philippi 2, off Willis 2. Struck out, by Philippi 5, by Willis 2. Double play, Wagner and Kelly. Left on bases, Louisville, 7, Boston 4. Time 2h., 15m. Umpires, Manassau and Smith. Attendance, 1500.

The other games resulted as follows: At St. Louis, St. Louis 5, Brooklyn 0. At Chicago, Philadelphia 4, Chicago 2.

At Baltimore, First game, Baltimore 6, Cleveland 1, second game, Baltimore 8, Cleveland 2.

At Pittsburg, First game, Washington 4, Pittsburg 1, second game, Pittsburg 6, Washington 5.

NORTH CHELMSFORD

JOHN LARKIN OF THIS VILLAGE HAS ENLISTED IN THE 26th REGIMENT.

John Larkin of North Chelmsford, was accepted at Lawrence Thursday as a member of the 26th regiment. He is 30 years of age, a native of Bolton, England, and is a musician. Larkin has enlisted in the volunteer army. He enlisted in the 8th regiment band and was in the Cuban campaign. Later he was transferred to the 6th regiment band and served in Porto Rico under Bandmaster Stiles, who has been appointed leader of the 26th regiment's band. He is a brother of Clarence Larkin, the Lowell Musician. Larkin is above the age limit, but the fact of his having served previously permits of his enlisting within three months of the date of his discharge without regard to the age restriction. This time limit expires in two days. When informed of this fact, he remarked, "I'm in luck for once."

Mr. Joseph McCrone, section foreman for the Boston & Maine railroad in this village, is visiting his many friends in different parts of New Hampshire.

This afternoon the grand shooting tournament of the North Chelmsford Rod and Gun club at their grounds near Wannalancit Park is taking place. The club has as fine a range as there is in this vicinity. Many of the first-class marksmen from the Graniteville Rod and Gun club are expected to be present and the newly organized Rod and Gun club of West Chelmsford will also be well represented.

North Chemsford politicians do not seem to take much interest in the great contest for the office of lieutenant-governor as yet, but during the next few weeks there may be some effective work advanced by both the followers of Mr. Guild and Mr. Bates.

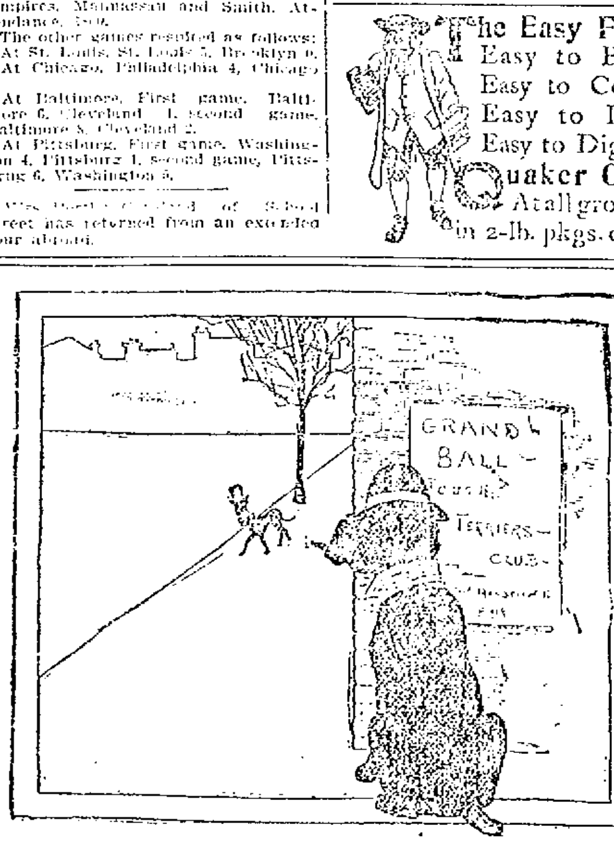

It is quite early yet to predict which man may capture the Chelmsford delegates, but it is generally thought that the Guild men will come out victorious.

This winter promises to be a good one for checkers in this village. Already the crack checker players are getting into the game and many matches will be held. The Clover Social club has a large number of good checker players, as has the St. John's T. A. society.

The Clipper Base Ball club has several open dates for ball games and they would be pleased to meet some of the best teams in Lowell. All challenges should be sent to Manager John J. Gray of this village.

Miss Edith Merrill of North Chelmsford is to observe her 18th birthday next week, August 5, and a large number of invitations have been issued. Mr. Ayer of the Falconheight cafe will cater.

OUTING OF YOUNG PEOPLE OF THE WESTMINSTER CHURCH.

A jolly party of young people from the Westminster Presbyterian church enjoyed a most delightful outing on the Merrimack river the destination of the excursionists being Harmony Grove. The affair was supervised by Mr. Albert Johnson, who by his efficiency proved himself to be the right man in the right place. In the party were about 35 people and they left the Pawtucket landing at 7.45 o'clock in the popular steamer May Queen. On board the boat a light lunch was provided and an excellent program of popular airs furnished by the Excelsior orchestra, Louis Weller, leader. After a brief stop at Harmony Grove the return trip was made at 10 o'clock.

MILLIE L.

"TOMMY" McDERMOTT'S RUNNER TOOK FIRST MONEY.

"Tom" McDermott's running horse, Millie L., scored a complete triumph at Combination Park last night. In the half mile running race, "Millie L." took first money in two straight heats. She was ridden by Young Flood, who handled the horse well and brought her under the wire in good time. Millie L. had a walk over in each heat, her time being 53 1-2 and 54 1-4s.

On Thursday evening the horse ran second in a field of fast ones. Master McDermott has pitted his horse against the fastest in this section of the country and she has always made a very creditable showing, never failing to win her share of the prize money for her enthusiastic young owner.

"Millie L." will be seen on the Fair Grounds track during the Middlesex North Agricultural fair and her owner intends to give her by careful training every opportunity to display her speed.

Tommy's friends are congratulating him today on the admirable exhibition given by his stepper at Combination park during the present week.

DREYFUS IF FREE

Will Not Sue State For Damages

BUT WILL ACCEPT ONE FRANC

He Refuses to Coin Money From Wife's Tears

By Associated Press to The Sun.

PARIS, July 29.—Dreyfus' attorneys Messrs. Demange and Labori, tell your correspondent that when their client is acquitted he will not sue for damages but as a matter of principle will merely demand an indemnity of one franc (20 cents).

In France the law recognizes the right of the victim of a judicial error to damages from the state, which must proceed against all denunciators or perjurers responsible for the condemnation, proceed against them criminally and before civil courts also, and recover if possible the sums paid to the person wrongly convicted. Should Dreyfus be acquitted, public [illegible] would insist that he be awarded [illegible] anything he demands.

In such a case, Du Paty de Clam, General Gonse, De Pellieux, [illegible] Boisdeffre, Mercier and others might [illegible] his conviction would be sued [illegible] by the state to recover the [illegible].

This would mean ruin for [illegible] for neither is very wealthy. [illegible] Dreyfus' friends strenuously [illegible] to follow this course which they consider just not only [illegible] his own account but for its moral effect.

Dreyfus however, steadfastly refuses to "make money out of [illegible] tears and suffering." He [illegible] intended to draw his back pay as officer during colonial service but the French law does not allow this. Therefore 20 cents is all the unfortunate captain will ask for his physical tortures and mental anguish for five years.

PATRIOTIC MEET

Of Tewksbury Grange Held Last Evening

VERY INTERESTING PAPERS WERE READ

Clarence Clark Won Apple Biting Contest

The much talked of patriotic meeting under the auspices of the Tewksbury Grange, last evening, in the Grange hall, proved a grand success, both in attendance, sociability and instruction, as many of the papers read were masterly efforts. Mr. Geo. Forrestall read a very interesting paper on the "History of Progress," and was followed by a very pleasing vocal selection, "Break the News to Mother," by Miss Jeannette W. Pike, a recent graduate of the Tewksbury high school and well known in Lowell musical circles.

Miss Pennings read a paper on "Our Spanish War, Could It Have Been Avoided?" There was then singing of a medley of national airs, by a chorus of 15 voices. Mr. Albert S. Moore then read a paper "What Shall We Do with the Philippines?" Miss Edith Forris hall in her usual efficient style, gave piano selections, also acted as accompanist for the singing and furnished music for the dancing, which followed. One of the most pleasing features of the evening's entertainment was the apple biting contest, between young ladies and gentlemen. Strings were strung along the hall in clothes line fashion and at intervals were suspended small strings, to each of which apples were attached by their stems. The person obtaining the largest bite was to obtain the prize. Some of the contestants in their attempt to "swallow an apple" in one bite, would receive a severe blow in the face, the apple rebounding in "punching bag style" with considerable force. This made each competitor set with caution. The prize winner eventually proved to be Clarence Clark and he for his efforts, came into possession of a box of Uneeda biscuits.

There will be a grand reunion of Granges of this vicinity, including the Tewksbury, Dracut and Andover Granges, at Haggett's Pond, Thursday, August 24.

The Grange lawn party postponed from last Tuesday, will take place next Tuesday.

It will be decided tomorrow when and where the Centre Congregational Sunday school picnic will be held.

GUILT CHARGED

Tewksbury Farmer Appears in U. S. Court

FOR SENDING OBJECTIONABLE MAIL MATTER

He Was Held in $1000 Bail.

D. E. Sproule, a Tewksbury farmer, appeared before United States Commissioner Fiske in the United States district court Wednesday on the charge of having sent objectionable letters to one Harry L. Shedd of South Lowell last June and whose case was continued until Thursday, waived examination and was held in $1000 for the September term of the United States district court.

Sproule admits having sent the letter but claims that he was not aware that his doing so was in any way a violation of the law. Mr. Fiske fixed his bail first at $500 and Louis Smith, a Tewksbury friend of the defendant, offered to go on for him. Then District Attorney Casey put in a request that under the circumstances the prisoner having practically admitted his guilt, the bail be raised from $500 to $1000. The bail was raised. Smith was unable [illegible] possession of property to that amount and Sproule was committed to jail.

The arrest was made by a United States [illegible] at the instigation of Mr. Shedd who made the complaint.

APPLE BITING CONTEST AT TEWKSBURY.

C. F. KEYES, - - Auctioneer

THURSDAY, August 3rd.
AT FOUR O'CLOCK P. M.

Mortgagee's sale of a two-tenement house, store, and about 2035 square feet of land at Nos. 193 and 195 Broadway.

I will sell on the premises, rain or shine, without limit or reserve, a two-tenement house, store and about 2035 square feet of land, at Nos. 193 and 195 Broadway. The house contains fourteen rooms and a store, parlor, sitting room, kitchen, three sleeping rooms, pantry and two finished attics, with the upstairs tenement; the store, sitting room, kitchen, three sleeping rooms, pantry and finished attic with the lower tenement. It is in good repair, all piped for gas, separate cemented cellars, with water closets in same and rents for about $25.00 a month. The store has two large windows, with a large door in the centre. It would make a fine meat, grocery, or in fact, any kind of a store.

The lot has a frontage of about 30feet on Broadway and runs about 52 feet in depth; it is all concreted around the house and there is a large yard in the rear.

LOCATION—The property is located on the northerly side of Broadway, it is the second lot from corner of Mt. Vernon street coming east. Electric cars pass the door every twelve minutes. It is but two minutes' walk to several industries and about five minutes to other large industries. It is close to schools and churches and taking everything into consideration, I think this is an excellent chance for investors.

Terms: $300 to be paid to the auctioneer as soon as the property is struck off. Other terms at sale.

CLARA WHITING, Executrix.

FRIDAY, August 4th.
AT FIVE O'CLOCK P. M.

Administratrix' sale of the beautiful Courtney residence, barn and about 9300 square feet of land at No. 69 Third street, Centralville.

To settle up the estate of the late Wm. F. Courtney, I will sell on the premises, rain or shine, on the day advertised above to the highest bidder, the beautiful residence at No. 69 Third street, Centralville.

THE HOUSE contains eleven rooms, bath and pantry, large cemented cellar partitioned for vegetables, preserves, etc; also set tubs in cellar. There is a parlor, sitting room, dining room, kitchen, two sleeping rooms and pantry on the first floor, five large beautiful chambers and bath on the second floor, hot and cold water, furnace heat, marble mantles in parlor, sitting room and dining room; winding stairs from front hall. It is in good repair and with a few hundred dollars laid out on this property, it would make it one of the best residences in Centralville.

THE BARN is about 28x35 feet; it has good flooring, can stable three horses, five carriages, the cellar is divided, and it makes a grand place for hens.

THE LOT has a frontage on Third street of about 62 1-2 feet and runs to the extreme depth of about 155 feet. It has an excellent lot of apple, peach, pear and other kinds of fruit trees, making about 16 in all. It is a beautiful lot with plenty of room.

LOCATION. The place is situated on the southerly side of Third street, about 100 yards from Bridge. It cannot be surpassed for a residential site, this being an excellent neighborhood. It is but one minute's walk to the electric cars on Bridge street; you can walk to old post office square in 10 minutes, so you see it is quite handy to the city and still in as fine a residential portion of the city as could be desired. It is close to schools and churches, and viewing this property over with all its advantages, it will certainly make as fine a residence as there is in Centralville. Parties looking to purchase a nice home should see the place at once.

TERMS. $500 to be paid to the auctioneer at time and place of sale. Other terms at sale. For further information call at the office of the auctioneer.

By order of ALICE COURTNEY.

SATURDAY, August 4th.
AT FIVE O'CLOCK P. M.

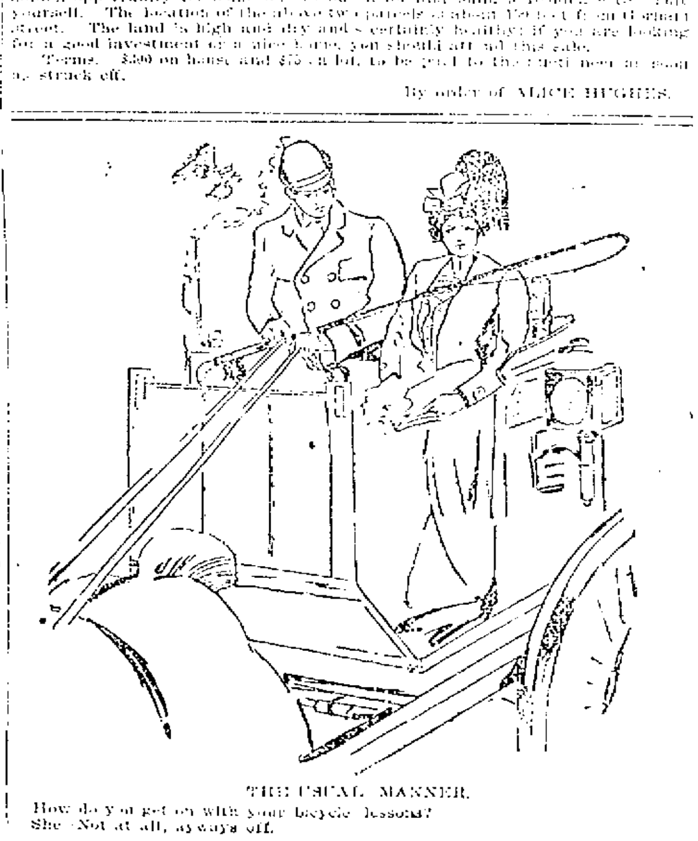

The Hughes estate in two parcels, a two tenement house and about [illegible] square feet of land at No. 428 Lincoln street; also about 3600 square feet of land on Maple street in rear of the above.

I have made arrangements with the auctioneer to sell the above property on the premises on the day advertised, rain or shine, for just what you will give, as I am too far advanced in years to care for or improve this property. The house is a two-tenement house of eight rooms, four rooms with each tenement and rents for $8.00 each. The connections for water closets are in the cellar but are not connected; the house is in good repair inside and out and it will certainly prove a good investment or a nice a home for some one. The lot has a frontage of 50 feet on Lincoln street and is [illegible].

No. 2. The Maple street lot is about 3600 square feet, with frontage of 51 feet on Maple street. It has a number of fruit and shade trees [illegible] golden opportunity for some one to buy a lot and build a residence for yourself. The location of the above two parcels is about 100 feet from Gorham street. The land is high and dry and is certainly healthy; if you are looking for a good investment or a nice home, you should attend this sale.

Terms. $300 on house and $75 on lot, to be paid to the auctioneer as soon as struck off.

By order of ALICE HUGHES.

LORD SALISBURY, Who as Premier of England Refuses to Recede on the Warlike Movements Against the Transvaal.

A DIRE CALAMITY

Would be War With Dependent States

By Associated Press to The Sun.

LONDON, July 29. In the House of Commons yesterday, the Colonial Office vote furnished the Liberals with an opportunity for a debate upon the government's policy in the Transvaal. H. Campbell-Bannerman, the Liberal leader, said he thought in view of the negotiations pending, that reticence and reserve must rule debate. While he did not sympathize with Boer opposition to franchise extension, he saw nothing from beginning to end of the story to justify armed intervention. War in South Africa with one of the dependent states would be one of the direst calamities possible. The speaker pleaded for further friendliness and prudence through Dutch sympathisers at the Cape. He saw no reason why this should not be a conspicuous success as a similar course had followed in Canada in time past.

The Secretary of State for the Colonies, Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, opened his speech in reply by declaring that Sir H. Campbell-Bannerman's language was calculated to embarrass the action of the government.

Mr. Charles Peterson of Uncle Sam's navy, is visiting his cousin, Mr. John Galley, of 82 Chelmsford street.

TRUE'S ELIXIR
is not a stimulant but a blood purifying, cleansing and harmless mixture of vegetable ingredients which cures disorders of the digestive tract and expels worms. It does not whip the tired organs into temporary activity as most remedies do, followed by an equal reaction, but True's Elixir removes the cause of the trouble and its tonic effects are due to good, sound digestion and pure blood, which follow its use. A favorite family medicine for 47 years. Its popularity is due entirely to its cures. Ask your druggist for it. 35 cents a bottle. DR. J. F. TRUE & CO., AUBURN, ME.

Police Claim That Curran Carried Dynamite

They Also Say That They Found Dynamite and Gun Powder in His Room—The Police Have Had Him Under Surveillance for Some Time.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

NEW YORK, July 29.—Francis J. Curran, 27 years old, formerly a motorman on the Second avenue line, and James Smith, 32 years old, a striking motorman of the same line, were held today in police court, the former in $1,000 bail and the latter as a suspicious person. They were arrested last night. The police say that Curran had in his possession a stick of dynamite fitted with four percussion caps. The stick is four inches long and three inches wide and is made so that it can be fitted to a rail. The piece of dynamite was rolled in paper and wrapped in insulating tape. The caps were so placed that they could be exploded when the stick was placed upon a car rail.

The detectives also say they found in Curran's room about 75 pounds of dynamite and giant powder and some fuses and caps. Curran, according to the police, has served two terms in Sing Sing prison for burglary. He has been under police surveillance for some time and is said to have experimented with small quantities of dynamite on the tracks of the Second avenue line. He was discharged from the Second avenue road prior to the recent strike.

Smith was arrested only because he was with Curran when the latter was taken into custody. When arraigned in the Yorkville court today, the detectives who arrested them stated that since the strike began, they had mingled with the strikers disguised as laborers. They frequently heard talk of using dynamite.

SALISBURY'S PLAN

Opens an Easy Way For President Kruger

Englan dand Germany Want to See a Chinese-Japanese Alliance—Gen. de Negrier's Disgrace Has Created a Profound Impresion—Alliance Between France and Germany Against England Discussed.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

LONDON, July 29. The Marquis of Salisbury having at last broken silence on the Transvaal question in so decided a manner, it may be expected that President Kruger will hardly be likely to refuse to listen to the government's new proposal for a joint commission to examine the franchise bill. This proposal meets varying criticism here.

Liberals are inclined to regard it as another instance of the inevitable tendency of the Salisbury government to shelve every difficulty by referring it to a commission.

Mr. Labouchere calls it a climb-down on Mr. Chamberlain's part; and undoubtedly it savors more of Salisbury than of Chamberlain.

Others think it a concession to the Transvaal's contention thatthe matter should be referred to to arbitration. All agree, however, that it forms a practical bridge of which Kruger can avail himself to retire from an impossible position.

Mr. A. J. Balfour, First Lord of the Treasury and government leader in the House of Commons, gave another strong hint in the Commons yesterday announcing in reply to a question that in the unfortunate event of war, there was no intention to employ other than white troops.

THE COWES REGATTA.

The Cowes regatta is anticipated with keen interest. An immense gathering of yachts and yachtsmen is expected. The Shamrock sails for America practically untried. The entries for the Queen's Cup at Cowes include the Brittania, Meteor and Satanita. If the Meteor competes it is hoped the contest will throw some light upon the present capabilities of the Britannia and the value of the Shamrock as a cup challenger.

CHINA—JAPANESE ALLIANCE.

The prospect of a China-Japanese alliance has been welcomed by England and Germany on the ground that it will re-invigorate China and enable her to resist the Russian advance.

The Spectator in the course of an interesting article this week points out that this is a mistaken idea, and asserts that Japanese re-organization of the Chinese army and navy and finances would be successful because the Japanese are more in sympathy with Chinese national feeling than western nations. The combined Japanese and Chinese navies would be able to prevent any invading army reaching China by sea.

Thus, it is argued, China would be again a powerful nation, able to exclude European trade from Manchuria and threaten India through Thibet, while a Japanese victory over Russia, even if possible, would be a victory of barbarism over civilization and could be of no possible benefit to Europe.

RATHER POOR RACING.

Though the attendance at the Goodwood race meeting this week beat all records it was largely made up of faces familiar at previous meetings such as the Prince of Wales, the Duke and Duchess of York, the Duke of Cambridge, the Duke and Duchess of Marlborough, the Duke and Duchess of Devonshire, the Earl and Countess of Aberdeen and the Earl of Rosebery. Among the new comers were the Count and Countess Boni de Castellane. The quality of the racing matters but little and certainly this week's card was below par both as to the number and quality of the entries. The pleasure seekers made the usual show on the lawn and there was the usual picnic under the trees, the participants enjoying themselves to the fullest extent. This was almost the closing big function of the season, only the Cowes regatta remaining before the final disintegration of society until late in the autumn.

The weather was typical of Goodwood meetings and furnished occasion for the display of toilettes, although colored muslin gowns, the simplicity of which was noticeable, were generally voted to be the most attractive.

The male members of the royal family wore tweed suits and low hats, while many of the best known men were dressed in flannel suits and wore straw hats, which was quite a new departure at this meeting.

GEN NEGRIER'S DISGRACE.

The disgrace of General de Negrier has created a profound impression, not only in France, but all over Europe, and has brought into prominent notice the depth of the civil as well as the military courage possessed by the new French minister of war, General the Marquis de Galliffet. Before him the [illegible] patriots who threatened terrible vengeance with the army if they were thwarted by the republic [illegible] and fall to pieces, and the public is beginning to realize that at last the right man has been found to suppress the real traitors of the army, those who degraded its honor and dragged its uniform [illegible] and intrigue. It is [illegible] of the change in the situation to see General de Pellieux, who in full [illegible], attempted to bully the jury into the [illegible] for a [illegible] conviction of Zola [illegible] to which he has been [illegible]. When General de Pellieux [illegible] Colonel Picquart's rooms he found a bundle of love letters from a Madame M. the wife of a well known judge.

wife of a well known judge, to Colonel Picquart. He packed up all the letters carefully and sent them to the woman's husband, who upon the evidence they furnished obtained a judicial separation from her. When asked by General de Galliffet if he had sent the letters, General de Pellieux denied on his word of honor that he had done so, but the minister of war found that the general had been lying and hence punishment was imposed on him in even greater degree than it would otherwise have been. The removal of General de Negrier tends to the salvation of the republic, as if his flagrant insubordination had been overlooked, the discipline of the army could scarcely have been maintained.

Details of the interview between General de Galliffet and General de Negrier show how misplaced was the confidence of the public in General de Negrier. When taxed with issuing seditious circulars, instead of boldly sticking to his guns, the general equivocated, prevaricated and behaved like a poltroon until forced into a corner. General de Galliffet then treated him like a whipped school boy and ordered him to go forthwith and fetch the original documents. Even then General de Negrier had not the courage to return until General de Galliffet sent him a command to come and not forget the circular.

General de Galliffet's communication, issued yesterday in which he avowed full responsibility for the disciplinary measure toward generals, contrasted so strikingly with the pusillanimity of previous French ministers of war, will add to the respect both of the army and the nation for him, and fully justifies Premier Waldeck-Rousseau's bold step in appointing him to prescribe for a grave political disease. No member of the general staff has dared to lift a finger against General de Galliffet. General Zurlinden left Paris without a murmur. General de Pellieux who lied to his superior only asks for money; Generals de Boisdeffre and Gonze have expressed a desire to save their tool, Lieut. Col. Du Paty de Clam.

EMPEROR WILLIAM'S POSITION.

The National Review, in an article discussing the probability of an alliance between France and Germany against England, has reached the conclusion that such a move is within the bounds of practical politics. The writer points out that Germany's future expansion must be colonial and that France has similar interests. In this respect, both France and Germany are somewhat barred by England's widespread holdings. The common belief that England is the enemy of every power with colonial or maritime ambitions, the writer asserts, supplies both Frenchmen and Germans with an argument in support of union. Emperor William, it is argued, is acting upon the supposition that, much as France dislikes Germany, she must dislike England more after the Fashoda incident. The Emperor dreams of forming a coalition of central and western powers of the continent, to be used, firstly, against England; secondly, against the United States and finally against Russia, although at the commencement the latter power will be included in the German firm.

The National Review writer finds in these dreams an explanation of the hitherto almost inexplicable policy of the German emperor towards the United States. The article continues:

"The reason for Emperor William's seeming desire to unnecessarily quarrel with a state of such gigantic strength is that he wished to assume the position of champion of Europe against the trans-marine powers."

The article says further: "To the continent, before 1898, the United States appeared a huge, drowsy monster that spent its energy in rare moments of wakefulness in nibbling the lion's tail. No one objected much to this, but when the huge beast shook itself and planted one paw upon the Spanish West Indies and another upon the Philippines, it became an object of real terror to European statesmen who did not know whom it might next attack. The conditions were all the more unnerving as England refused to walk into the trap and turn her navy against the United States. So the events of 1898 only served to bring the two trans-marine powers together."

Messenger Boys go Out for Second Time

INSIST ON GETTING MORE PAY

They Left Their Jobs at Midnight

By Associated Press to The Sun.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., July 29—The Western Union messenger boys today went on strike for the second time this week. The first strike occurred on Thursday when about 200 stopped work. They wanted 3 cents instead of 2 cents on all messages; payment for undelivered messages and 60 cents for night work instead of 50. Having made no formal demands at that time, Supt. Gill induced them to return that same day and present any grievances. This they did, but towards last midnight, while delivering messages at the newspaper offices, some of them learned that an advertisement had been inserted in the papers for 200 boys and the strike was at once declared on again.

Linemen and clerks were pressed into service today by the company.

GREAT FISHING TRIP.

A correspondent sends the following: The many friend of James S. McNabb will be pleased to hear of his succesful fishing excursion of last Thursday. Jim celebrated his 18th birthday by taking a few of his friends out to North Chelmsford, back of the Alkezar pavilion. He proved the most successful of all, by capturing the white whale which was sighted off Boston harbor last week. Jim Dandy was made happy by the sight of a shark on his line. Tom Murphy's eyes stuck out when he saw that cute little gold fish. Frank Donahue is to be congratulated on his horny pout. Mat Connors was keenly disappointed when he saw only a 25 lb trout. And last but not least little Jimmie Conlon, who succeeded after much effort in landing a minnow. The only disagreeable feature of the day was the thunder storm which struck terror to the hearts of all. Any one wishing to see these marvelous trophies can do so by calling on Jimmie. They will be on exhibition for a week when they will be taken to the Zoo at Mountain Rock.

JAMES McCASHIN, Who Is Gradually Being Ossified.

AN OSSIFIED MAN

WHICH HAS PUZLLED MEDICAL SCIENCE

Cannot Control Muscles or Nerves

KEPT ALIVE ON LIQUID FOOD

Has Endured Six Years' Constant Pain

Lying as mutely most of the time as a carved image, hearing through the open window the noisy exuberance of the youth of the North Common, but unable even to gaze upon the happy children there at play, Mr. James McCashin of 4 Willie avenue personifies patience as he helplessly waits nature's release from one of the strangest, yes, and saddest fates that could blight a strong, healthy and industrious citizen such as he was when last he walked the streets of Lowell.

To describe Mr. McCashin as a paralytic does not begin to express his strange condition. He is more than that. He is in an unaccountable stage of paralysis known as ossification: in other words this patient sufferer is an ossified man.

Mr. McCashin six years ago was a cuff knitter in the Lawrence hosiery. He stood nearly six feet tall, weighed about 185 pounds and was the picture of health as his portrait presented in this issue and made from a photo taken while he was in good health will indicate. Today he is little more than a living skeleton, his body from the head down apparently devoid of life.

His case has been considered by nearly all of Lowell's leading physicians and many outside specialists, and no one of these has possessed the knowledge of a remedy for his sad plight. And yet Mr. McCashin is far more patient than many who are kindly endowed by nature and though a constant sufferer for six long years no word of complaint has ever escaped his lips.

A Sun reporter having heard of this strange case visited Mr. McCashin at his home in Willie avenue and found the sufferer in a cozy and well furnished room overlooking the North common. Though unable to turn his head to the slightest angle, Mr. McCashin bade the reporter welcome indicating a chair by a motion of his clear blue eyes which even the ravages of six years have not dimmed. A brief conversation ensued, the invalid talking with difficulty, owing to the fact that his jaws no longer perform their functions, but are inanimate and closed tightly together.

Mr. McCashin, the writer learned in the course of his conversation is 41 years of age and well known about old ward one. He has a wife and four children.

Up to six years ago, he was physically perfect, always enjoying good health and possessed of more than ordinary strength.

About that time, however, he noticed that he was becoming somewhat stiffened at his work. At first he paid no attention to the ailment, believing that it was only a temporary indisposition that would soon wear away. But with the increasing stiffness came gradual loss of appetite, sleep and flesh, and finally Mr. McCashin noted with alarm that he was losing control of his muscles and nerves, the first indication of it being in one of his heels which turned on him when he walked, no matter how hard he tried to control it. Then his knees began to work unnaturally and his hands refused to obey the dictates of his will and he was forced to discontinue work. He called in a doctor who treated him unsuccessfully for muscular rheumatism.

As he grew worse, he was attended by several physicians some of whom believed him to be suffering from a nervous trouble; others, and as he believes himself, a spinal derangement affecting the entire system.

Despite the efforts of the doctors, Mr. McCashin soon became totally helpless, his muscles working every way but that in which he would have them. His neck became stiff preventing him moving his head to either side and it was necessary to carry him about. He was sent to a hospital and after being a short time there, he was sent home to die, the hospital authorities doubting that he could live longer than a few weeks. But that was five years ago and the sufferer still endures, though in all that time he never enjoyed a moment's freedom from pain except under the soothing influence of opiates. In all that time he has had only one gleam of hope and that a few years ago when doctoring with a Canadian specialist by correspondence. Then he began to improve but while in his chair in the garden caught cold and relapsed into his old state from which he has never recovered. Up to a few months ago, Mr. McCashin enjoyed a brief respite from the bed, being able to sit in a chair when properly propped up, although unable to change his position. Since then, however, he has lost his equilibrium entirely and if placed in a chair, would fall, to use his own illustration, just as a lead pencil would fall if one attempted to stand it on its point.

He is taken daily from bed while the latter is being changed but it is necessary to hold him until he is put back. The long period on his back has had a terrible effect upon that portion of his anatomy, causing great and painful ulcers to gather there. Since he has been confined to his bed, Mr. McCashin has been unable to read the papers for before that time he followed the news of the day through the papers which were placed on a stand before him, an attendant turning the pages. He read everything, the smallest item not escaping his notice. Now, the members of the family read for him. His memory is remarkable and though practically out of the world for nearly a decade, he is as well informed as the average man on general topics, lacking only the details gleaned by observation of events.

The pleasures of this remarkable man are few and it might give a clearer idea of his helplessness to note the fact that his only nourishment is liquid food fed to him on a spoon through an aperture between his tightly closed jaws, made a few years ago by sawing away his front teeth for when his jaws went together, no human power could get them open again. The sawing of his teeth thus not only made it possible to feed him but enabled him to continue to talk, though only with difficulty. For a time he took a little solid food chopped up finely but long since he lost all desire for food and takes it now merely as a matter of necessity.

His principal pleasure is that derived from smoking, for strange as it may seem, he can smoke a little. His pipe is of the corncob variety with a long stem. When he wishes to smoke the stem is put to his mouth and the bowl rests between his rigid hands. The pipe is lighted for him and he puffs away with great enjoyment. He smokes, however, are necessarily very brief, for once smoking he is powerless to remove the pipe from his mouth. He has many callers who entertain him at the piano and by singing and talking to him. He rarely sleeps and then generally his sleep is not of the natural order. His nerves and muscles constantly twitch and pain and it is only by the almost continuous use of opiates that he gets even a crumb of comfort out of his monotonous existence.

When asked about his preference as to weather, Mr. McCashin stated that he preferred cold weather and artificial heat, which can be regulated to suit him; and could the housewife who loses patience upon seeing a swarm of flies in her house contemplate this man, unable to brush the little tormentors from his face, she would forever hold her peace.

Mr. McCashin's position in bed would be most uncomfortable to even a healthy person. He is forced to lie flat on his back, his long and bony hands meet over his waist, his knees drawn high in the air, and the muscles constantly twitching them toward his body. When taken from bed he maintains that position and it cannot be changed.

Thus for six years he has been a pitiable victim of nature's unkindliness. How long a fate is to be meted out to him, no human power can tell.

DEATHS.

TROMBLAY—After a long and painful illness, covering a period of almost three years, Miss Nellie Tromblay, aged 27 years, died at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Tromblay, 28 Cady street this morning. Mr. Tromblay is the well known engineer at the Parker building.

The young woman had lingered between life and death for the past few weeks and anxious watchers, momentarily expected the end, but with wonderful tenacity she clung to the ever-weakening thread that linked her existence with mortal life. Although suffering great pain at times, she bore her trials with a Christian fortitude and never complained or caused her folks the least unnecessary anxiety. She received her religious training and education at Notre Dame academy, this city. A wide circle of friends will sadly miss the sweet smile and ever pleasant greeting of the estimable young woman.

During her long illness, loving hands and hearts had done all that was possible to alleviate her sufferings and she ever appreciated the friendly offices in her behalf, and showed by every action her appreciation. The end although foreseen came as it always does with a shock to those interested, the last spark of life flickering out as the light of a new day dawned.

Funeral Monday forenoon from St. Peter's church.

SHALVEY—The many friends and relatives of Thomas Shalvey will be pained to hear of the death of his wife at her home, corner of Marion and Broadway. Mrs. Shalvey has been a constant, though patient sufferer for more than a year. She was a devout Catholic and a member of St. Patrick's church. Mrs. Shalvey had a most agreeable disposition and to know her was to love her and in her loss the community loses a good Christian woman, and her devoted husband a faithful and loving wife. Besides her husband she leaves two daughters, Mary E. and Margaret E., also two brothers, John and Stephen. The funeral will take place Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

PRES. DIAZ

OF MEXICO TO VISIT BOSTON NEXT FALL.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

BOSTON, July 29.—It is probable that President Diaz of Mexico will visit this city in October. The distinguished Mexican soldier and statesman will it is expected, visit Chicago during that month when it is intended to celebrate the 28th anniversary of the great fire by the laying the corner stone of the United States government building.

Mayor Quincy is in receipt of a letter from Charles H. Gordon, chairman of the committee having charge of the Chicago celebration, which is to be held on October 9, in which he states that President Diaz will attend there. He further states that it is intended after he shall have finished his visit in Chicago to take him and his party in a special train to a number of the most prominent cities of the country.

"In considering the possible itinerary to be hereafter submitted to him for his approval," says Mr. Gordon, "it was thought to arrange for a stop at Boston for a day, when an opportunity would be given your citizens for extending such courtesies as might be thought desirable."

In consequence of this assurance, Mayor Quincy has sent an invitation to President Diaz to visit this city. It is as follows:

To His Excellency, Gen. Porfirio Diaz,
President of the Mexican Republic:

Sir: Having learned that yourself and members of your cabinet may be able to pay a visit to the United States during the month of October, it gives me much pleasure on behalf of the city of Boston and as its chief executive, to extend to yourself and your party a most cordial invitation to visit this city during your trip.

The extent to which our citizens have invested their capital in Mexico and their interests in the development of your country perhaps may give us a special title to hope that a visit to Boston may be included in your arrangements, and I can assure you that the distinguished services which you have rendered to your country and its wonderful progress under your administration are well known here and will command for you not only the official welcome due to the chief magistrate of a great sister republic but the personal reception due to your character and career. I have the honor to subscribe myself, with much respect, your obedient servant.

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

FUNERALS.

HERBERT—The funeral of Betsey Herbert took place from her late residence in Dracut yesterday afternoon. Rev. A. E. Wilson of Lowell officiated. The bearers were George Palmer, Daniel W. Gardner, William Kay and Leonard Clowe. The interment was in the Dracut cemetery under the direction of Undertaker J. A. Weinbeck.

DUMONT—The funeral of Phillias Dumont took place yesterday afternoon from the home of his parents, 4 Austin avenue. The bearers were four playmates of the deceased, namely, A. Patenaude, P. Barry, L. Vigeant and L. Lebre. The funeral was largely attended. Interment was in St. Joseph's cemetery under the direction of Undertaker Joseph Albert.

TUCKER—The funeral of Amelia Tucker took place yesterday afternoon from the home of her parents in Collinsville. The burial was in the Catholic cemetery at Lowell, Undertaker O'Donnell in charge.

BOY DROWNED

RESCUER ARRIVED A MOMENT TOO LATE.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

GLOUCESTER, July 29.—Abner J. Publicover, eight years of age, was drowned yesterday afternoon about 1.30 from the wharf of Brainard Low at the head of the harbor. He and several companions were engaged in securing driftwood from the dock and young Publicover fell in. His companions ran up the dock without giving the alarm although there were a number of men about who could have rescued him had they been notified. One of the boys on reaching Eastern avenue told Edward J. Lafkin of the accident. Mr. Lafkin hastened to the dock as fast as possible, located the boy and soon had him on the dock. There were faint traces of vitality.

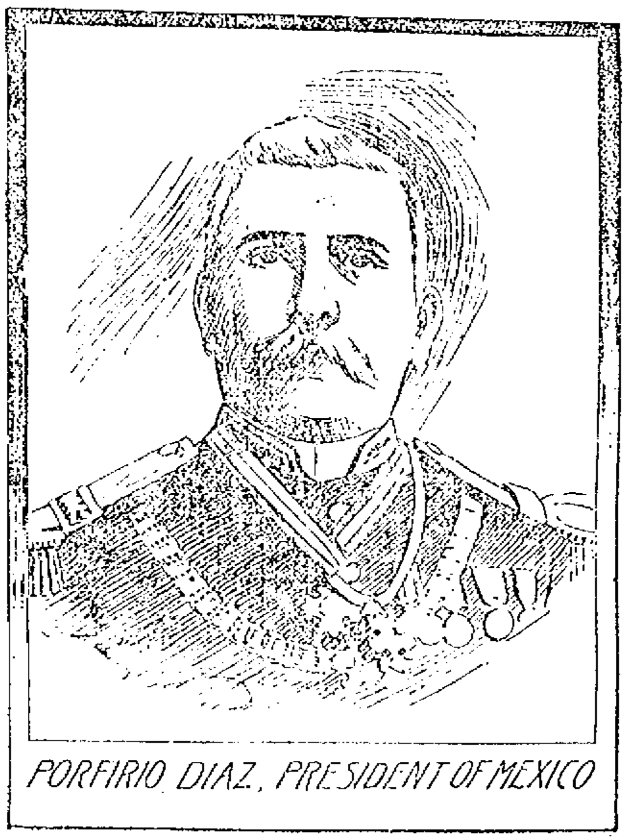

Three physicians were summoned at once and they worked on him two hours but failed to bring him to life. Young Publicover's mother is dead and his father, William Publicover, is absent on a fishing trip. The lad lived with his grandmother, Mrs. Ehler, at 12 1-2 Cross street.

MATRIMONIAL.

McPHERSON—KITCHING.

Miss Annie McPherson, formerly of this city and Mr. G. Kitching of West Palm, Fla., were united in marriage on Monday last at St. Anne's church in the latter place, the nuptial rites being solemnized by Rev. Fr. Farrell. Miss Amy Smith was bridesmaid and Mr. Pennington Johnson was best man. The bride was attired in muslin over pink silk and carried Bride roses. The bridesmaid was similarly attired. The bride, when she resided in Lowell was an employe of the Massachusetts mills. She was very well known in Lowell although a native of Nova Scotia. All her Lowell friends are invited to call at her home at West Palm Beach, Fla.

A Man Postrated in Gravel Pit

ANOTHER MAN CUT BY CIRCULAR SAW

Several Other Mishaps But Less Serious

Yesterday afternoon Joseph Lessage, aged 35 years and living at 31 Massachusetts corporation, was overcome by heat while working in the gravel pit on Wright street, Pawtucketville, operated by the asphaltina company.

Owing to the intense heat at this work, the men employed did not work very hard during the afternoon. But on account of Lessage not being accustomed to the work, the intense heat prostrated him.

The men who were working in the pit with him saw him fall forward very suddenly and remain motionless. The ambulance was immediately telephoned for and he was taken to the Lowell General hospital.

He was found to be very weak and it was necessary to give him stimulants to revive him.

Late last night the hospital doctor, Dr. Augustine, reported an improved condition in his patient.

Frank Hans, employed in McGarghey & Braddy's wood yard at 155 Church street, had his right hand lacerated by a circular saw. He was removed to St. John's hospital by the ambulance, and it was found necessary to amputate two fingers. A third was pretty badly cut, but the doctors think that it can be saved.

Albert Wood, a young lad residing in Tweed's court, had a sliver about three inches long enter his heel yesterday. The wound was dressed at St. John's hospital, and the doctors think that it will cause lameness for quite a while.

George Cummings, an employe of the Merrimack, sprained his left ankle yesterday morning while at work. He had his ankle dressed at the Lowell hospital.

POLICE COURT

THE MORE IMPORTANT CASES WERE POSTPONED.

Three drunks were arraigned before Judge Hadley this morning. Wilfred Laflamme and Edward J. Cutting were fined $5 each. Adelard Tessier charged with being drunk in the vicinity of the Northern depot, was discharged. He said that he was waiting for a train for New York and after stating that his intentions to go to New York today, Judge Hadley discharged him.

Simon Shervin, charged with assault and battery on J. Sunoinski, was continued until August 2.

Ella Lockhart, assault and battery on L. M. Foster, was also continued to August 2.

Edward Harris, charged with being a vagrant, was found guilty and sentenced to the state farm. Officer Lynch of Tewksbury had found him in that town and arrested him.

Kate Coleman and John McBride, charged with illegally keeping liquor, were continued to August 1.

COL. DONOVAN'S ORDER ISSUED

Lieut. Collidge Made Assistant Inspector

The new commander of the Ninth regiment infantry, Col. Donovan has issued the appended order:

1. In accordance with general orders, No. 7, O.C.O., dated July 1, 1899, and genera lorders No. 1, headquarters, second brigade, dated July 10, 1899, this regiment will perform its annual tour of camp duty at South Framingham, from August 3 to August 9, inclusive.

2. Fatigue uniform, blue cap, leggins, and white gloves will be worn. Overcoats will be rolled in yoke. Working suit, campaign hat and any other articles to be carried will be rolled inside. White hat cord will be worn on the campaign hat and will be supplied to each company by the gymnasium.

3. Field, staff and non-commissioned staff, excepting quartermaster and quartermaster sergeant, will report to the adjutant at the east armory on Thursday, August 3 at 7 o'clock a. m.

4. Headquarters at aches, band and field music will report at the same time and place.

5. Companies A, B, C, E, H, and I will report to the adjutant as prescribed for field staff. Companies D and F will report to the adjutant at the South Union station, at 8.45 o'clock a. m. Companies G, K, L and M, will report to the adjutant near railroad station at South Framingham at 9.30 o'clock a. m.

6. Quartermaster and quartermaster-sergeant will report to Capt. Fred P. Barnes, brigade quartermaster on Wednesday, August 2, at State Camp ground at 10 o'clock a. m.

7. Majors of battalions will be the inspecting officers at "inspection of quarters;" they will see that quarters are kept in strict compliance with paragraph 8 of general orders No. 4 headquarters 2d brigade.

8. Applications for passes must be made by company commanders not later than 11 o'clock each morning. No enlisted man will be allowed to leave camp during the week without a pass and no officer or enlisted man be permitted to loiter around officers' quarters and a strict compliance with all forms of military courtesy must be observed at all times.

9. The medical department will have a general supervision of the sanitary condition of the camp and will make a daily inspection of the quality and condition of the food furnished the regiment.

10. Particular attention is hereby called to paragraph 8 of general orders No. 4, 2d brigade headquarters. Muster and assignment rolls must be in the hands of the paymaster not later than 2 o'clock p. m., Aug 3.

11. The staff appointments for the regiment are announced as follows: John P. Lombard, surgeon, with the rank of major; William J. Casey as adjutant, John Breen as quartermaster, J. F. McGourty as assistant surgeon, M. E. Morris as inspector of rifle practice, John P. Kane as paymaster, all with the rank of first lieutenant. They will be obeyed and respected accordingly.

By order of Colonel DONOVAN, William J. Casey, first lieutenant and adjutant.

SIXTH REGIMENT OFFICERS

Colonel Charles R. Darling presided at a meeting of the officers of the 6th Infantry M.V.M., held at the South armory in Boston Thursday afternoon. Matters concerning the coming encampment of the regiment with the 1st brigade at South Framingham were talked over.

Colonel Darling announced that he had appointed 1st Lieut. Clarence W. Coolidge, Company E, assistant inspection of rifle practice. Lieut. Coolidge served with the regiment during its tour of duty under Col. Edmund Rice as adjutant and his appointment as rifle inspector of the regiment met with great favor from those present.

It was also announced that Capt. Williams of L company had waived his seniority and that Captain Carr would command the 3d battalion during the coming encampment.

KING COFFEE

Caused Weak Heart and Other Trouble.

Our family is a large one and we have all been greatly helped and benefited by the dismissal of coffee and the daily use of Postum Food Coffee. I formerly had a very weak heart that troubled me greatly and the trouble was gradually getting worse while I was using coffee.

I also had frequent headaches and sleepless nights. These have all gone since the drug (and one may well call coffee a drug) has been dismissed. A neighbor, Mr. A. Woodruff, was a confirmed dyspeptic for years until he quit coffee and began to use Postum. Now he is entirely cured and thanks Postum for it. Mrs. M. Munson and Mrs. D. S. Barclay, friends, have found great relief from leaving off Coffee and using Postum Food Coffee.

I have made many inquiries among quite a list of persons who have been using Postum, and always find good accounts where it has been properly prepared. You cannot improve that point too strongly on the people where they once make a trial of Postum, for if it is not thoroughly boiled, it has a flat taste and that drives them away from it, whereas, if they only know how delicious it is when well made and how their health would be improved by its use, they would do almost any way to insure getting good Postum. I can send you a long list list of names of those who really know how to make Postum and use it every day, if you care for them. M. E. Woodruff, 353 Crescent avenue, Grand Rapids, Mich.

MILITARY NOTES

Company M's Special Drill Last Night

A special drill of Company M was held last evening at the armory with a view of getting in good condition for the annual encampment with the second brigade M. V. M., which begins next Thursday. The company was never in better condition for camp than it is at present and it bids fair to be the banner company as well as the color company of the Ninth regiment this year.

Capt. Thomas Talbot reports for duty today at the 26th regiment at Plattsburg, N. Y.

William Davidson who served in the Sixth and later in the Eighth regiment was one of the three men who enlisted in Lawrence yesterday. Davidson is well known and very popular among the militia men of Lowell. He made an excellent soldier according to the statements of the his officers.

SAVED THE GIRLS

An Elevator Man's Daring at at a Fire

TOOK 200 GIRLS FROM A BUILDING

And Then Got His Pay in Kisses

NEW YORK, July 29—Joseph Mayers, an elevator man, proved himself a hero yesterday afternoon by saving about 200 girls from a dangerous fire on the top floor of the six-story building, 535 Broadway, occupied by Ballin & Barnheimer, manufacturers of neckwear.

Two hundred girls were on the floor when the fire started among a lot of bundles of cotton batting. It spread with amazing rapidity, and the girls shrieked and ran for the door.

Sidney Bernheimer, one of the partners, tried to calm them, but they were too panic stricken to listen to him. The place was full of smoke and the heat was great.

Someone started to rush for the elevator at the Mercer street end of the building. It was filled with girls in a few seconds and others fought to get on board.

It was then that Meyers showed his presence of mind by fighting off the frightened ones and closing the door after he had got one full load. He took them down at lightning speed, drove them from the car as quickly as he could and then returned through the smoke for more. He got them all out before any were hurt.

The engines meanwhile arrived and put out the fire. The automatic alarm on the burning building did not sound, but the automatic sprinklers worked and deluged the building and the girls.

A lot of fine silks and satins were damaged by water.

The girls talk of getting up a testimonial to elevator hero Mayers; at least 20 of them kissed him.

WHAT CONFERENCE DID

Mayor S. M. Jones, in a recent letter to the New York Journal, said:

The story published in a Cleveland paper that I was somewhat "dissatisfied with the Buffalo conference" and that I had "positively announced that I would not be an independent candidate for governor this fall" is a pure fabrication. In reference to the independent candidacy for governorship I have said that I see no reason for changing my views heretofore published in regard to the question. I hope to be ready for any service, even to being an independent candidate, just as soon as I am led to believe that it is my duty to aid the cause of the new education in that way, and when I am so convinced I will announce it plainly and unequivocally. The people will not be left in doubt.

I doubt if there has ever been gathered together in this country an assembly of more high minded, disinterested men and women than have been in session at Buffalo during the last week. I certainly have never had the privilege of meeting with an assembly where there was a more genuine spirit of devotion to the interests of humanity or a more lofty conception of patriotism than animated the Buffalo conference. There was an entire absence of the proverbial long haired man and short haired woman. It is true that the man with a "cure all" was slightly represented, but only slightly. The spirit of the convention was one of deep, earnest inquiry for a proper answer to the question "What to do next?"

There was the keenest realization manifest that we are now in a critical period in the history of this country; that grave dangers seem to threaten the very existence of the republic all are agreed, and yet I do not recall a single speech that I heard or a conversation that I had with any of the 300 or 400 members that was not thoroughly optimistic, and I am sure there was a general confidence and trust that the truly patriotic and truly loyal people of the country, the people who understand that love of country means love of fellow man, means brotherhood, will lead the public mind into a peaceful solution of all our grave problems by bringing them through the new education to recognize the truth of this great moral principle that we must all admit and practice in our daily lives before we have any right to hope for social peace.

The political programme most in favor to bring about this new condition seems to be the absolutely independent political action of individuals voting for principle rather than party. The belief seemed to be general that reformers ought not to wear a party collar or party brand until the name of party means something more sacred than at present, but that they should ever be ready to vote for principle before party and for the unifying of the reform forces in such directions as seem to promise the greatest good. Of course the conference was socialistic. Probably three-fourths of those present would claim to be socialists and base all of their hopes of the future on socialism rather than on individualism.

On every hand it seemed to be admitted that individualism had failed and that competition is no longer adapted to provide a social order that will meet the requirements of the race and that co-operation must take its place. Public ownership of all public utilities, municipal, state and national, was not only advocated but held forth as the only final solution of the question how to handle natural monopolies, and the belief was freely expressed that our development in the future is to be along the lines of social salvation rather than on the lines of individual success that has characterized our history up to date.

So far as the political and moral welfare of the country is concerned, the conference will prove one of the most profitable gatherings ever assembled. The various movements that have been inaugurated to perpetuate and carry forward the work will insure the continued growth of the most lofty and healthful patriotism.

Studying Our Constitution.

Commissioner Powderly says that a very curious fact had been brought to his attention by a friend who has been traveling extensively in Europe. In a recent letter this friend stated that during a considerable stay in Italy, where he had made it his business to investigate the condition of the peasants and the laborers, he was surprised to find schools established where intending emigrants were being taught to read the constitution of the United States, not only in their own tongue, but in English.

A little investigation showed that this had been the direct result of the proposed amendment to our immigration laws, in which it was required that immigrants should be able to read and write a sentence at least of the constitution of the United States.

There is evidently a scheme in teaching these Italians to read in English and write in the same language part of the constitution. It is evident that they could not in a brief time be thoroughly drilled in the whole document, but the plan is believed to be to instruct them in one or two sentences, which they can repeat when examined by the immigrant inspector on this side.—Washington Cor. Philadelphia Press.

Pulling Together.

A scheme has been evolved in some English shipyards aiming at greater harmony between employers and workmen and is based on a division of extra pay for extra good work in proportion to the wages paid each workman. Each trade elects one representative from every 20 workmen, and these, with their foreman, constitute a trade committee, from which one is selected for the general council.

HOSEA KNOWLTON

Said to be Favorably Considersd

AS CANDIDATE FOR SUPREME BENCH

Gov. Wolcott May Soon Appoint Him

By Associated Press to The Sun.

BOSTON, July 29—The name of Hon. Hosea M. Knowlton, was mentioned pretty generally among lawyers as the probable appointee for Gov. Wolcott to fill the vacancy in the state supreme court.

It was said yesterday in certain authoritative quarters that Gov. Wolcott has had the appointment of the attorney general under favorable consideration for several days and that it was quite likely Mr. Kowlton's nomination would be presented for approval at the governor's council at its next meeting.

The general sentiment among members of the bar touching Mr. Knowlton's ability appears to be a unanimous approval of his high capacity for a judgeship. His friends point to the long and arduous experience of Mr. Knowlton as a district attorney and attorney general. The salary of the office is $7000 but the appointment being for life, as well as one of the highest honor, the friends of Mr. Knowlton say he would not be averse to accepting the appointment.

In this connection, assuming that Mr. Knowlton will go on the supreme bench his probable successor as attorney general furnishes politicians with an interesting issue. Among the lawyers mentioned for the place are Solicitor Sheldon of Cambridge, District Attorney Harris of East Boston, District Attorney Wise of Lowell and Henry P. Moulton of Salem.

Every Newspaper

Has a value as an advertising medium, but the extent of that value depends upon the circulation of each newspaper.

Where two newspapers circulate in the same territory, and one has double the circulation of the other, it is plain that the paper with the larger circulation is worth twice as much for advertising purposes as the other.

The Sun has five times the circulation of some of its local contemporaries, three times as much as others, and nearly twice as much as its nearest competitor, and yet its rates are but a trifle above the lowest and no higher than the highest in Lowell. We do not say that other local papers are not worth what they ask for advertising; what we do claim is that The Sun is by far the cheapest of them all on the basis of actual circulation. Compare the rates and circulation and see for yourself.

MAYOR CROWLEY.

Mayor Crowley has the misfortune of falling into the most inconsistent positions on public matters. When the proposition came before the board of aldermen Tuesday evening, to appropriate $300 to provide a clerk for the inspector of wires, the mayor denounced it on the ground that it was an acknowledgment that the head of any department could hire what assistance he pleased and create salaried positions to suit himself. He claimed that the case was parallel to the Muldoon case which is now being tried in the courts. In this, the mayor was not only in error, but inconsistent. It was an indirect charge that Mr. Barrett had created the position of inspector in his department and fixed the salary which is not the case. The position and the salary were created by a resolution passed by both branches of the city council and approved by His Honor, the mayor. The proceedings were exactly similar to the proceedings then under discussion, namely, to appropriate a sum of money and to create a position in a department for which the sum appropriated would be paid as a salary. If the mayor did not want the position created in the purchasing agent's department, he should have vetoed the resolution; but he approved it and signed it and nothing was heard of it until a man against whom he has a personal antipathy was appointed. Then he took a position which the courts have thus far decided to be untenable. The intimation that Mr. McElholm was creating a position and providing a salary was really too transparent and too childish to come from a man in the position of mayor. It was a subterfuge to justify his position in the Muldoon case. If the mayor does not want the position created or the salary paid, he can easily veto the resolution, but he should not use the occasion to distort the Muldoon matter into a charge that a position was created and a salary provided against his wishes by the head of the supply department, for such is not the case.

His Honor is also inconsistent in his expressions concerning the powers of the heads of departments. While he contends that the heads of the supply and electric wire departments have no powers which the mayor is bound to respect, he throws up his hands when it comes to the head of the street department and says: "The heads of departments have full power under the charter and I am utterly helpless." This was his excuse when he signed the scandalous asphaltina paving resolutions. At that time, the heads of departments seemed to have more power than the mayor according to His Honor's interpretation. In the other cases however, he proposes to see whether the mayor has not more power than the heads of departments. This is an inconsistent attitude which leaves His Honor open to public criticism if not ridicule. It is so also on the garbage matter. When explaining his views to the board of health, as to whether the garbage contract could be made without the approval of the mayor, he told the board that while he had his own views on the question as mayor and as a lawyer and while he firmly believed that the contract would not be legal without the mayor's signature, still he did not deem it proper to thrust his opinion upon the board in any way that would ignore the existence of a city solicitor. "We have a city solicitor" he said "to whom all such questions should be referred and his decisions should be respected."

This is very true; but a short while afterward His Honor destroyed the effect of that declaration by utterly ignoring the city solicitor in the Muldoon affair and by going directly to the courts. He would not listen to a proposition to have the city solicitor render an opinion in the Muldoon case. He said he did not care what the opinion of the city solicitor might be, he would go to the courts and he went and the city is paying the bill. This showed that on one public matter, he deferred to the solicitor's opinion, but on another, he ignored the city solicitor and regardless of expense to the city went to the courts. Furthermore, all this was done in spite of the common report that the city solicitor had tendered either to him or to members of the city government a private opinion that Muldoon's appointment was legal and that he was entitled to pay. Again he has vetoed the garbage contract mainly, as appears from his letter, on the ground that he disapproves of contract work. Why did he not reach that conclusion before he signed the asphaltina contracts? And if he has such a regard for the taxpayers and the people in general, why did he not at least call for bids for smooth paving instead of giving contracts amounting to $9,000 to his friend Robert H. Crowley at his own price?

Such actions, we are sorry to say do not add to the mayor's reputation for sincerity, sound judgment or executive ability. These inconsistencies, together with his action in the asphaltina matter have been denounced by the public at large and by representative men in both political parties to such an extent that we are inclined to agree with the personal friends of the mayor, who already acknowledge that it would have been better for his reputation and better for his memory hereafter, if he had never been elected to the high office he holds and which he is struggling to fill. We trust, however, that His Honor will in the future beware of these inconsistent pitfalls and the blandishments of such characters as the asphaltina gang and thus escape that kind of public criticism and public ridicule which is apt to develop into public contempt.

The mayor and city council of New York are threatened with imprisonment for contempt of court in refusing to pass a bond issue for a hall of records. General Merritt, it is said, wants to go to the Philippines. He, it will be remembered, is the military autocrat who advised the United States to make labor unions illegal. A new species of kissing bug has come along. It is much smaller than the original and bears a resemblance to the June bug. Although small proportioned, his bite is built on large plans and specifications. The first victim of this new comer in the field was a Chelmsford man. The bite swelled to a great size but he applied some ham fat and the swelling soon went down.

The newspaper press, the medical profession and the general public might as well understand that until further notice all such ailments as mumps, boils, cold sores, swelling from ulcerated teeth, neuralgia, erysipelas, etc., etc., are suspended and in place of them are only the bites of kissing bugs. Moreover, it should be well understood that after this date any insect, flying or creeping, poisonous or harmless, larger than a mosquito and smaller than a lobster, is beyond question, the veritable kissing bug itself.

A sensational preacher in Worcester has decided that Ingersoll is in hell and proceeds to gloat over Bob's supposed condition. A fanatic in the pulpit is a burden to his congregation. What useless and indecorous work it is to discuss the possible future of the late Colonel Ingersoll and to make flippant remarks to the effect that he now has the key to the mysteries that were hidden from him in life. The secrets of death are not for living eyes nor is it given to human judgments to compass that which is infinite. Wisdom and delicacy suggest a decorous silence at such a time as the present.

SEC. LONG'S ORDERS.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Secretary Long yesterday sent telegraphic orders to the cruiser New Orleans at Newport directing that she proceed at once to San Domingo. At the same time an order was sent to the Gunboat Machias at St. Thomas to leave for San Domingo. It is expected that the New Orleans will also leave today. This action was due to the desire to be forehanded in dealing with any possible disturbance.

N. Y. CITY COUNCIL

May be Sent to Jail Next Monday

FOR ALLEGED CONTEMPT OF COURT

In Refusing to Pass a Certain Bond Issue

On the application of counsel for Contractor John Pierce, Supreme Court Justice Giegerich yesterday granted an order requiring the twenty councilmen who defied the supreme court writ of mandamus to show cause before Justice Fitzgerald next Monday morning why they should not be committed for contempt.

This means, that if the councilmen do not before that time purge themselves of the contempt or secure a stay of proceedings, each of them may be sent to Ludlow street jail and be fined.

There were rumors yesterday that the councilmen had been brought to a realizing sense of their error and would meet between now and Monday and pass the bills or records bond issue. They have been argued to take this action by Corporation Counsel Whalen and also by numerous friends.

If they do not harken to this advice, Judge Fitzgerald is apt to be severe with them.

Many of the councilmen were more defiant than ever before. Councilmen Oakley, Cassidy, Goodwin and Doyle declared that they would get private counsel and fight to a finish. Councilman Murray said he would act as his own counsel and that if the courts ruled that he must vote against his convictions he would resign.

The contempt order is directed against the following councilmen: John T. Oakley, Thomas F. Foley, Martin Engel, Frank J. Goodwin, George B. Christman, John J. Murphy, Eugene A. Wise, Stewart M. Brice, William J. Hyland, Adolph C. Hottenroth, Bernard C. Murray, Charles H. Francisco, Francis F. Williams, Adolph H. Leich, William A. Doyle, Martin Conly, David I. Van Nostrand, Joseph Cassidy, Joseph F. O'Grady, and Benjamin Boding.

Each of these men must be personally served with the court's order before next Monday and it is said that some of them made haste yesterday to get beyond the jurisdiction of the court.

Seven of the councilmen are not named in Justice Giegerich's order. They are President Guggenheimer and Councilmen McGarry, Hester, French, Hart, Ebbets, and Murdock. Messrs. Guggenheimer, McGarry, and Hester, voted to obey the court's order to approve the $2,100,000 bond issue for a new hall of records. Messrs. French, Hart, Ebbets, and Murdock were never served with the mandamus issued by Justice Fitzgerald.

HOMING PIGEON

PERFORMS A MOST REMARKABLE FEAT.

The following is the most remarkable case of pigeon homing on record and one which will interest the numerous owners of homing pigeons in the city.

A homing pigeon belonging to Anthony Woodward of Church arrived home yesterday after an absence of twelve weeks. The bird had been caught by a carpenter on the American liner Lucania among the icebergs off the coast of Newfoundland. The carpenter noticed the owner's name stamped on the wing and he brought the bird back to Liverpool and then sent it by train to Church. The homer was trained last year by the "South road," from France. This season it has been trained on the "North road" from Scotland. The bird is nine years old. It is supposed to have flown 2000 miles.

BOXING GOSSIP.

Over 100 Boston and Lynn sports are expected here with Dick Simms who on Monday night will spar, with George Gardner before the Nutone club. Simms is reported to be in excellent shape and his friends are so confident of his success that many believe that he is some one other than Dick Simms, an unknown Lynn boxer. Gardner does not mind if he is George Byers provided he is down to wait. Should Gardner defeat Simms he will go after Byers at 154 pounds.

James Moriarty, who is training near Haggett's Pond is in fine condition for his go with James Stewart and it begins to look as if the Manchester boy is about to have a break in his list of victories.

Billy Gardner, who is training with George at the Burke's gym is down to weight and has no fear of his being bested by the Lawrence man, Swanson.

The tickets for the go are out today and the demand for them is great.

Tim Kearns, George Byers "Spider" Winn, "Spike" Sullivan and many other well known boxers will probably be in attendance on Monday night.

STRUCK ON ROCKS.
By Associated Press to The Sun.

NARRAGANSETT PIER, R. I., July 29.—The schooner Lyra of St. John, N. B., while attempting to enter this port yesterday, struck on the rocks near the pier of the Narragansett Navigation company and stove a hole in her bottom. She is now nearly full of water. The jib-boom of the schooner struck the ticket office of the Navigation company and punched a hole through it.

The Lyra is loaded with laths consigned to J. C. Tucker, Jr., of this town. The damage to the cargo is estimated at $1,000.

THE STRIKE ENDED.
By Associated Press to The Sun.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., July 29—The strike on the Narragansett Bay line is practically at an end, the demands of the men having been granted in full. The Richard Peck arrived yesterday at the usual time with a full complement of hands and twenty of the crew of the C. H. Northam. The men had been getting $23 and $25 a month and struck for a raise to $25 the wages paid to the men on the Fall River line. This was granted.

Sales for Week Ending Aug. 5th, '99

THURSDAY AFTERNOON.

One of the prettiest, handsomest finished and most ideal homes in the Highlands to be sold at auction for just what it will bring.

It is my purpose on Thursday, the third day of August, 1899, to offer at absolute sale, the Cutler residence, No. 37 Nicollet street or opposite the beautiful Josiah Butler estate and the extensive grounds of the Highland club. The house was erected by Arthur S. Cutler of the firm of Merrill & Cutler, architects, for his own occupancy and it was his residence for five or six years. It came into my possession through mortgage and I have no earthly use for it. It has more recently been occupied by Arthur H. Kittredge.

The house is of the most attractive design architecturally; in finish it is both artistic and elegant; in its modern arrangement and applied conveniences it is simply perfect; heated by the most approved methods; lighted by electric gas fixtures; it has large hall with open fire place and stained glass window; reception room, library, dining room, butler's pantry, pantry and kitchen on first floor; square hall, five chambers and bath room on second floor; large unfinished attic over whole house on third floor; splendid cellar with laundry; the house is just such a one as an architect would make his ideal. The stable fits the house and is arranged for two horses and four carriages.

The lot has a fine frontage of 75 ft. contains an area of 7800 square feet, has a nice little fruit orchard in the rear, is of level grade, and well laid down to a pretty lawn. You can examine the interior of the buildings after 10 a. m. on day of sale or previous to that time by applying at the office of the auctioneers. The purchaser must deposit with or secure to the auctioneers $500 as soon as the property is struck off. Three-quarters of the purchase money can remain on mortgage for a term of three years with interest at the rate of five per cent. per annum. The sale will take place on the premises, rain or shine, at five o'clock in the afternoon and whoever bids the most for it will get it.

JOHN BOYLE.

FRIDAY AFTERNOON.

Guardians' Sale of Real Estate. In order that the several heirs to the estate of the late James Mahan may be paid their interests in the estate, it has become necessary to turn the following described realty into money. To do this we shall, under license from the probate court for the county of Middlesex, sell at absolute auction, regardless of weather, on the several premises on Friday, the 4th day of August, 1899, the large block and 5525 square feet of land at the corner of Gorham and Manchester streets; 5330 square feet of land adjoining and on Gorham street; four lots of land of 5400 square feet each on Bowden street; the cottage house and 3331 square feet of land numbered 28 Manchester street.

AT FOUR O'CLOCK P. M.

The four-tenement block with stores numbered 193-195 Gorham street and 4 Manchester street. Each tenement has five or six rooms, a water closet, sewerage, water, gas and cemented cellar; is in good order and repair; all are well rented except the one recently occupied by the late Mr Mahan; it is the best one in the block and will readily rent for $12 a month. The block as now rented produces an income of $— a month. With the block is 5525 square feet of land, 50 feet on Gorham street and 105 feet on Manchester street. The property offered in this lot is one of the best parcels of real estate on lower Gorham street. The building was constructed upon honor, is very heavily timbered and unusually substantial. The lot is perfect in area, frontage and location.

IMMEDIATELY FOLLOWING.

5330 square feet of land adjoining the first lot with a frontage of 50 feet on Gorham street. On this lot is an office building and a large shed used by the late Mr. Mahan in carrying on the business of cutting marble and granite.

AT 4.30 O'CLOCK P. M.

Four lots of land on Bowden street, just off Gorham street. Each lot has an area of 5400 square feet and a frontage of 50 feet. On one lot is a house and stable numbered 98. The lots are level and dry and two of them offer excellent opportunities for improvements. At the prices they will sell for, they should prove attractive to many purchasers of lots of moderate value.

AT FIVE O'CLOCK P. M.

The cottage house and 3331 square feet of land numbered 28 Manchester street, or the third house from the corner of Gorham street. The cottage has seven rooms and cellar; is in fair order and repair, has water closet, sewerage and city water. The lot has a frontage of 37 feet.

The purchaser of the first lot must deposit with or secure to the auctioneers $450 as soon as the lot is struck off. The purchaser of the second lot must do the same with $200. The purchaser of each lot on Bowden street must do the same with $100. The purchaser of the cottage and lot on Manchester street must do the same with $200. Other terms liberal.

Have You Seen the Free Exhibition
OF THE SEVEN
SUTHERLAND SISTERS
Hair Grower and Scalp Cleaner?

If not, do not delay longer, as the days of the exhibition are limited. It will pay anyone to see the luxuriant growth of hair worn by the ladies in attendance, which, by the way, was produced by the use of the highly meritorious preparations they represent, and was not inherited, as some people think.

The ladies will cheerfully give to all visitors, free of cost, any information desired regarding the necessary treatment of the hair and scalp to produce the best results.

It costs nothing to see this great exhibition, so why not come today? Everybody is invited.

PETITION TABLED

Globe Telephone Co's Hearing Was Postponed

THE PETITIONERS WERE NOT READY

Will Incorporate Under Mass. Laws

The second attempt at a hearing before the board of aldermen on the petition of the Globe Telephone Co., for a franchise in this city like its predecessor of Tuesday night last was unsuccessful.

There was quite a gathering present, the remonstrants in the majority, when Mayor Crowley called to order shortly after 7.20 o'clock, with all present but Alderman Peirce.

It was moved to give each side an hour in which to present its case.

Mayor Crowley then called for the petitioners' side and Mr. Harvey arose and said that some of the petitioners had some doubt as to the right of the board of aldermen to grant the rights asked for to a foreign corporation and had decided that to prevent litigation in the future he would ask that the matter be held in abeyance until such time as the company could incorporate under the laws of the state.

Lawyer Pratt of the New England company had no objection to raise to such a request and on motion of Alderman Dimon the petition was laid on the table.

The matter cannot come up again until after the summer vacation.

DIVINE HEALING

Failed to Cure a Chicago Woman

SUFFERED WITH BLOOD POISONING

With Proper Attention She Would Have Lived.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

CHICAGO, July 29.—Mrs. Annetia Flanders is dead of blood poisoning at St. Luke's hospital after having been attended with "Divine Healing" during a critical illness by Mrs. Hehrikka Bratz, an official of Dr. John Alexander Dowies, Zion church of Divine Healing in Michigan avenue. L. T. J. Watkins and Dr. Thomas Currie of St. Luke's hospital and Dr. H. D. Peterson, who were called to attend Mrs. Flanders when she was thought to be dying, assert that the woman would have lived if she had been given proper attention. The state board of health has notified its attorney to investigate the case.

Mrs. Bratz says that her patient's death is due to the fact that Mrs. Flanders did not believe in Divine Healing. The regulations of the law, she says are not in accord with the faith of Divine Healing and for that reason she has not obtained a license to practice medicine.

BOWENVILLE CLUB

CHALLENGES THE MICKEYHALL PEGGY TEAM TO A MATCH.

President Muldoon of the Mickeyhall peggy team of this city received word today that the Bowenville peggy team of Fall River are anxious to arrange a match with the Spindle City team. A meeting of the Mickeyhall team has been called for tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock to take action on the challenge from the Border City. The meeting will be held at the "Little Cottage on the Hill," the summer resort of the club. Two of the members of the Mickeyhall team are in Lawrence today consulting with the members of of the Spicketville peggy team for a game to take place after the match with the Fall River team.

LAWS ARE NEEDED

Before Lieut. Gillow and be Reimbursed

FOR LOSS OF HIS OWN PROPERTY

The Matter to Come Before Congress

In response to his letter to Adjutant General Corbin stating that he would hold the government responsible for the loss of Lieut. J. S. Gillow's watch and money while the latter was ill at Montauk, Mayor Crowley has received a letter stating that the matter will be brought to the attention of congress and provision made to reimburse Lieut. Gillow.

The letter is as follows:

War Department,
Adjt. General's Office, July 11, 1899.
Hon. Jeremiah Crowley,
Mayor, Lowell, Mass.:

In reply to your letter of the 17th ultimo, regarding the money and gold watch belonging to Lieutenant Joseph S. Gillow, 9th Mass. Vols, said to have been turned over to a nurse in the hospital at Montauk, N. Y., when Lieut. Gillow was admitted thereto and stracted or lost, I have the honor to inform you that there is no fund at the disposal of the War Department from which I can draw to reimburse the officer such loss as may have been incurred by him and that the Auditor for the War Department U. S. Treasury, of whom inquiry has been made, reports that he is not able to discover any law to authorize the settlement of the loss of effects in a case like that referred to."

Under these circumstances the papers in the case have been submitted to the secretary of war with recommendation that Congress when it next assembled be asked to enact legislation providing for reimbursement in this case and in others of a similar nature.

In order that as full information may be given as possible it is requested that the papers showing the steps taken to trace the lost articles, containing the reports of the officers investigating the case, be returned to this office for use in presenting the matter to congress.

Very respectfully,
W. T. CARTER,
Assistant Adjutant General.

Congressman Knox was shown the above and he promised to put a bill in congress as mentioned above when that body assembles in December.

WIFE DEAD

By Associated Press to The Sun.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., July 29.—The aged wife of John Pritzke, was found dead today at her home in North Little Rock. The body was horribly mutilated, having been chopped to pieces with an axe. Beside the body lay John Pritzke, her husband, in a dying condition from wounds also inflicted with an axe. The house had been robbed and the woman assaulted. There was no clue to the perpetrators of the crime.

OUR TOTAL LOSS

There Were 736 Fatalities in the Philippines

SIXTEEN OFFICERS WERE KILLED IN ACTION

And Five Others Died of Disease

SEVEN DEATHS FROM SMALL POX

Typhoid Fever Claimed Many Victims

By Associated Press to The Sun.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 29.—The Times prints what purports to be a full list of fatalities in the American army in the Philippines up to June 2. The list was furnished by Fred F. Fitell, a representative of the Manila Freedom, who claims to have obtained it from the record of the surgeon general's office at Manila.

The total number of fatalities is 736—23 officers, 692 privates and 11 civilians attached to the army. A remarkable feature of the record is found in the statement that the number of officers killed in battle is out of all proportion to the number of privates killed. On the other hand fewer officers had died from disease proportionately than privates. Out of the 23 officers dead, 16 were killed in action, 2 were drowned, and five died of disease. Of the 692 privates, 294 died of wounds received in action; 9 were killed accidentally 23 were drowned; and 7 committed suicide. One hundred and six died of typhoid fever, 88 of small pox, 47 of dysentery, 28 of pneumonia, 19 of malarial fever and 14 of meningitis. The remainder died from various diseases. Of the 11 deaths among civilians, seven were from small pox and three from gunshot wounds received in action.

AN OLD RESIDENT

Mrs. Catherine Quinn Died Last Evening

Mrs. Catherine Quinn, one of Lowell's oldest and most highly esteemed residents died last evening at her late home, 513 Westford street after a brief illness. She was the widow of the late John Quinn, for a long time in the clothing business where Chin's jewelry store is now located and who was a charter member and ex-president of the Lowell Irish Benevolent Society. Mrs. Quinn had been a resident of Lowell for over 60 years and saw the city grow from a village to the large municipality it now is. She saw the erection of St. Peter's church on the site where is now the Lowell Post office. Mrs. Quinn was the first member of the choir of this church and in after life with her late lamented husband, one of its most loyal supporters. She was thoroughly devoted to her church and religion, a member of sodalities connected with the church and was highly respected in the community for her many excellent traits of character. She was a sister of the late Mrs. Mary Hill of Belvidere. She leaves three nieces, Mary, Ursula and Kittie Hill and one nephew, Capt. James E. Hill, the latter the well known assistant milk inspector.

Funeral will take place Monday forenoon from St. Patrick's church. Friends invited.

FROM LAWRENCE AND ITS INCIDENTAL HAPPENINGS.

When the last car from Lawrence came into the square last night, the conductor yelled to Officers McCloskey and Leighton to arrest an apparently sober young man who sat in one of the rear seats. The officers couldn't quite see what to arrest him for, but the conductor insisted. Everyone on the car, including some well known and highly respected men protested against the young man's arrest, stating that he had done or said nothing out of the way, but was simply singing on the way up. All offered to appear in court in the young man's behalf and the officers finally allowed him to go after taking his name. Some of the passengers had a word to say about the manner of the conductor toward his passengers. It was claimed that when about half way up the wind blew a hat off a passenger and the owner jumped off to recover it, the conductor refused to stop the car until he returned, but compelled the man to walk to Lowell.

The conductor was at the police station this morning.

NATHAINEL DAVIS, Who Died This Morning of Heart Disease.

INDIANA SENATOR

Like a Lightning Messenger in Philippines

WENT ALL THROUGH THE PRINCIPAL ISLANDS

Went Also to China and Japan

By Associated Press to The Sun.

MANILA, July 29.—Senator Albert J. Beveridge, of Indiana, who has just left has been a good deal of a puzzle.

He told all inquirers when he came that he was here merely for recreation and rest. Yet the second day of his arrival he went by train to the Bagbag river and thence at a gallop in the hot afternoon sun to General MacArthur's headquarters at San Fernando an extreme outpost.

He spent most of the night in consultation with General MacArthur, made a tour of the outposts and returned to Manila the next day on the top of an iron-roofed car.

This is a fair sample of the way he spent his time. He has been on the firing line. He has gone out through the typhoons to visit men in the trenches and find out how they were taking the descending torrents and the oceans of mud. He has been in the interior going unarmed to talk with insurgent leaders.

Nor have his activities been confined to the neighborhood of Manila. He has they say, at headquarters, made 2000 miles of water journey from island to island, and 500 or 600 miles of horseback journeys into the interior. As he is the only American who has been here who is at once official and unofficial, he has been welcomed everywhere. Those who stand by the president's plan welcome him because he is a republican senator. Those who look for and hope for a change rely upon his apparent fairness and frankness and his mastery of all the facts.

Senator Beveridge has steadily refused to express any opinions about what he has seen. When he went with Col. Hafner of Idaho to talk with the insurgent general, Maxilino, at his camp, and also when he came back from a journey into the interior of Sulu, there were many efforts made to get at the results of his observation. But he refused to talk.

Senator Beveridge has shown his personal courage several times by going out to the firing line and riding coolly along with such fating officers as General Lawton.

Before he came here he spent some time in China. He went from here back there to make further investigations. From there he goes to Japan, thence to the Malay peninsula and probably to India. When he arrived he was looking well, having been much improved by the sea voyage.

He wore himself out completely while here by working all day each day and a large part of the night.

RACE PROBLEM

A MEMORIAL ISSUED TO THE COUNTRY.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 29.—The Indiana Afro-American League has issued a memorial to the country at large pertinent to the race problem. It protested in strong terms against the taking of human life without trial by jury and charged that within the past seven years over 1,200 people had been lynched or burned alive in the south. It favored the death penalty for the crime of rape after conviction in the courts and anathematized the governments of those states whose provisions for federal execution had been nullified by the disfranchisement of black citizens.

NATL. DAVIS DEAD

Prominent Citizen Passed Away This Morning

OF HEART DISEASE AT HIS HOME

Had Built Hundreds of Dwellings

AND PUBLIC INSTITUTIONS

Was Descended From Earliest Settlers

Nathaniel Davis, aged 81 years, one of Lowell's most highly respected citizens, died this morning at his late home, 80 Howard street, of heart disease.

He was born July 5, 1818, in Warner, N. H. He was descended from Philip Davis of Southampton, Eng., who was born in 1590. This Philip Davis had three sons, Gideon born in 1615; Philip, born in 1617; and Francis, born in 1620. They were all born in Southampton, England, and in 1635 they came to America in the ship Confidence, Capt. John Jobson. Mr. Davis was descended in a direct line from Francis, one of these brothers, who settled in Amesbury and was a freeman there in 1645. He married Gertrude Emerson about 1650.

Aquila Davis was born at Amesbury, June 27, 1760. He was the grandfather of the deceased. He came with his family to Warner, N. H., a few years after the settlement of that town in 1762. At the age of 17 years he was in the revolutionary war, having enlisted for three years. He married Abigail Stevens, who was born July 12, 1766, and died in 1862.

Nathaniel Davis's father was Alpheus Davis, born at Warner, N. H. in 1792 and died there Oct. 11, 1847. His mother Abigail Watts Davis was born in Warner in 1790 and died there Feb. 1, 1893. Mr. Davis received his education in the district schools of his native place and worked on his father's farm until the age of 21, when he came to Lowell in 1839, and entered in the trade of granite cutter. He afterwards, in 1851, went into the business of contractor on his own account. In [illegible] he was obliged to retire from business on account of ill health. [illegible] of business he has been one of the most prominent and foremost in the city. He did all the stone work for the old post office, Appleton block, [illegible] and hundreds of buildings all over the city. He furnished the stone for the [illegible] lighthouses.

In 1851 he formed a copartnership with Samuel Sweatt and [illegible] Clough. In 1852 ex-Mayor [illegible] also became a partner. The firm name then became [illegible] & Co. and continued about twenty years. They then furnished the cut stone for the Masonic Temple, St. James Hotel and many office buildings in the city of Boston, also furnished the cut granite for the Union Depot at Worcester, and Booth's Fifth Avenue Theatre, New York.

Sept. 28, 1847, he was married to Miss Julia A. Wood in Lowell. Five children, three living, are the result of their union, Abby C., Nan A., and Juliet B.

Mr. Davis was a member of the Eliot Congregational society and was much interested in the work of that organization.

DEATHS.

FOUND TOO SOFT

Workmen Have to Tear Up Asphaltina

ON THE WESTFORD ST. JOB

Horses Hoofs Sank Into It

BIG STRIP PULLED UP YESTERDAY

And Another Attempt is Made

And now its the Westford street asphaltina job that is coming unpleasantly to light. For though between Chelmsford and Smith streets the asphaltina has been down less than two months, it is being ripped up again, for it couldn't stand even the wear of that short period, and yesterday morning a gang of men began tearing up a strip of the asphaltina about 25 yards long near the junction of Chelmsford and Westford street. This strip, though of the material which the company would guarantee for five years was so soft that the hoofs of a horses sank into it; when withdrawn by the animal tore up chunks of the pavement. The torn up pieces are thrown on to the curbstone and it is said another attempt was at once made which will cause further delay and inconvenience, particularly if fires call for the Westford street truck and engine, and it is said that the company ran short of material or cobble layer at the time and filled in the space with top dressing, making the street too soft for teaming.

The Westford street job appears to be a huge "frost," and the noncompetitive system of awarding contracts a system woefully in need of abolition.

BOY WAS KILLED

Sad Fatality on Rock Street Today

LOAD OF LUMBER FELL ON HIM

He Died in the Ambulance on Way to Hospital

A sad fatality occurred near the corner of Rock and Wilder streets about 10 o'clock this morning, the victim of which was 11-year-old Tommy Sullivan, son of Thomas Sullivan, a well known employe of the Lowell Gaslight company, residing on Claire street.

The boy was killed by the falling of a load of lumber from a passing wagon, the property, it is said, of A. L. Brooks & Co.

It is reported that the boy was at play on the sidewalk or near it and as the wagon on which the load of lumber was being carried passed him, the rollers which are on all lumber wagons, began to turn, precipitating the load on to the unfortunate lad before he could escape.

Bystanders immediately went to the rescue and upon removing the heavy planks which pinned him down found him in an unconscious condition.

The ambulance was hastily summoned and the injured boy died in it on the way to St. John's hospital, a fracture of the skull being the direct cause of death.

At A. L. Brooks & Co's, The Sun reporter was informed over the telephone this noon that the company had not learned the full particulars of the accident, but had heard that the top of the load slipped over on to the boy while the latter was on the sidewalk.

The body was removed to the warerooms of Undertaker O'Donnell.

THE GRAND JURY

Will Hear Charges Against Israel Fournier

By Associated Press to The Sun.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., July 29.—Israel Fournier, alias Thomas Fournier, [illegible] years old, was arraigned in the district court today on the charges of breaking and entering dwelling houses in the day time and stealing cash and jewelry. There are several other cases in which the police think he was implicated. He pleaded guilty to all charges preferred and was held over to the grand jury in $500 bonds on each complaint.

BIG LAWSUIT

OVER TWO INCHES OF LAND IN NEW YORK.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

NEW YORK, July 29.—Daniel McAlpine is a millionaire and owns much property around Broadway and 34th street, including the Alpine apartment house.

Thomas Kilpatrick is a fashionable jeweler.

Mr. McAlpine owns the four story brown stone front 53 West 33rd street.

Two years ago Mr. Kilpatrick bought the adjoining three story brown stone front, No. 51.

A space of two inches separates the buildings. Mr. Kilpatrick understood that he became owner of this space but Mr. McAlpine maintained that he owned it.

A fight has been on ever since and is now in the courts. As land in the neighborhood brings about 200 a square foot, the strip is worth about $35.

THE DANGER POINT

in the Cleveland Strike Not Passed Yet

MILITIA SERVICE WILL BE RETAINED

A Car Was Wrecked Last Night

By Associated Press to The Sun.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 29.—The blowing up of a Euclid beach car last night has demonstrated the fact that the danger point has not yet been passed in connection with the street car strike in this city.

As a result of this fresh outbreak of lawlessness, the plan to release the militia from further service will probably be abandoned and the soldiers retained for an indefinite period.

Contrary to previous reports, it is learn that eight passengers were on the car that was blown up last night and that they with the crew escaped injury, beyond a slight bruise, is considered remarkable. The explosive used was unusually powerful, the two rear wheels of the big car being broken, and the axle and other iron work badly bent and twisted. One of the track rails was also shattered. The heavy suburban line car was lifted fully two feet from the track by the explosion. The flooring was blown over the top of the seats. The authorities, as yet, have been unable to gain the slightest clue as to the identity of the perpetrators of the outrage.

Cars were operated on several of the more important lines of the Big Consolidated company throughout the night, and today cars are moving on every line in the system.

Governor Bushnell has notified Adjutant General Axline to detain the state troops here, that he entirely approves of his action in not allowing soldiers of the Ohio National Guard to perform special police duty. In an interview concerning the matter, Adjutant General Axline is quoted as saying:

"I believe I have taken the right stand. When martial law is proclaimed then it is time for the soldiers to perform police duty. The soldiers will stand by ready to assist or protect the policemen, but no soldiers will perform on cars unless there is at least one patrolman on the car."

THE TRIMMED SAILOR HAT.

How to Make Over One That's In Need of a Mid-Summer Renovation.

A WORD ABOUT THE SKIRT TO COME.

New York, July 28.—We decided last week that it was not too early to speak of fall styles, even though the day might be a scorcher and the humidity past endurance. We know, you and I, that fashions are always interesting, and we realize the cooling properties of a good look ahead into the days when summer sun shall melt into delightful October.

Well, as to the autumn dress skirts, they will be made very long and extremely tight, much closer in the hips than those of summer. Think of it! A very fashionable New York woman who arrived home on the steamer the other day from Europe, bringing with her not only a summer supply, but part of an autumn wardrobe as well, assured me that she was actually unable to walk with ease in her new cloth skirts, and, as for being seated, she was obliged to perform the act in a curious way, quite serpentine. She said all the Paris skirts were being made in that manner, and that Paris women were actually starving themselves in an effort to get thin. She gave me, at the same time, a rule for banting, but that is another story, of course.

The skirts, besides being tight around the hips, are also close-fitting around the feet, and they are long. Imagine the positively awful possibilities for either a too redundant figure or an ungraceful one. What enormities in fashion may not be perpetrated with these mermaid skirts clinging to the figure and "swiped" around the feet. But we shall hope for the best. She, graceful thing, weighing 115 and measuring five feet eight, was a dream in a close gray one, silvery and shining with silver braid. There was a yoke of white satin and a turn-over collar and a pair of cuffs of turquoise blue, matched to a contrast with the gray. Ah, sich we here! Farewell cream and mayonnaise! Welcome dry toast and weak tea!

THE FRENCH FOOT.

Why not tell about shoes? We all wear them. The French foot is "coming in." And a disagreeable feeling in one's foot is going out. The fashionable French shoe for autumn will be very broad, and not too pointed. A high heel is the only thing against it, but what cannot one stand when one is not compelled to squeeze one's Trilbys into a pointed shoe? The toes are tipped with leather cut in fancy patterns, and there are many small ornamental features to the shoe, such as scallops, colored buttons and a very fancy set of lacings, if they are laced shoes.

We have fallen into great ways this month of flowers. Ribbons have come in with sufficient force to sway us. We are dominated by them from the tiny ribbons that are run through the vest of my lady's insertion front, to the broad ribbon that bands her bodice, making it a thing of wonder and newness. Ribbon, strange to say, has not gone up under the demand, and a woman of my acquaintance who goes to the watering places each summer to sell ribbons at private sale in the summer hotels, says that she is able to sell white ribbon of all widths two cents cheaper than last season.

Skirts are trimmed with ribbons, and you see the ribbon laid flat to form a pattern, or gathered into tiny twisted trimmings that somehow take shape as they are sewed upon the gown.

A girl who met with an accident to the front of her dress skirt by which a pale blue material was quite ruined with lemonade was able, by this ribbon fashion, to quite renew her gown.

Taking a great quantity of black taffeta silk, cut into one-inch widths, to look like narrow ribbon, she gathered the silk down the middle with a very coarse thread of silk and pulled the thread up until the ribbon made a beautiful shirring. This she sewed, row after row, upon her dress skirt, until the whitened portions were either hidden or were in shadow.

EARLY FALL ETONS.

Another summer fashion is noticed. And that is the wearing of the Eton. From trunk and satchel it has come, or from convenient shop. You see it everywhere. It is short; many still call it a bolero, and, having no point in the back, it is not properly an Eton. It is very open in front, with no fastening, and it has the very broad, turned-back revers. These, being generally white, can be kept fresh, and the Eton is an invigorating sight.

A very malicious woman seated upon the piazza of a Saratoga hotel gave voice to the probable reason for the belated popularity of the Eton. "The weather," said she, "is better than it was in July. But the coat is worn more. You see it is because shirt waists have faded and are not so pretty, so, to hide their defects, the Eton is worn." A hazard, but she was right. Certainly a multitude of minor defects, such as poorly dyed stripes, distorted arm holes, wrenched from their moorings by the tie of an iron, collars that no longer set gracefully upon the neck, and elbows that are thin, can be concealed under the friendly little Eton or bolero.

The sailor hat is giving way. It is undergoing the metamorphosis of age. Having outlived its freshness, it is being treated with a greater degree of consideration. The plain little band which was sewed around the crown in June is now removed, and in its place there is a big soft trimming of mulle or tulle, soft silk or chiffon—anything that makes a big crush. To keep it in shape there is a roll of crinoline, of course, and the chiffon, or mull, or, silk, is wrapped around it.

NEW SAILOR TRIMMINGS.

Out of deference to summer, a daisy chain is carried around the crown and completed at the back with two standing quills. Or, if the sailor be broad, it is dampened, turned up at one side and trimmed with tulle and a rose garden. The hat, too, as the face will bear it, is set a little back, to show the waves that must be persuaded to lie upon the forehead nilly willy. There is a way to keep these waves in. The hair is wet with alcohol, and the tongs are held a long time, surely until the hair is dry.

I must not, at this stage, talk too much about fall fashions, but I will say that all the coats were long and tight-fitting, and that none of them had a belt line like the Russian blouse or the belted oxford. The long, straight lines of bust and hips were preserved, and it was easy to see that certain garments will be the fashion of winter.

Ballroom dresses are extremely gauzy, and consequently short-lived. They are long enough to engage the feet of the lindorist cadet, and too long to be tolerated by the old-time dancer, who looks at them and withdraws, positive that he could never pilot his lady through the trains that lie sprawled upon the floor.

The veil is so pretty now that the sun scorches the cheeks from the rose to purple hue, is of thin white gauze, with or without dots. It is loosely [illegible] and down over the chin, enveloping the face as in a creamy haze. Its becomingness has never been questioned. It hides all defects from freckles to wrinkles. Do not, under any consideration, draw the veil tightly under the chin; rather allow it to fall in big, loose folds.

HELEN WARD.

GARTERS FOR USE AND FOR BEAUTY, AS WORN BY GIRLS ATHLETIC AND GIRLS FEMININE.

EDNA MAY, THE SUCCESSFUL AMERICAN GIRL WHO SAYS "GIRLS SHOULD DO WHAT THEY LOVE BEST."

SHALL OUR GIRLS GO ON THE STAGE.

Read What Three Great Actresses Say Upon the Possibilities of Success and the Evil and Good of Stage Life.

It is coming the time of year when new theatrical companies go out. All summer the managers have been forming the casts that play the dramas, and from all quarters new aspirants have been pouring in begging for "a chance" to win honor and money upon the stage.

There was a time when stage work was not considered dignified for a girl, but those days have passed away. The good woman of the stage is as respected as the professional woman in any other field.

But of the temptations of life on the road there will always be a chapter to write. A girl, away from home, flattered and feted, is apt to suffer from the malady of having "her head turned." The stage cannot therefore be called "as safe as a church" for a girl; neither is it necessarily bad.

With a view to ascertaining how the stage, both from a moral and from a professional viewpoint, is seen by our leading actresses, the editor of the woman's page wrote to three well-known stars—Edna May, of New York; Ellen Terry, of London, and Ellaline Terriss, of the Theatre Royal, Glasgow.

And this is what they said:

Dear Editor:

I think girls should do what they love best, and if they possess enthusiasm, experience will soon teach them if they have the requisite ability or no. I think it the most delightful profession imaginable, and I don't think any words of mine or of any one else will deter any born actress from finding scope for her ability; and, on the other hand, you will find the incompetent and the black sheep in every profession. Yours very truly,

Edna May.

Dear Sir:

There can be little doubt that the majority of young women who join the theatrical profession do so without any particular qualification for it whatever. Unfortunately the Cinderella of the arts has no means of questioning her sisters as to their motives, their hopes or their ambitions, there being no formal introduction necessary to her in the shape of some standard examination.

In writing this, please don't think I mean that it is only the very clever who attain popularity. There are many of us who have the good fortune to be looked upon kindly by an indulgent public, and, through some personal magnetism, or whatever it may be, helped out of mediocrity. But I mean in all cases of successful women who are constantly before the public there must be something more to claim attention than a pretty face. Never was there a profession that wanted good recruits more than ours; never was there a calling with greater opportunities to succeed—given the many qualifications.

Let those that start in the race be without them, and a consumptive might as well think of reaching the North Pole. Don't imagine that the life is pleasant and easy; it is very, very hard indeed, and even when you have reached the topmost rung, the fight is fiercest to hold the prize from the thousands who are trying to pull you down. Ask yourself if you have patience, ambition, application and determination added to all else, and if this be the case, embark on the career you have chosen. If you have answered your questions correctly, you will find that there never were such opportunities to be successful.

There is only one answer, and that is, "It depends absolutely on the girl herself." Yours,

Ellaline Terriss

To the Editor:

Only those who are gifted by the gods in some special degree should seek distinction on the stage. The rest would be wise to make for themselves some other career. Yours sincerely,

Ellen Terry.

NEWPORT CHAIN FAD.

A curious little fad from Newport decrees that the chain shall hang from the neck, with its ornament upon it, without attempt at tucking lorgnette, fan or whatever else the chain may hold, in the dress. An extremely pretty chain of finest gold hung around the neck of a pretty girl who was saying good-by to friends on an ocean steamer, and from the chain hung a square card-case of gold, with a strip of tiny diamonds running diagonally across one side of the case.

The fancy for the little chain worn around the throat is spreading. You see these chains either of beads or of semi-precious stones worn in ballroom for fan and handkerchief; and you see them upon traveling dresses, where their usefulness is obvious.

THOUGH MISS TERRY IS EVIDENTLY AGAINST THE STAGE FOR THE MAJORITY OF GIRLS, SHE HAS UNQUESTIONABLY ACHIEVED A GREAT SUCCESS HERSELF UPON STAGE LINES.

ELLEN TERRY, THE FOREMOST ENGLISH ACTRESS, GIVES ADVICE TO STAGE STRUCK GIRLS.

FIFTY YEARS IN TROUSERS.

An Interview With Dr. Mary Walker in Which She Speaks of Her Coming Book and of Her Long Eventful Life.

Washington, July 27.—Dr. Mary Walker stepped off her wheel upon the curb, drew her bicycle toward her, arranged the pedal and looked around. As usual a crowd had gathered, for Dr. Mary is not a usual sight. Dressed in a neat, broadcloth suit, with shining tile, the suit set off by a bright red necktie, the doctor is, to say the very least, unconventional. Yet she bore the scrutiny well. "The only self-made man in America" was used to being stared at.

"What are you going to do next?" asked a friend, a reporter of this newspaper, stepping up to Dr. Mary from the crowd that had gathered.

"Nothing," said she, with a quick smile. "I am resting nowadays and getting ready to die."

"And bicycling?"

"Yes," and the doctor smiled again.

For the past two years people have been asking, "What has become of Dr. Mary Walker?" But no one could answer. When last heard from she was lecturing. Then she dropped out of sight, and nothing was known of her again until she reappeared in Washington, apparently as young as ever, and certainly as pretty. One day last week she went to the photographer's to be taken asleep as she will look in death. And then the public heard of her again.

It was stated that during these intervals of silence Dr. Mary Walker entered a convent and lived in absolute solitude. Yet such is far from being the case. On the contrary, she retired, like any person of means, to a very nice farm near Oswego, and there lives, writes and enjoys herself in retirement. As she herself says, "It is quiet and peaceful here, and nobody knows what I suffer in town."

Yet she is the same little lithe figure you saw at the Centennial; the same short, gray curls fall over her coat collar, and she carries the same dainty little cane which is partly for convenience and partly from habit. Her coat to-day is cut a little more closely and more modishly, but otherwise she is the same Dr. Mary Walker of twenty years ago.

HER EARLY LIFE.

Mary Walker began her martyrdom when she was a girl. Born in 1842, she passed an uneventful girlhood until her father said to her one day: "Never wear corsets. Do not suffer your figure to be deformed by that steel cage." Mary was then sixteen, and her studies in anatomy were already begun under the direction of her father. The girl, looking at the feminine charts, saw the possibilities of the "steel cage," and took an awful dislike to it, a dislike which has lasted her half a century.

Just when Mary Walker began to wear pants—she hates the term trousers—is unknown. But it is certain that she was wearing them in the forties when a mere girl. She began to teach school at an early age, and in 1859 her first "pants" picture was taken. It shows her with a loose, Jenny Lind waist, with a skirt sewed to it. Another skirt falls to the knees over a pair of trousers that reach to the ankles.

Meanwhile the girl taught school, studied medicine and wore her men's attire. The little skirt she changed often; sometimes it was short, sometimes long, but it always came to the knees. "It really seemed," she said to your correspondent, in speaking of that time, "as though I never put on my skirt that some one did not suggest that it be made either a little longer or a little shorter."

DR. WALKER'S WAR RECORD.

"When I went to war," says she, "as a doctor I wore my pants and a skirt that came to the knees; it was sewed to a woman's waist. Of course I wore no corset. During the four years of the war I let my hair grow long, so everybody would know at sight that I was a woman. I did not want to impose upon people, though I often did it afterward. It is a great deal safer for a woman to wear pants than a skirt. Men will insult a skirt when they will not bother pants. Then a woman can earn a better living in pants than in skirts. I know you will not believe it, but at the present day there are dozens of women in Chicago who wear pants all the time exactly like men, and little cutaway coats and derby hats. Everybody thinks they are men. They earn much better wages dressed as men."

Dr. Walker was so brave during the war and rendered such signal service that Congress awarded her with a medal, which she now wears. After the war she went to England and created a great sensation over there.

Pants, in those days, were arrestable and rotten eggable, and Dr. Walker suffered the bitterness of both. Speaking of that time, she says: "No one knows what I endured. I was the first new woman. I made it possible for woman to do all the great deeds she has accomplished since. But I suffered for it. Even now I am not appreciated. I have got to die before women will know what I have done for them." And then her bright eyes snapped sharply.

While in England Dr. Walker was persuaded to adopt a court dress, and, trying to look pretty, she had a suit made of tarletan, which she wore over long pants. Another court suit was edged with black velvet. But the transparent skirt was not admired, and Dr. Walker went back to the thick one, and finally she discarded all skirts except the skirt of her Prince Albert coat, which she still wears. Her Prince Albert of to-day is modeled on the lines of the one worn by your clergyman, and is, perhaps, made off the same piece of broadcloth.

UNSUCCESSFUL IN MARRIAGE.

The romance in Dr. Walker's life occurred in 1867, when she married a man named Brown. At that time it is claimed that Dr. Walker was on good terms with her relative, Colonel Robert Ingersoll, but that friendship with him broke off when she married Brown.

About the marriage there is considerable mystery. Dr. Walker was about thirty-five at the time, slender, petite, sweet-faced and very opinionated. It is said that she lived with Brown just three weeks, and the joke-makers declared that the family jar arose over a dispute as to who should wear the pants. The Doctor triumphed, and in a hasty moment packed up a boiled shirt, a pair of cuffs, a clean collar, a toothbrush and a necktie and left Brown. She has always thought marriage a failure since then, though she has been repeatedly asked to reconsider.

"How does Dr. Walker support herself?" is another question asked about this singular woman. Well, she has, in time past, and, perhaps, not so long ago, derived a nice income from her medical practice, at which she is very clever. "Once," says she, "I was called in to treat a man who was dying. I recognized him as one who had tried to egg me. But I did my best for him and pulled him through."

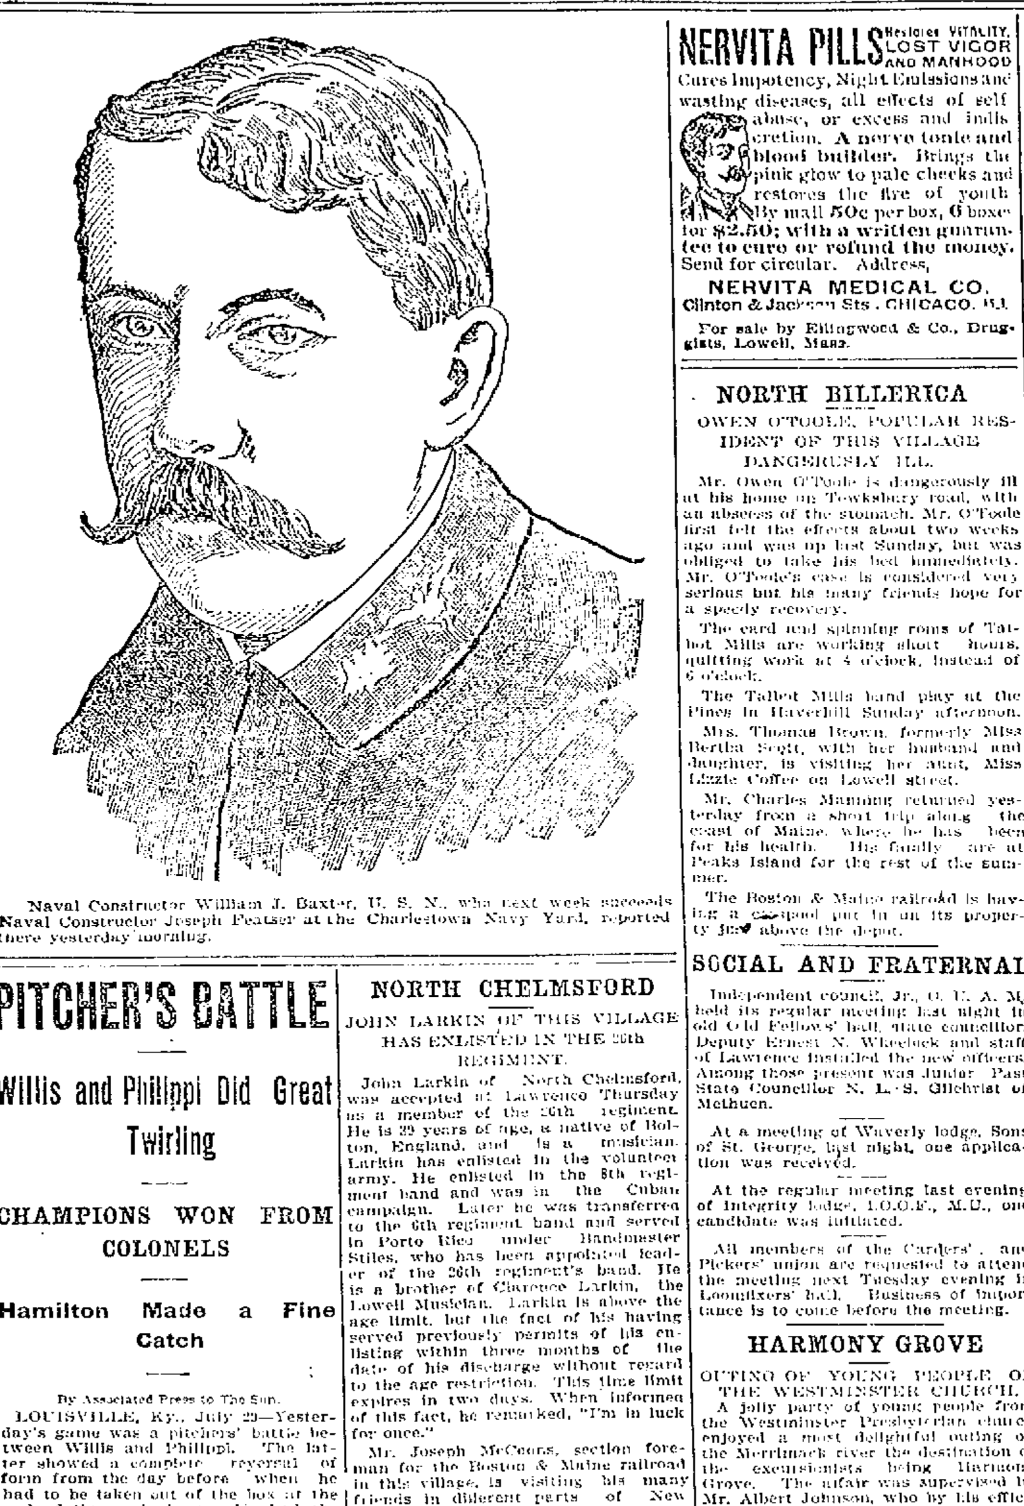

It is stated that, in addition to this, Dr. Walker has a private income. She has earned large sums from her lecturing tours, and also from her writings. She is unquestionably very talented, and can do many things well. Those who went to hear her in New York two years ago, to laugh, remained to listen and to listen with growing respect.

Those who know Dr. Walker describe her as very amiable. If she has ideas she keeps them to herself until asked for them. She is an interesting talker, and can "hold" any audience. When she visits Washington it is generally to do some important work for women, but it is said that this time she is here to get her book published. She may call it "Fifty Years in Pants; or, The Struggles of a Manly Woman," "A Plea for the Emancipation of Women," "From Skirts to Trousers," or "My Daily Walk and How I Enjoyed It," or "A Self-Made Man of Fifty-seven." Under any title Dr. Walker is readable.

PITCHER'S BATTLE

Willis and Phillippi Did Great Twirling

CHAMPIONS WON FROM COLONELS

Hamilton Made a Fine Catch

By Associated Press to The Sun.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 29—Yesterday's game was a pitchers' battle between Willis and Phillippi. The latter showed a complete reversal of form from the day before when he had to be taken out of the box at the end of three innings. He had the champions at his mercy throughout the game, retiring them in five out of eight innings in order. He struck out five men and gave out one base on balls. The visitors could not do better than make seven hits, three of which they got in the first inning and three in the last, when they scored their runs.

Despite all this the colonels could not win. Willis was more effective. The Louisville got only six hits off his delivery and two bases on balls. They were unable to bunch. In only one inning, the seventh, did the home club get more than one hit and then no one scored. The misplay of the visitors counted for naught, as the colonels failed to score when errors were made. The sensational feature of the game was a one handed running catch by Hamilton in the eighth that robbed Wagner of an easy home run. The play was cheered.

Star plays were made by members of both teams. Hamilton sprinted for Wagner's long fly in the second, taking it near the centre field fence, saving a homer. Collins made a brilliant running dash for Leach's pretty bunt, retiring the runner on a quick throw without waiting to recover. Ritchey made a difficult stop of Hamilton's hot grass cutter back of second retiring the swift little traveller while Clingman took a chance equally as hard offered by Tenney and got his man.

The score by innings:

Innings	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9

Earned runs—Boston 3. Stolen bases, Clarke, Wagner. Sacrifice hits, Tenney, Duffy. First base on balls, Off Philippi 2, off Willis 2. Struck out, by Philippi 5, by Willis 2. Double play, Wagner and Kelly. Left on bases, Louisville, 7, Boston 4. Time 2h., 15m. Umpires, Mannassau and Smith. Attendance, 1800.

The other games resulted as follows:

At St. Louis, St. Louis 5, Brooklyn 0.

At Chicago, Philadelphia 4, Chicago 2.

At Baltimore, First game, Baltimore 6, Cleveland 1, second game, Baltimore 5, Cleveland 2.

At Pittsburg, First game, Washington 4, Pittsburg 1, second game, Pittsbrug 6, Washington 5.

NORTH CHELMSFORD

JOHN LARKIN OF THIS VILLAGE HAS ENLISTED IN THE 26th REGIMENT.

John Larkin of North Chelmsford, was accepted at Lawrence Thursday as a member of the 26th regiment. He is 29 years of age, a native of Bolton, England, and is a musician. Larkin has enlisted in the volunteer army. He enlisted in the 8th regiment band and was in the Cuban campaign. Later he was transferred to the 6th regiment band and served in Porto Rico under Bandmaster Stiles, who has been appointed leader of the 26th regiment's band. He is a brother of Clarence Larkin, the Lowell Musician. Larkin is above the age limit, but the fact of his having served previously permits of his enlisting within three months of the date of his discharge without regard to the age restriction. This time limit expires in two days. When informed of this fact, he remarked, "I'm in luck for once."

Mr. Joseph McCoons, section foreman for the Boston & Maine railroad in this village, is visiting his many friends in different parts of New Hampshire.

This afternoon the grand shooting tournament of the North Chelmsford Rod and Gun club at their grounds near Wannalancit Park is taking place. The club has as fine a range as there is in this vicinity. Many of the first-class marksmen from the Graniteville Rod and Gun club are expected to be present and the newly organized Rod and Gun club of West Chelmsford will also be well represented.

North Chemsford politicians do not seem to take much interest in the great contest for the office of lieutenant-governor as yet, but during the next few weeks there may be some effective work advanced by both the followers of Mr. Guild and Mr. Bates.

It is quite early yet to predict which man may capture the Chelmsford delegates, but it is generally thought that the Guild men will come out victorious.

This winter promises to be a good one for checkers in this village. Already the crack checker players are getting into the game and many matches will be held. The Clover Social club has a large number of good checker players, as has the St. John's T. A. society.

The Clipper Base Ball club has several open dates for ball games and they would be pleased to meet some of the best teams in Lowell. All challenges should be sent to Manager John J. Gray of this village.

Miss Edith Morrill of North Chelmsford is to observe her 15th birthday next week, August 5, and a large number of invitations have been issued. Mr. Ayer of the Falconheight cafe will cater.

OUTING OF YOUNG PEOPLE OF THE WESTMINSTER CHURCH.

A jolly party of young people from the Westminster Presbyterian church enjoyed a most delightful outing on the Merrimack river the destination of the excursionists being Harmony Grove. The affair was supervised by Mr. Albert Johnson, who by his efficiency proved himself to be the right man in the right place. In the party were about 75 people and they left the Pawtucket Landing at 7.45 o'clock in the popular steamer May Queen. On board the boat a light lunch was provided and an excellent program of popular airs furnished by the Excelsior orchestra, Louis Weller, leader. After a brief stop at Harmony Grove the return trip was made at 10 o'clock.

MILLIE L.

"TOMMY" McDERMOTT'S RUNNER TOOK FIRST MONEY.

"Tom" McDermott's running horse, Millie L., scored a complete triumph at Combination Park last night. In the half mile running race, "Millie L." took first money in two straight heats. She was ridden by Young Flood, who handled the horse well and brought her under the wire in good time. Millie L. had a walk over in each heat, her time being 53 1-2 and 54 1-4.

On Thursday evening the horse ran second in a field of fast ones. Master McDermott has pitted his horse against the fastest in this section of the country and she has always made a very creditable showing, never failing to win her share of the prize money for her enthusiastic young owner.

"Millie L." will be seen on the Fair Grounds track during the Middlesex North Agricultural fair and her owner intends to give her by careful training every opportunity to display her speed.

Tommy's friends are congratulating him today on the admirable exhibition given by his stepper at Combination park during the present week.

DREYFUS IF FREE

Will Not Sue State For Damages

BUT WILL ACCEPT ONE FRANC

He Refuses to Coin Money From Wife's Tears

By Associated Press to The Sun.

PARIS, July 29.—Dreyfus' attorneys Messrs. Demange and Labori, tell your correspondent that when their client is acquitted he will not sue for damages but as a matter of principle will merely demand an indemnity of one franc 20 cents.

In France the law recognizes the right of the victim of a judicial error to damages from the state, which must proceed against all denunciators or perjurors responsible for the condemnation, prosecuting them criminally and before civil courts also, in order to recover if possible the same paid to the person wrongly convicted. Should Dreyfus be acquitted, public opinion would insist that he be granted almost anything he should ask.

In such a case, Du Paty de Clam, General Gonse, De Pellieux, De Boisdeffre, Mercier and others implicated in his conviction would be sued jointly by the state to recover the indemnity.

This would mean ruin for these men, for neither is very wealthy. Some of Dreyfus' friends strenuously advise to follow this course which they consider just not only on his own account but for its moral effect.

Dreyfus however, steadfastly refuses to "make money out of his wife's tears and suffering." He simply intended to draw his back pay as an officer during colonial service but the French law does not allow this. Therefore 20 cents is all the unfortunate captain will ask for his physical tortures and mental anguish for five years.

PATRIOTIC MEET

Of Tewksbury Grange Held Last Evening

VERY INTERESTING PAPERS WERE READ

Clarence Clark Won Apple Biting Contest

The much talked of patriotic meeting under the auspices of the Tewksbury Grange, last evening, in the Grange hall, proved a grand success both in attendance, sociability and instruction, as many of the papers read were masterly efforts. Mr. Geo. Ferrisall read a very interesting paper on the "History of Progress," and was followed by a very pleasing vocal selection, "Break the News to Mother," by Miss Jeannette W. Pike, a recent graduate of the Tewksbury high school, and well known in Lowell musical circles.

Miss Pennings read a paper on "Our Spanish War, Could It Have Been Avoided?" There was then singing of a medley of national airs, by a chorus of 15 voices. Mr. Albert S. Moore then read a paper "What Shall We Do with the Philippines?" Miss Edith Ferrisall in her usual efficient style, gave piano selections, also acted as accompanist for the singing and furnished music for the dancing, which followed. One of the most pleasing features of the evening's entertainment was the apple biting contest, between young ladies and gentlemen. Strings were strung along the hall in clothes line fashion and at intervals were suspended small strings, to each of which apples were attached by their stems. The person obtaining the largest bite was to obtain the prize. Some of the contestants in their attempt to "swallow an apple," in one bite, would receive a severe blow in the face, the apple rebounding in "punching bag style" with considerable force. This made each competitor act with caution. The prize winner eventually proved to be Clarence Clark and he for his efforts came into possession of a box of Uneeda biscuits.

There will be a grand reunion of Granges of this vicinity, including the Tewksbury, Dracut and Andover Granges, at Haggett's Pond, Thursday, August 24.

The Grange lawn party postponed from last Tuesday, will take place next Tuesday.

It will be decided tomorrow when and where the Centre Congregational Sunday school picnic will be held.

GUILT CHARGED

Tewksbury Farmer Appears in U. S. Court

FOR SENDING OBJECTIONABLE MAIL MATTER

He Was Held in $1000 Bail.

D. E. Sproule, a Tewksbury farmer, appeared before United States Commissioner Fiske in the United States District court Wednesday on the charge of having sent objectionable letters to one Harry L. Sheild of South Lowell last June and whose case was continued until Thursday, waived examination and was held in $1000 for the September term of the United States district court.

Sproule admits having sent the letter but claims that he was not aware that his doing so was in any way a violation of the law. Mr. Fiske fixed his bail first at $500 and Louis Smith, a Tewksbury friend of the defendant, offered to go on for him. Then District Attorney Casey put in a request that under the circumstances the prisoner having practically admitted his guilt, the bail be raised from $500 to $1000. The bail was raised. Smith was unable to show possession of property to that amount and Sproule was committed to jail.

The arrest was made by a United States marshal at the instigation of Mr. Sheild who made the complaint.

APPLE BITING CONTEST AT TEWKSBURY.

C. F. KEYES, - - Auctioneer

THURSDAY, August 3rd.
AT FOUR O'CLOCK P. M.

Mortgagee's sale of a two-tenement house, store, and about 3685 square feet of land at Nos. 193 and 195 Broadway.

I will sell on the premises, rain or shine, without limit or reserve, a two-tenement house, store and about 3685 square feet of land, at Nos. 193 and 195 Broadway. The house contains fourteen rooms and a store, parlor, sitting room, kitchen, three sleeping rooms, pantry and two finished attics, with the upstairs tenement; the store, sitting room, kitchen, three sleeping rooms, pantry and finished attic with the lower tenement. It is in good repair, all piped for gas, separate cemented cellars, with water closets in same and rents for about $15.00 a month. The store has two large windows, with a large door in the centre. It would make a fine meat, grocery, or in fact, any kind of a store.

The lot has a frontage of about 33feet on Broadway and runs about 92 feet in depth; it is all concreted around the house and there is a large yard in the rear.

LOCATION. The property is located on the northerly side of Broadway, it is the second lot from corner of Mt. Vernon street coming east. Electric cars pass the door every twelve minutes. It is but two minutes' walk to several industries and about five minutes to other large industries. It is close to schools and churches and taking everything into consideration, I think this is an excellent chance for investors.

Terms: $200 to be paid to the auctioneer as soon as the property is struck off. Other terms at sale.

CLARA WHITING, Executrix.

FRIDAY, August 4th.
AT FIVE O'CLOCK P. M.

Administratrix' sale of the beautiful Courtney residence, barn and about 9700 square feet of land at No. 69 Third street, Centralville.

To settle up the estate of the late Wm. F. Courtney, I will sell on the premises, rain or shine, on the day advertised above to the highest bidder, the beautiful residence at No. 69 Third street, Centralville.

THE HOUSE contains eleven rooms, bath and pantry, large cemented cellar partitioned for vegetables, preserves, etc; also set tubs in cellar. There is a parlor, sitting room, dining room, kitchen, two sleeping rooms and pantry on the first floor, five large beautiful chambers and bath on the second floor, hot and cold water, furnace heat, marble mantles in parlor, sitting room and dining room; winding stairs from front hall. It is in good repair and with a few hundred dollars laid out on this property, it would make it one of the best residences in Centralville.

THE BARN is about 28x25 feet; it has good flooring, can stable three horses, five carriages, the cellar is divided, and it makes a grand place for hens.

THE LOT has a frontage on Third street of about 62 1-2 feet and runs to the extreme depth of about 155 feet. It has an excellent lot of apple, peach, pear and other kinds of fruit trees, making about 16 in all. It is a beautiful lot with plenty of room.

LOCATION. The place is situated on the southerly side of Third street, about 100 yards from Bridge. It cannot be surpassed for a residential site, this being an excellent neighborhood. It is but one minute's walk to the electric cars on Bridge street; you can walk to old post office square in 10 minutes, so you see it is quite handy to the city and still in as fine a residential portion of the city as could be desired. It is close to schools and churches, and viewing this property over with all its advantages, it will certainly make as fine a residence as there is in Centralville. Parties looking to purchase a nice home should see the place at once.

TERMS. $200 to be paid to the auctioneer at time and place of sale. Other terms at sale. For further information call at the office of the auctioneer.

By order of ALICE COURTNEY.

SATURDAY. August 4th.
AT FIVE O'CLOCK P. M.

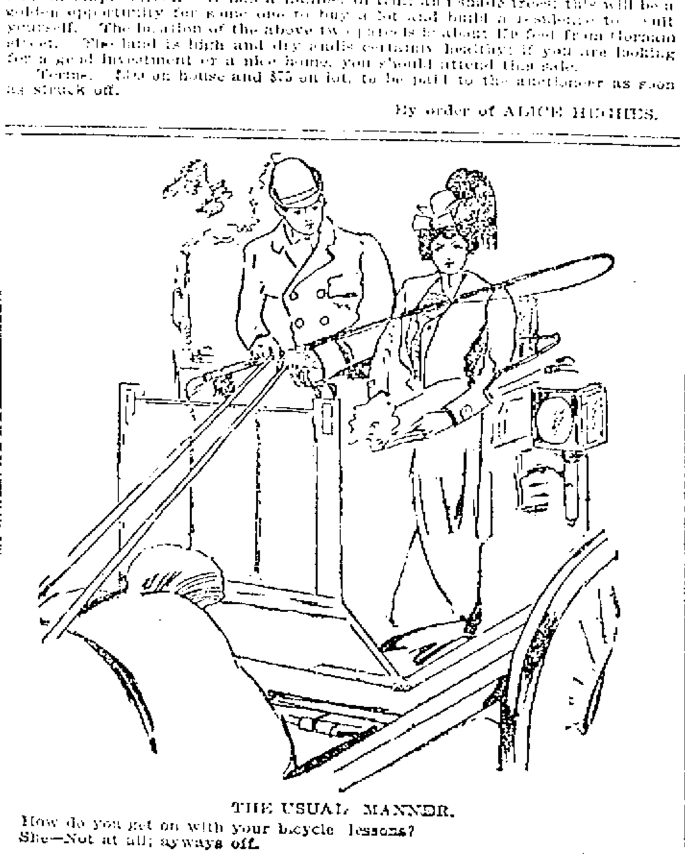

The Hughes estate in two parcels, a two tenement house and about 4000 square feet of land at No. 428 Lincoln street; also about 3000 square feet of land on Maple street in rear of the above.

I have made arrangements with the auctioneer to sell the above property on the premises on the day advertised, rain or shine, for just what you will give, as I am too far advanced in years to care for or improve this property. The house is a two-tenement house of eight rooms, four rooms with each tenement and rents for $8.00 each. The connections for water closets are in the cellar but are not connected; the house is in good repair inside and out and it will certainly prove a good investment or a nice a home for some one. The lot has a frontage of 50 feet on Lincoln street and is all fenced in.

No. 2. The Maple street lot is about 3000 square feet, with frontage of 50 feet on Maple street. It has a number of fruit and shade trees; this will be a golden opportunity for some one to buy a lot and build a residence to suit yourself. The location of the above two parcels is about 170 feet from Gorham street. The land is high and dry and is certainly healthy; if you are looking for a good investment or a nice home, you should attend this sale.

Terms. $50 on house and $25 on lot, to be paid to the auctioneer as soon as struck off.

By order of ALICE HUGHES.

LORD SALISBURY, Who as Premier of England Refuses to Recede on the Warlike Movements Against the Transvaal.

A DIRE CALAMITY

Would be War With Dependent States

By Associated Press to The Sun.

LONDON, July 29—In the House of Commons yesterday, the Colonial Office vote furnished the Liberals with an opportunity for a debate upon the government's policy in the Transvaal. H. Campbell-Bannerman, the Liberal leader, said he thought in view of the negotiations pending, that reticence and reserve must rule debate. While he did not sympathize with Boer opposition to franchise extension, he saw nothing from beginning to end of the story to justify armed intervention. War in South Africa with one of the dependent states would be one of the direst calamities possible. The speaker pleaded for further friendliness and prudence through Dutch sympathizers at the Cape. He saw no reason why this should not be a conspicuous success as a similar course and followed in Canada in time past. The Secretary of State for the Colonies, Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, opened his speech in reply by declaring that Sir H. Campbell-Bannerman's language was calculated to embarrass the action of the government.

THE TRUE TONIC
TRUE'S ELIXIR

is not a stimulant but a blood purifying, cleansing and harmless mixture of vegetable ingredients which cures disorders of the digestive tract and expels worms. It does not whip the tired organs into temporary activity as most remedies do, followed by an equal reaction, but True's Elixir removes the cause of the trouble and its tonic effects are due to good, sound digestion and pure blood, which follow its use. A favorite family medicine for 47 years. Its popularity is due entirely to its cures. Ask your druggist for it. 35 cents a bottle. DR. J. F. TRUE & CO., AUBURN, ME.
